TWO STATES GIVE ELECTION RESULT.

If Early Returns Show Taft Carries New York and Ohio All Chance of Change Is Gone.

LINEUP OF THE FORCES.

Sure Republican Vote So Large Only Landslide Can Overcome the Handicap Bryan Faces.

BY RAYMOND.

It is too late for prophecy and too early for results. The candidates for the presidency have retreated to their own states, and according to custom will vote for themselves, which will be no shock to their modesty, inasmuch as they cast their ballots for electors, the actual voting for president coming much later.

The speeches are all made, the people have decided how they will vote, and all that remains is to record the results reached by the tabulation of many millions of ballots of American citizens.

What the people are most interested in now is to find out the result of the election at the earliest possible moment. In the early returns there frequently are many things which confuse the man looking at a bulletin board or reading a dispatch on a railroad train. What he wants to know is what is indicated by these early returns, so that he can make a guess at the result before the decisive tabulation is made public. For the purpose of helping people study the returns as they come in, I have put together a number of tables which will be of use election night to every one.

242 Electoral Votes Needed.

In the first place, everybody should remember that there are in the forty-six states 483 electors who vote for president and vice president. For either Mr. Bryan or Mr. Taft to be chosen president of the United States it will be necessary for him to secure 242 of these electoral votes, which is a bare majority of the whole. The early problem tonight will be to find out just how soon either one of the leading candidates passes that mark.

There are certain states which are almost absolutely certain to go for one or the other of the two candidates. If any one of these "certain" states disappoints the expectations in regard to it, it means, of course, that there is on foot a tremendous landslide the existence of which has been entirely unsuspected up to the present time.

Going through the list, it is possible to make up a table of states which are reasonably certain to cast their electoral vote for Taft.

Sixteen States Are Taft's.

There are sixteen of the forty-six states which are generally conceded to be republican, as follows:

California	10	New Jersey	12
Connecticut	7	Oregon	4
Illinois	27	Pennsylvania	34
Iowa	13	Rhode Island	4
Maine	6	Vermont	4
Massachusetts	16	Washington	5
Michigan	14	Wisconsin	13
Minnesota	11
New Hampshire	4	Total	184

If on election night any one of these states shows signs of voting for Bryan it will mean serious danger to Mr. Taft's chances of election.

Stronghold of Bryan Forces.

On the other hand there are twelve states which are almost positively certain to cast their electoral votes for Bryan. They include the solid south and the newly created commonwealth of Oklahoma, which votes in a national election for the first time today. This Bryan list is as follows:

Alabama	11	Oklahoma	7
Arkansas	9	South Carolina	9
Florida	5	Tennessee	12
Georgia	13	Texas	18
Louisiana	9	Virginia	12
North Carolina	12	Total	127

Battle Fought in Eighteen States.

This leaves eighteen states in which the battle has raged the fiercest. They include the three border states of Missouri, Kentucky, and Maryland and fifteen northern states, there being no southern states in which there has been any serious battle for the electoral vote.

It must not be understood that the result is necessarily doubtful in all of these states. On the contrary, the politicians understand perfectly that many of them are as certain as those which have been given in the tables. They are grouped together merely to show where the fighting has been and where there is some faint chance of indecision as regards the result of the battle of the ballots. In the list are included states like Missouri, which is almost certain to go for Bryan, and the Dakotas and Kansas, which are reasonably sure to cast their electoral vote for Taft.

The table is made up of states where the result was uncertain originally or where there are local fights which have complicated things in such a way as to reduce otherwise certain majorities somewhere near the danger line.

List of Battleground States.

This table of the battleground states is as follows:

Colorado	5	Nevada	3
Delaware	3	New York	39
Idaho	3	North Dakota	4
Kansas	10	South Dakota	4
Kentucky	13	Utah	3
Maryland	8	West Virginia	7
Missouri	18	Wyoming	3
Montana	3
Nebraska	8	Total	172

Summarizing these tables gives the following basis of comparison when the returns begin to come in tonight:

Sure for Taft	184	Battle ground	172
Sure for Bryan	127
		Total	483

Bryan Has Much to Gain.

To catch the significance of these tables and to understand the drift of the early returns it is necessary to make a few comparisons which are unfavorable to Mr. Bryan because he has so much greater a lead to overcome than Mr. Taft. Comparing the list of sure states with the necessary majority of 242 in the electoral ballot it will be seen that Taft lacks only fifty-eight votes while Bryan needs 115 to make his election sure. The result is that the democratic candidate can win a great number of these states which have been in the battle section and still be defeated, while under normal condi-

HOW TO VOTE.

To vote a straight party ticket mark a cross in the circle to the left of the party appellation. Put no other mark whatever on your ballot.

To vote a "scratched" ticket mark a cross in the party circle and a cross in the square opposite the name of the candidate on the other ticket for whom you wish to vote, taking the following precaution:

If you split your ticket on offices for which there are more than one candidate—such as university trustee, county commissioner, board of assessors, Municipal judge, house of representatives, or drainage trustee—mark a cross in front of all the names for which you wish to vote.

If you split your ticket for the above mentioned offices, ignore the fact that you marked a cross in the party circle and make crosses in front of the names of—

Three university trustees (full term).

Two members of board of assessors.

Nine Municipal court judges.

Three drainage commissioners.

Ten members of the county board (in Chicago).

Be careful not to vote for more candidates in each division than there are offices to fill. If you do you invalidate your ballot so far as this division is concerned.

If you have marked a cross in the republican party circle and wish to vote for other party candidates for county commissioner, mark a cross in front not only of the names of other party candidate or candidates for whom you wish to vote, but also in front of the republican commissioners for whom you wish to vote—ten in all and no more. If you vote a straight republican ticket and then merely mark a cross in the square opposite the name of a few democratic county commissioners the judges of election cannot tell the republicans for whom you do wish to vote. The fact that John Smith on the republican ticket for the county board and William Jones on the democratic ticket have their names printed opposite each other does not indicate that they are running against each other. They are not.

If you wish to divide your vote in a large measure between two or more parties keep out of the party circle altogether and mark the square in front of the name of each candidate for whom you wish to vote.

If you vote for one candidate for the house of representatives it is counted as three votes for him; if you vote for two it is counted a vote and a half for each; if you vote for three candidates it is counted one vote for each.

WOMAN YIELDS UP $20,000 PLUNDER.

Alice Cheney Brown Overtaken as She Was Leaving Chicago on Train Bound for Denver, Colo.

HAD BAD CHECK'S PROFIT

Freed on Turning Over Bonds Bought of Babcock, Rushton & Louderback and Paying Hotel Bill.

With $20,000 of bonds which she had obtained from the firm of Babcock, Rushton & Louderback, bond dealers in the Rookery building, a woman known as Alice Cheney Brown was arrested last night at the Union depot and made to return the securities.

She had a ticket for Denver and was aboard the train waiting for its departure when Detective Frank Repetto found her preparing to retire for the night.

Repetto's instructions from the brokers were not to detain the woman if she restored the $20,000 worth of bonds. This she readily assented to, and she took them from a handbag on the seat beside her.

The woman had also passed a worthless check for $63 on the management of the Congress Hotel company. Detective Repetto, who is employed by the hotel company, had this little score to settle with the woman. She made good the amount of the check and was allowed to go her way.

Passes Worthless $19,720 Check.

The method by which the woman obtained the bonds was by passing a worthless check on the brokers for $19,720. Soon after the transaction Orville E. Babcock, one of the firm, became suspicious of the genuineness of the check and telegraphed to the Farmers' Loan and Trust company of New York, on which bank it was drawn. An answer was received that the woman purporting to be Alice Cheney Brown had no account with the Farmers' Loan and Trust.

It was known to the brokerage firm that Mrs. Brown was staying at the Annex, and a messenger was sent there to find her. At the hotel it was learned that the woman had paid her bill and left. She had paid with a check on the Farmers' Loan and Trust company and had ordered a carriage to take her to the La Salle station.

Manager Southgate of the Annex examined the check passed on the hotel, and inasmuch as the check on the brokerage firm was worthless he declared that the smaller one was worthless also.

Detective Repetto was called in and with Mr. Babcock went to the Municipal court, where a warrant was sworn out charging the woman with operating a confidence game.

Trailed to Three Depots.

The cabman who drove the woman from the Annex was found, and he said she discharged him at the La Salle street station. It was learned that a woman answering the description of Mrs. Brown had engaged another cabman, and that he drove her to the Northwestern depot. After discharging the second cabman she entered a third vehicle and was driven to the Union depot.

In the baggage room it was discovered that the woman had checked a suitcase to Denver, presenting her railroad ticket at the time. The Burlington train for Denver did not leave Chicago until 11:30 o'clock, and Repetto remained in the depot until shortly before the time of its departure. How the woman got past him and aboard the train without being seen is a mystery to the detective. When questioned on that point by Repetto she looked out of the car window and laughed.

Turns Over the Bonds.

At first Mrs. Brown pleaded for leniency, asking that she be permitted to pay the hotel bill and continue on her trip to Denver. The detective agreed to accept the $63 for the hotel bill, and she paid him in cash. Then she turned over the bonds. When she did so she told amid sobs that she had planned to obtain the bonds which she hoped to sell in Denver so she could get funds with which to aid a brother who is under arrest in the east for some offense.

The securities were turned over later to Mr. Babcock, who was waiting for Repetto at the Auditorium Annex. Mr. Babcock said the firm would make no effort to prosecute Mrs. Brown.

The bonds were twenty in number, of $1,000 each. They are first mortgage 5 per cent bonds of the Madison River Power company.

Mrs. "Brown" went to the Annex last Thursday. She registered as "Mrs. Frank E. Brown, New York." The day following her arrival she called on Babcock, Rushton & Louderback with letters, presumably forged, purporting to be from a New York broker. Negotiations were begun for the purchase of the bonds, but the deal was not closed until yesterday.

Borrowed Baby Her Disguise.

It was learned after the Denver train had departed that Mrs. Brown got through the station without being seen by Repetto by a clever ruse. Outside the station she saw a tired woman holding a baby and engaged her in conversation. Without arousing the woman's suspicions she induced her to let Mrs. Brown hold her baby and then accompany the child and its new friend to the train. In passing through the depot Mrs. Brown was seemingly intent on the child and as she was not supposed to have a baby passed unnoticed.

THREE HUNDRED WARRANTS OUT FOR 100 NIGHT RIDERS.

Tennessee Dragnet Thrown Out to Get Murderers of Rankin and Perpetrators of Other Outrages.

Union City, Tenn., Nov. 2.—Three hundred warrants for the arrest of 100 alleged night riders will be issued tomorrow by Justice R. Polk.

There are three sets of warrants against each of the 100 men, and of this number two-thirds already are under arrest or parole by the military authorities at Camp Nemo.

The warrants of one set charge murder in the first degree, being based on the killing of Capt. Quentin Rankin.

A second set charge assault with intent to commit murder, while masked, also a capital offense under the laws of Tennessee. They are based upon the attempt made to end Col. R. Z. Taylor's life.

A third set charge going masked upon the premises of another in the night time.

THE SUPREME COURT IS NOW IN EXECUTIVE SESSION.

Hitchcock and Mack Say Their Last Word.

REPUBLICAN Chairman Hitchcock declared last night that late reports received from national committeemen and state chairmen strengthened his faith in the estimate of 325 electoral votes for Mr. Taft made on Friday night.

"I believe this contest is won," he said. "It has been worked out as systematically as it is possible to apply a system to a national campaign. The chairmanship of this committee was not of my seeking. Those who are on the inside can testify to this. I had been involved in work previous to the opening of the campaign which naturally I thought should have relieved me of this work. However, when it was decided that I should continue the work, I accepted. As I anticipated, there was much criticism in the beginning, but I think that the way in which the work has been done justifies me in saying that the results show that the object has been attained.

"At no time have I indulged in any personalities. I have studiously endeavored to be fair in all my estimates, and to treat those who differed with me in the same spirit of fairness.

"If conditions are normal throughout the country tomorrow," he concluded, "I expect to see my forecast verified. If conditions are otherwise in certain sections, my forecast may be reduced, but I rather think it will be increased."

CHAIRMAN Norman E. Mack, at democratic national headquarters, gave out a final statement, claiming victory for Bryan and Kern.

"New York state will give the national ticket a plurality of 50,000," he said, "and Ohio and Indiana surely will go democratic. The democrats will carry most of the other doubtful states, and in addition will carry some states that they have not claimed. I adhere to my original forecast of 333 electoral votes for Bryan and Kern."

During the day Mr. Mack talked with Samuel Gompers, and as a result of their conference the national chairman said he was convinced that the labor vote would remain true to the party.

"All that is needed to win," said Mr. Mack, "is to poll our full vote and see that it is honestly counted. A reward of $1,000 will be paid by the national committee for the detection and conviction of any person engaged in election frauds."

ROOSEVELT STILL CONFIDENT.

Reiterates Views on Outcome of Balloting—Will Receive Returns at the White House.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The president reiterated today his confidence in the result of the elections by remarking to a friend while out walking:

"We have got them beaten to a frazzle."

This is probably his last word to the voters before election day.

The president devoted part of his time today to working on his message to congress, believing that the things he wrote would not have to be rewritten tomorrow.

The usual arrangements have been made for getting election returns at the White house. Special wires will serve the president with bulletins and in addition he will receive press reports. The president in the early part of the evening will be in the executive offices with his secretary. He believes that the result may be known as early as 10 o'clock and certainly not later than midnight. The president probably will issue a statement to the press on the result before he goes to bed.

Mrs. Roosevelt will entertain members of the cabinet who will be here and their wives in the private parlors of the executive mansion. All the cabinet members except possibly Secretaries Garfield and Wilson will be in Washington tomorrow night.

SAVES 4 FROM BURNING AUTO.

Chauffeur for W. E. Mason, Real Estate Dealer, Rescues Women from Peril at Evanston.

Frank Mack, chauffeur for William E. Mason of the Mason & Smart real estate firm, rescued four women from a burning automobile yesterday afternoon at Evanston.

Fire started in the machine at Davis street and Sherman avenue. Just after starting west in Davis street the flames burst from underneath the car and soon enveloped it. Meanwhile the chauffeur was speeding to the Evanston Auto company's garage, two blocks away.

When the machine drew up in front of the garage the women in it were carried to safety by Mack, who was in the garage with one of Mr. Mason's machines at the time.

The automobile belonged to the Chicago Auto Livery company.

GIRL'S ABSENCE A MYSTERY.

Relatives of Hannah Nelson, Who Disappeared Last Thursday in Evanston, Fear Suicide.

Relatives of Hannah Nelson, a domestic who disappeared last Thursday from the residence of Brookings Montgomery, 935 Hinman avenue, Evanston, have asked the Evanston police to hunt for her. They fear she has committed suicide or wandered away in a fit of despondency, as she had been acting queerly for several weeks. She is 28 years old.

A strange man called at the Montgomery residence three weeks ago and inquired for Miss Nelson. Upon being told that she was not in, he left the house. He returned a week later, and when told again that she was not in, he asked if she did not have a great deal of fine clothing and jewels. Mrs. Montgomery asked why he desired the information, and he laughed and went away.

The day before her disappearance Miss Nelson told several friends they would never see her again. Valda Johnson, who is employed at 504 Lee street, received a postal card last Friday from Miss Nelson. The card said, "A last farewell from Hannah."

STOLEN AUTO IS RECOVERED.

Mysterious Telephone Message Leads to Discovery of Machine Taken from in Front of Annex.

A mysterious telephone message to Mrs. William A. Rose, 5617 Washington avenue, to the effect that the Rose automobile, which had been stolen from in front of the Auditorium Annex early Sunday morning, was standing in Twentieth street, between Michigan and Wabash avenues, resulted in the recovery of the machine yesterday. Investigation showed that the car had been run until it was "dead."

MRS. EDDY BUYS AUTOMOBILE.

Head of Christian Science Church Will Have Her First Trip in Machine Today.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy, "mother" of the Christian Science church, today purchased an imported automobile of 90 horse power and had it sent out to her Chestnut Hill home. A chauffeur from the agency spent several hours giving Secretary-Coachman Frye lessons in driving. Mrs. Eddy will have her first experience in automobiling tomorrow.

VOTE TO 'GET OUT' IN AN AVALANCHE.

Oratory and Forecasting Close and Leave Election to the Hustlers and Voters Today.

CHICAGO BATTLE GROUND

Every Indication of Great Showing at the Polls and Cook County Is Conceded to Taft.

ELECTION DAY WEATHER: FAIR

Fair weather for today in Chicago and generally throughout the country is indicated in last night's bulletin. A special forecast by the government bureau indicates a mild temperature, with the maximum reaching about 60 degrees. There is no sign of a storm in any portion of the country east of the Pacific coast region. As to Chicago, it is expected the day will be one of ideal autumnal conditions.

VOTE EARLY! VOTE EARLY!

The polls open at 6 a. m. and close at 4 p. m. You vote at the polling place at which you registered. If you have given notice to your employer you have the legal right to two hours' absence from work to vote. Unless you registered Oct. 3 or Oct. 13 you cannot vote. Vote early.

The oratorical and roll top desk brigades closed up shop in political headquarters and on the stump last night, and the rest of the work is up to the frequently low browed and always practical precinct hustlers.

The vote, having been talked to, written to, appealed to, pamphleted, placarded, and bill posted, now must be "got out."

In Chicago the vote shows every indication of "getting out." The roll top desk and heavy estimate brigades look for a 90 per cent poll of a 411,120 registration. They figure that nearly all of the men who took the trouble on Oct. 3 and Oct. 13 to have their names enrolled on the registry books mean to vote.

Where the experts still maintain a difference of opinion is as to how the voters will vote. The democratic party managers at the last moment frankly concede Cook county to Taft, but they insist, with all the earnestness of sincerity, that the county will be carried by Stevenson.

Gov. Deneen and his party managers are hopeful of securing a handsome plurality in Chicago and are confident of carrying the state. The governor will remain in the city to vote and probably will then take an early evening train for Springfield.

Secretary Hayward "Paired."

The only remnant of official activity remaining at republican national headquarters is Secretary William Hayward of Nebraska, who is "paired" with a democratic Nebraskan in democratic national headquarters and will not go home to vote.

He voiced the last expression of republican national confidence in western headquarters yesterday, saying:

"I talked to Mr. Hitchcock today before he left New York headquarters to go home to vote and he says that things could not be in better shape in New York for Taft and that Gov. Hughes is safely across the line. We do not need New York to win, but we shall get it by 150,000. Mr. Bryan will lose his own state of Nebraska."

Illinois Contest in Cook County.

It is admitted that so far as the Illinois contest is concerned it has narrowed down to Cook county and involves only the head of the state ticket and the local offices.

The democratic party managers, conceding that Taft will carry the state, insist that he

DENEEN CAMPAIGN IN LIVELY FINISH.

Rousing Meetings Held by the Governor in Evanston and Rogers Park.

TAKES PRIDE IN RECORD.

Tells of Things Accomplished for the People During His Administration.

Gov. Charles S. Deneen concluded his campaign last night, delivering addresses in Evanston and in Rogers Park. Large crowds greeted him at both of the meetings. In Evanston he spoke to an overflow meeting in the street.

"The state campaign, so far as it relates to me," said the governor, in his speeches, "has been characterized by unparalleled abuse. The pretended issues have been entirely fictitious. Of these there have been three:

"First, Gen. Stevenson has stated that if elected he would remove the charitable institutions from politics. The civil service law, which became effective three years ago, accomplished that purpose. Since then 3,724 persons have been appointed under that law through competitive examinations and 711 have been discharged for cause, on written charges and with an opportunity for a public trial accorded to each. If the law had been violated in any of these 4,500 instances any person responsible therefor could have been indicted by the grand jury in the county where the violation occurred and prosecuted in the criminal courts. No specific complaint has been made because none exists.

Fees Approved by Court.

"Second, an effort has been made to make the fees which I received as state's attorney an issue. The law under which I received the fees was general, and provided that not one cent could be retained by any of the 102 state's attorneys in this state until a judgment of the County court had been entered therefor. All questions regarding my fees have been adjudicated by the courts. No one claims that the courts did not find according to the facts and the law.

"Two clerks of the Circuit and Superior courts of Cook county during the last three years have been imprisoned for crimes committed in their official capacity and because of the scandals uncovered by the trial of these cases an effort has been made to confuse the public mind by the false pretense that there is some analogy between the moneys unlawfully appropriated by these officers and the fees legally awarded to me by the courts as state's attorney of Cook county. There could not be a plainer indication of the desperate straits to which my opponents have been driven for an issue upon which to attack me. By the judgment of the courts of this state the officials referred to have been adjudged guilty of the misappropriation of public funds, while by the same judgments I was legally awarded the fees received by me as state's attorney."

"This issue is an attack not upon me alone but also upon the courts of our state, whose judgments are thereby called in question. Manifestly such a question could be settled nowhere but in the courts themselves. To bring it forward in a political campaign is only another instance of a fictitious issue.

Importance of Governorship.

"The remaining issue, that of the nonpartisanship of the governor's office, is also fictitious. No one familiar with the great powers conferred upon the governor in regard to legislation, the governor being required by the constitution in his biennial and other messages to inform the general assembly of the condition of the state finances and of the public business, and to advise them in regard to such legislation as may, in his opinion, tend to correct abuses or be of advantage in promoting the interests of the commonwealth; the power of the veto, under which he may still further influence the course of legislation; the power of appointment to office, by which he wields a large influence in determining the personnel of the public service; the power during the recess of the general assembly to appoint a United States senator. All these show that the office of governor, so far from being nonpolitical, is of the most decided, not to say decisive political significance.

"But no one familiar with political history can be misled for a moment by claims of the nonpartisan character of the governor's office. His own experience is a sufficient refutation. The pretense that the highest office in the state, the office over which in this campaign a most prolonged and bitter political contest has been waged, is, after all, a nonpartisan office will pass for what it is worth with the average voter as the rankest kind of partisan political buncombe."

Record of Things Accomplished.

Among the things which have been accomplished during his administration the governor mentioned:

Enactment of laws abolishing the justice courts of Chicago, and the creating of Municipal courts in their stead.

Extending the term of office of the mayor from two to four years.

Unifying of the city government, the enlargement and beautifying of the parks, and the creation of small parks.

Passage of the state civil service law, of the direct primary law, the pure food law, the law relating to the payment of interest on public funds to the public, the amending of the factory inspection laws, the amending of the state insurance laws.

Suit against the Illinois Central railroad company for $15,000,000, lowering of passenger and freight rates, the creation of the geological commission, the waterway commission, the highway commission, the educational commission, the commission on occupational diseases, the commission on the use of hazardous and dangerous machinery.

State taxes reduced. About $1,000,000 recovered and turned into the public treasury, and suits are pending or about $750,000 more.

Suit to determine the right of the state in the water power in the Desplaines and Illinois rivers, worth at least $2,500,000 a year to the state; waterway project to be submitted to voters today.

Deneen Flays His Slanderers.

"These matters," said the governor, "have not been discussed, and the fact that my opponents have been obliged to ignore them shows the desperate straits to which they have been driven in creating alleged issues. The campaign waged against me has been one of false pretenses and has been conducted with unparalleled mendacity. But it will fail. The judgment of the people will be given on the facts, and it will repudiate the slanderers and defamers of our state institutions.

"Who are back of these attacks? Who make them? The men who originated and have circulated these slanders are posing now as nonpartisans, but the public is familiar with them and their careers. They have been franchise grabbers; they have corrupted the city council and state legislature, and have fattened on political contracts of state and municipal administrations; they have used both parties as instruments to achieve their ends; they have been true to none.

"In this campaign these men have rallied their kind together for a last desperate fight and it has been waged with the desperation of men who feel that they are making a last stand. Their triumph would mean a coalition of the worst elements in politics in our state. With their return to power the gray wolves would again gather in the city council and the general assembly. Did ever such a pack of political highbinders gather together and were ever such infamous methods used to promote such ends?

"This is the real issue founded on the facts of general public knowledge which no misrepresentation can obscure."

VOTE TO 'GET OUT' AS AN AVALANCHE.

must get a plurality of more than 100,000 to carry Gov. Deneen through.

The republican managers, conceding that Deneen will run behind his ticket, are convinced that he will not fall more than 40,000 votes below Taft at the worst.

The democratic backers of Mr. Stevenson are betting that Taft's plurality will fall short of 90,000, and, in accordance with their theory, that Gov. Deneen will be defeated by five or ten thousand votes.

Inflated Figures for Public.

Of course the republicans for public consumption issue predictions that the governor will run close to Taft and that the republican plurality will be 200,000, and the democratic managers, likewise for public consumption, say that Stevenson will have 70,000 in the state.

Neither side professed to have the slightest confidence in these inflated figures and both are convinced that if Stevenson wins it will be by the narrowest possible margin, and that if Gov. Deneen is reelected it will be by less than 60,000.

The information on which both sides are basing their estimates is faulty. Both organizations have assumed their polls of the state to be accurate, although they know they are not. The republican management supplemented its poll by having the chairmen of the various county committees send in the best estimates which they could secure on the eve of the election.

The information which has been gathered in this fashion is more reliable than that which purported to give figures and in most cases may be accepted as a fairly accurate statement of conditions. The county chairmen were asked to be conservative and send what they thought would be the result and not what they hoped, or what they thought state headquarters would be pleased to read.

It is upon these last reports that the republican confidence is based mainly and the down state republican managers are convinced that unless the governor is simply slaughtered in Chicago he will be reelected by a fair plurality.

The Chicago republicans are confident that he can carry Chicago, although the conservative leaders have no hope of any such plurality as 40,000.

May Vote Straight Ticket.

There is the possibility that all political signs are wrong, and that the republicans of the state, when they get face to face with the ballot in the booth, will vote the straight republican ticket. If they do Mr. Stevenson's chances of getting within hailing distance of Gov. Deneen's vote have gone glimmering, and the republican managers will be ashamed to confess that they ever dreamed of the possibility of defeat for a republican candidate for governor.

Roger C. Sullivan, Francis Peabody, and John P. Hopkins are firmly convinced that the democrats will sweep Cook county for Stevenson, and believe, but with not quite so much confidence here, that he will be elected.

So far as Cook county is concerned, it is not confidence for publicity purposes. They may be badly fooled, but they believe their own figures, and Peabody, at least, hasn't any doubt about the state. Mr Hopkins is not quite so certain about it, and Mr. Sullivan is a trifle enigmatical.

"Stevenson will carry the state," he said. "Anyway, Mr. Deneen will know he has been through an election."

No Doubt on Rest of State Ticket.

Aside from the governorship the republican confidence leaves no room for doubt. The election of the republican candidates for other state offices is regarded as a matter as certain as the carrying of the state by Taft.

Of the other state candidates it is expected that Secretary of State James A. Rose will lead the ticket, although all the candidates are well known, and all except John G. Oglesby and Andrew Russel, candidates for lieutenant governor and state treasurer, respectively, are up for reelection.

Mr. Rose's last piece of campaign literature sent out to voters is an advance financial statement showing a net balance for collections in his office for two years ended Sept. 30, 1908, of $868,857, an increase of $102,054 over the preceding two years.

Hopes of Democrats.

The local democrats closed their campaign in what might be called a blaze of glory, if the narrator did not care much about what he said. A democratic pessimist might call it a cave of gloom. The acknowledged facts are:

All hope of carrying Illinois for Bryan has been abandoned. Whether he can carry Cook county is a matter the managers are not taking any interest in. They think he will not.

As to the governorship, they are still hoping that Stevenson will be elected governor, but are none too sure of it. They are positive he will carry Cook county, however, and are willing to bet their money on that.

For state's attorney they have rallied strongly around Kern. This is the result of a reported trade whereby Kern was said to have been assured of republican support.

This last was the latest political canard put out for betting effect by gamblers, and it was that Mayor Busse had sent out the order to city employes that Kern was to be favored as against Wayman. It did not meet with any general belief, but it had its intended effect among the betting fraternity. The mayor denied it point blank.

"All that can be said about that story," he declared, "is to denounce it as a lie. I am for Wayman and am doing everything I can to elect him."

One result of it, however, was to send William Loemer over to Righelmer's saloon in Clark street, where $1,000 of Wayman money had been posted, to cover the bet. He got it, being just ahead of an agent of John J. McCarthy, who followed him to the door. Mr. Loeffler is a firm believer in the efficacy of a mayor's influence in an election and he thought his information was right. The mayor's explicit denial came afterward.

Brennan's $1,000 Bet.

On the proposition that Stevenson would carry Cook county the democratic managers stood pat. They united in the statement that there they knew what they were talking about. A little after noon George E. Brennan was discovered making exceptionally fast time along Madison street. He explained he had to cover a $1,000 bet, he taking the Stevenson end of it.

In proof he showed two $500 bills he had in his pocket and remarked: "If the other fellow does not weich I will get that bet. It looks to me like a soft spot."

Asked as to other propositions, Mr. Brennan had no answers to give. In the language of affidavits, "and further deponent sayeth not." He did not, however, bite at the Busse-Kern story.

Later in the afternoon an unwelcome bit of news came into democratic headquarters. It was a strange case of the manner in which people considering themselves wise can defeat their own purposes. It bit the Lorimer managers in the Fifth congressional district who used the old Coad-Lorimer alliance in the Ninth, Tenth, and Eleventh wards to stuff the ballot boxes on primary day in aid of Yates and against Deneen.

Story of Revenge Sought.

The story, which was vouched for by a number of the largest business men in the district, democrats all, was that the Jews in the Ghetto were thoroughly enraged over the disclosures in the investigation of the primary election and that the simplest way of getting revenge, as it seemed to them, was to vote for Deneen today.

They did not care so much about being impersonated by repeaters at an election held on a day when their religion did not allow them to participate, but voting their dead friends and relatives was carrying the thing a little further than they could be expected to stand for, and they would even matters up by voting for the candidate whom the frauds were designed to beat for the nomination. If the democratic majorities are considerably reduced in these wards today this may be the explanation of it.

The state democratic headquarters were closed early in the evening with the departure of Chairman Charles Boeschenstein for his home in Edwardsville so he can vote. National headquarters were absolutely deserted except by the local employés, all the chiefs having also gone to their homes.

WAYMAN TURNS APATHY TO CHEERS

Winds Up Campaign in Blaze of Red Fire and Oratory at Evanston.

MAKES MANY CONVERTS.

Republican Nominee Receives Enthusiastic Reception at Rogers Park.

John E. W. Wayman wound up his campaign for the state's attorneyship at Evanston last night in a blaze of red fire and original oratory that awakened the university town with a vengeance. An audience that appeared apathetic when Mr. Wayman entered by the fire escape to avoid the crowd in front of the Evanston auditorium developed within ten minutes to a hall full of cheering Wayman enthusiasts, who applauded him to the echo and laughed unanimously at his pointed quips and jests.

At the close of the meeting, in the course of which he was indorsed from the platform by David R. Forgan, Mr. Wayman was surrounded by people, many of whom confessed that they had intended to vote for Street, the prohibition candidate, and assured that the voters of Evanston will cast their votes for Wayman today. Women joined in the congratulations bestowed upon the candidate and declared that they would insist upon the voters of their families casting their ballots for the republican nominee. Gray haired men took Mr. Wayman by the hand and said solemnly: "I'm converted." When the five automobiles spouting red fire passed down Davis street they were greeted by the cheers of hundreds who had waited outside for Mr. Wayman.

"This has been a hard fight," said Mr. Forgan, when the people had resumed their seats after Mr. Wayman's entrance. "But I am not going to say anything about that.

"I am going to vote for the man who is about to speak and he can speak for himself—Mr. Wayman."

Wayman Makes Good.

Mr. Wayman lost no time in making good Mr. Forgan's statement. In his pungent opening phrases he denounced the voter who "fires a blank cartridge" from the ranks as a contemptible coward.

"Are there any old soldiers here?" asked Mr. Wayman.

"Yes," answered a voice in the audience.

"Then," responded Mr. Wayman, impressively, "I am going to ask you a question and await your answer. Is there any difference between the soldier who fires a blank cartridge from the ranks and the soldier who goes over to the enemy and fights against his comrades?"

There was no response.

Mr. Wayman again demanded: "Is there any difference?"

"None whatever," responded the old soldier, finally.

"Yes, there is," returned Mr. Wayman, to the surprise of the audience. "That was why you hesitated. The man who stays in the ranks is more contemptible because when a man deserts and goes over to the other side you have a chance to fight him openly."

The audience applauded vigorously when Mr. Wayman further explained that a vote for Street for state's attorney is half a vote for Kern.

Refers to Contest.

For the first time in the campaign Mr. Wayman referred to the contest with Mr. Healy and stated that he had been silent regarding it because he did not want to compromise the judicial side of the office. Then he told a story about two frogs in a milk can.

"One got tired of kicking and turned up his toes and dropped to the bottom of the can," said Mr. Wayman. "The other decided to keep on kicking, and when the milkman opened the can he found Mr. Frog sitting on top of a nice pat of butter, floating on the milk. I've grown stronger with each succeeding day of this campaign, even if my eyes do look like two moons from automobile dust."

At Rogers Park Mr. Wayman received an enthusiastic reception.

"Day before yesterday," he said, "Jailer Davies took a poll of the 850 prisoners in the county jail. Six hundred and forty-nine of them voted for Kern, and the other one didn't vote. Perhaps he was ashamed of the company he was in."

Cheered for Five Minutes.

At a noon meeting at McVicker's theater Mr. Wayman was cheered for five full minutes. Gov. Deneen also spoke at this meeting.

Mr. Wayman began his speech by referring to the political battle in which he has been involved as a fight against the concern of Kern, Street & Co.

"The fight over the state's attorneyship has been interesting because I have been running not against a candidate but against a corporation known as Kern, Street & Co.," he said. "The silent partners of this concern are some of the people who claim to be good and who have been against me through the primaries and through the contest, and now finding themselves unable to have their own way, are actively working in the interest of Kern."

Mr. Wayman took occasion to deny a campaign statement of his opponents that he had ridiculed the administration of the sacrament by declaring that he was friendly with Protestants, Catholics, and followers of all other religions.

One of the most telling points of Mr. Wayman's speech, and the one which provoked the long continued applause was:

"My opponent, 'Jakey' Kern, has adopted for his slogan, 'Rally round the flag, boys.' I do not want to be carried into office by or through the American flag, but when I am elected state's attorney tomorrow I will pull the American flag along with me. Unless I shall be able to come upon this stage four years hence and plant the American banner upon it without a stain, I shall feel that my mission has failed."

Cheered in the Street Also.

The crowd did not allow him to finish the sentence before a faint handclapping gave warning of the thunderous din that was to follow. State Senator Dixon, who presided, sought to quiet the enthusiasm, but soon abandoned the attempt, and at a lull in the applause shouted:

"I don't blame you for cheering the next state's attorney of Cook county."

This was the signal for another outburst which continued for another minute. The record was shattered later in the meeting when Congressman Henry Sherman Boutell declared that the spontaneous reception accorded Mr. Wayman attested beyond dispute that Mr. Wayman was by far the most popular local candidate seeking office.

At the close of the meeting Wayman's supporters compelled him to speak for the second time. In the street after the meeting he was followed by a crowd of several thousand. Shouts of "Wayman! What's the matter with John Wayman!" attracted hundreds for blocks around and soon traffic became congested beyond power of the police to regulate. The crowd dispersed only when Mr. Wayman disappeared in a convenient cafe.

Others who spoke at the meeting were Mayor C. J. Doyle of Greenfield, Ill., and Congressman Henry Sherman Boutell.

Grand Pacific Reorganized.

At a recent meeting of the stockholders of the Grand Pacific Hotel a reorganization of the company was effected, and the following officers elected: President, Col. L. T. Dickason; Vice President, John S. Jones; Secretary and Treasurer, D. W. Heath; E. A. Whipple, Manager. Authority was given for extensive improvements in the interior of the hotel, the principal feature being the installing of sixty additional rooms, with baths attached. During the past months this famous hostelry has undergone numerous changes, thoroughly renovated throughout in all departments, newly equipped, refurnished, and today, from point of elegance and comfort, compares favorably with any other first class hotel of this city.

STREET MAKES FINAL ATTACK

Prohibition Candidate's Last Shots Directed at Wayman.

THINKS HIS ELECTION SURE.

Declares He Will Be Chosen by an Overwhelming Majority.

The last guns of the campaign of William Street for state's attorney were fired yesterday at a noonday meeting in the Chicago opera house. The prohibition candidate denounced both Wayman and Kern, the former receiving most of the "hot shot" of Mr. Street and other speakers.

"Wayman is the beneficiary of frauds at the primaries, and he would throw the power of his office in the way of the investigation now being conducted," declared Mr. Street. "The law is shpreme in Chicago. The only reason it is not enforced is because we have elected politicians who have been afraid to enforce it."

It was further declared that of two evils Kern is the lesser one.

Brands Wayman a Hypocrite.

"He comes out in the open and says he represents the devil," said Mr. Street. "Wayman is trying to please both the good and bad elements."

In closing the prohibition candidate predicted that he would be elected by a larger vote than that of the other two candidates combined.

The speakers who preceded Mr. Street were the Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones, the Rev. Duncan C. Milner, Attorneys J. B. Burtt and David B. Lyman, the Rev. Frank T. Dernbleser, James K. Shields, the Rev. Gottfried Nelson, the Rev. Martin Hardin, and the Rev. William Covert. They delivered three minute philippics against both Wayman and Kern.

The Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones declared the present campaign to be the most inspiring in years.

"For once and once only the accredited teachers of morality, the representatives of religion and decency, by common consent the ministers and churches of Chicago have united in a heroic campaign in the interest of the integrity of the ballot and the enforcement of law," he said. "Arrayed against them in confessed, compact organization are the fell forces of law dedgers and lawbreakers, those whose business is allied to the saloon, the gambling den, and the brothel. Such an alignment of forces is most encouraging. The state's attorneyship is an incident in the campaign."

Claims Wayman Disgraces Deneen.

"Mr. Wayman has become the most blatant, aggressive campaigner on the ticket, sharing the honors with Deneen himself. It is a pitiable sight to see one whose business it will be to enforce the laws of the state of Illinois tagged around sharing in his ovations a man who, in regard to certain laws solidly on the statute books of the state, is a confessed nihilist."

"There is no interest that has more at stake in vigorous and impartial enforcement of the laws than the saloon, gambling, and grafting interests," said James K. Shields. "With an impartial enforcement of the law this element would be largely put out of business, and our specific charges are:

"That this very element combined at the primary for the nomination of Mr. Kern and Mr. Wayman, to the end that they be not disturbed, no matter which one may be successful.

"That Mr. John E. W. Wayman is the willing beneficiary of fraud at the primary, and that no man is fit to be public prosecutor and defend the sacredness of the ballot box when other men may seek to follow his example.

"United Societies Help Wayman."

"That he is the special pet of the United Societies, received their approval before he started on his campaign for nomination. And Mr. Nicholas Michaels, chairman of the political action committee of the United Societies, is one of his campaign managers.

"That with never a word against the saloon element of the city in his campaign he has spent his time denouncing the church element."

The Rev. Duncan C. Milner sprung the pun which sent the audience away in good nature.

"We are in the midst of a war on organized lawlessness," he declared. "The civil war was fought in behalf of law and order. Secession was nullification on a large scale. As we shot to death secession and slavery, so we will shoot to death organized lawlessness that carries with it the lawless saloon.

"We are not shut up to the choice of two roads. We are not compelled to take the 'Kern' or corn road, whether it is in a bottle or in the ear; neither are we compelled to vote for a Wayman, whether high or low, but we can walk in a clean, well lighted street."

TAX CHARGES ARE REPEATED.

Maxwell Edgar Files Replication in Mandamus Proceedings Against Harvester Co. Stockholders.

Maxwell Edgar repeats in a replication filed yesterday in his mandamus proceedings against Cyrus H. McCormick and others of the International Harvester company that unpaid taxes on the property involved amount to several million dollars.

In their answer the defendants set forth that the board of review assessed the property in question, but Mr. Edgar, declaring that he has not been informed of it, avers that if it is true it was done merely to defeat his suit.

In his petition for a writ to compel the board of review to assess the property, chiefly stock of the harvester company, Mr. Edgar averred that it had escaped assessment in 1903, 1904, 1905, and 1906. The total assessment for these years and including 1907, he asserted, was almost $400,000,000.

TRIBUNE RETURNS FREE TO PUBLIC.

Searchlights Will Give Result of Election at Earliest Possible Moment.

BIG HALLS ARE ENGAGED.

Telautograph and Stereopticons Also Will Inform Crowds in the Streets.

The most comprehensive system of election returns ever arranged will be put into service by THE TRIBUNE tonight for the accommodation of the people of Chicago.

Every device for facilitating the work of announcing the results will be in readiness in the available public halls, at prominent street corners, and on the roofs of high buildings before 6 o'clock, and auditoriums accommodating 40,000 people will be thrown open at 6:30, p. m. to those who prefer to receive returns indoors. The indoor and outdoor displays of returns will be started at 7 o'clock sharp.

For the many thousands who cannot be accommodated in halls or who like to keep moving, provisions equally good have been arranged in the open air. Every one is invited to select from the lists given below the place which is most convenient for him and to become THE TRIBUNE'S guest for the evening.

Three great searchlights, flashing from the roofs of the Tribune building, the Vendome hotel, Sixty-second street and Monroe avenue, and Decker's storage warehouse, Madison street and Fortieth avenue, will announce by vari-colored lights the election of president, governor, and state's attorney when each of these becomes known.

Telautograph to Be Used.

The efficacy of this device for long distance signaling is well known, and for those who are interested in the incomplete returns, as they are telegraphed from all parts of the country, the telautograph, an instrument never before used in Chicago for showing election returns, will give them on a screen opposite The Tribune building in Dearborn street.

The telautograph is an electrical device which enables one to transmit, instantaneously, a reproduction of his handwriting, to practically any distance. Those who watch workings tonight will see facsimile reports from every corner of the union in the clear autograph of the party leaders or other men who write them, and thus be in nearly as close touch as if they spoke personally. It will be a heart to heart talk with writers of news throughout the country.

Halls Engaged by "Tribune."

The indoor meetings will be in the largest halls of the various sections of town, as follows:

The Coliseum, Fifteenth street and Wabash avenue.

Dexter Park amphitheater, stockyards, Halsted and Forty-second streets.

First Regiment armory, Michigan avenue and Thirteenth street.

Second Regiment armory, Washington boulevard and Curtis street.

Seventh Regiment armory, Wentworth avenue and Thirty-fourth street.

Lincoln Turner hall, Diversey boulevard and Sheffield avenue.

Social Turner hall, Belmont avenue and Paulina street.

Wicker Park hall, North and Milwaukee avenues.

Seats will be free, and there will be plenty of music at each of the eight places. Western Union telegraph wires will run directly to the halls, and the spectators will be informed momentarily of the results as they reach the city.

Other Means of Information.

Provisions for the out-of-door crowd are equally ample. Besides the telautograph operated from THE TRIBUNE building, results will be shown by electric light letters and figures at State and Randolph street and from stereopticons which will be located at North Clark street and Sheffield avenue.

Milwaukee avenue and Noble street.

Halsted street and Wrightwood avenue.

By the use of these stereopticons it is hoped to save many thousand people a journey downtown and back, and give them the same service which can be had within the loop district.

The searchlight code which has been prepared for the benefit of suburbanites and country residents is as follows:

Presidential returns, white beams.

Gubernatorial returns, red beams.

State's attorneyship, green beams.

Republicans elected—Taft, Deneen, or Wayman—the great shaft of light will be moved around the horizon in steady circles.

Democrats elected—Bryan, Stevenson, or Kern—the light will be moved around the horizon in an enormous zigzag flashing from the horizon to the zenith and back.

As long as the election is in doubt the shafts of light will be pointed straight up.

STRAW VOTE SOLID FOR TAFT.

Members of Space Club, Representing Illinois Trade Papers, Unanimous for the Republican Nominee.

Twenty members of the Space club, representing the publishers and advertising managers of various trade papers in Illinois, attended a banquet last night at the Hamilton club. A straw vote on the presidential and gubernatorial candidates was taken, with the following result: Taft, 20; Bryan, 0; Deneen, 16; Stevenson, 3.

DEBS THINKS TAFT WILL WIN

Expects Final Disintegration of Democratic Party to Follow.

TELLS OF HIS CAMPAIGN.

"Red Special" Has Record of Over 19,000 Miles Traveled.

Eugene V. Debs, candidate for the presidency on the socialist ticket, returned yesterday to his home in Terre Haute, Ind., pleased with the results of his 19,000 mile trip through the country and predicting the election of a republican president.

"Mr. Taft will win," he said before leaving, "and in his election will be written the doom of the democratic party.

"The democrats as a party are fast breaking up. They are split with internal dissensions, and there remains little to hold them together but their hopes of a victory this year.

"These hopes will not be realized. Mr. Bryan, as I see it, cannot win, and with his defeat the disintegration of the party, now far advanced, will be completed. Four years from now there will be no democrats. They will have disappeared, and in their place will be the socialists to battle against the republicans.

"When this happens Roosevelt and La Follette will join the socialist party or drop out of public life."

Tour of the "Red Special."

Mr. Debs seemed pleased with the results of his tour.

"The 'red special' went into all parts of the union," he said. "It covered more than 19,000 miles, and I delivered more than 300 addresses.

"Everywhere there was enthusiasm, and the ranks of the socialist party were augmented greatly by the trip."

By reason of its ways of doing business the socialist party believes it has closer tab on its membership than almost any other organization not definitely limited. Each actual and recognized member pays dues, and their number can be determined to a nicety, but in addition to this, party leaders claim a good million of the independent vote this year. J. Mahlon Barnes, secretary of the national organization, expressed himself as satisfied with the results.

Pleased with Campaign Result.

"As the campaign draws to a close the socialists, wherever found, entertain one opinion," he said. "That is that, regardless of the vote which may be cast or counted for our party, the result of the campaign will be satisfactory in the extreme.

"The membership roll is our test of the growth and strength of the party. The increase in dues-paying members during the present campaign has exceeded the total accessions during the last three years. It is three times as large as the number of members enrolled in the last presidential campaign. Our agitation has reached every part of the nation, and we have held four times as many meetings as in any preceding campaign.

"We have every reason to be hopeful of results."

STOCK BROKERS UP ALL NIGHT TO ACT ON ELECTION RESULT.

They Expect to Execute Selling Orders on London Curb if Bryan Is Reported Winner—All Expect Taft Victory.

A number of Chicago commission houses have arranged to keep their places of business open tonight in order to accommodate customers who may desire to trade on the London stock exchange after the result of the election becomes known.

The regular London market opens at 10 o'clock, London time, and closes at 4. These hours are equivalent to 5 a. m. and 11 a. m. in New York, and 4 and 10 in Chicago. There is a curb market in London before and after the regular stock exchange market. This curb market is expected to open at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning, or 1 o'clock Chicago time. American shares are traded in on the London curb just as on the regular stock exchange. There can be no trading locally before 1 o'clock.

Traders Want to Be Prepared.

While there was a general feeling of certainty yesterday that Taft would be elected, still there were some heavy traders who wished to be able to sell securities in the event of the unexpected happening and Mr. Bryan being elected. It is thought that, by 1 o'clock sufficient will be known of election returns to indicate the successful candidate. The different commission houses will have all their facilities available for posting returns.

The Chicago houses will send their orders to some particular New York house, which in turn will transmit the orders to buy or sell to London. The cable company has heretofore given stock exchange orders precedence over other business, and it requires but four or five minutes to get an order cabled to London and notice of its execution cabled back to New York.

Actual Orders to Come Later.

So far as could be learned, no anticipatory orders were left with commission houses during the day. Among the firms which will keep open tonight are S. B. Chapin & Co., Von Frantzius & Co., Harris, Winthrop & Co., Logan & Bryan, Hornblower & Weeks, and Finley Barrell & Co.

TAFT, CONFIDENT, ENDS HIS LABOR.

Predicting Victory for Self and Hughes He Makes Final Speeches.

FAIR PLAY FOR LABOR.

Act of Gompers in Fighting for Bryan Will Not Change Attitude.

Youngstown, O., Nov. 2.—The last word of his campaign has been spoken by William Howard Taft, and he is now speeding to Cincinnati to cast his vote tomorrow. His final words to the voters were:

"Vote the republican ticket and preserve prosperity, protection to American industries, business integrity, and the rights of labor."

The close of the campaign was, in magnitude and enthusiasm, a fitting climax to all that has gone before. The six and one-half hours Mr. Taft spent in Youngstown were crowded with political events. The candidate made three speeches, preceding which he reviewed a parade which was miles in length, and was the guest of the prominent republicans at a dinner.

In his speeches today Mr. Taft forecast his election and pledged his justice to the workingmen. He took opportunity to emphasize that, notwithstanding the opposition to him and the republican party by Samuel Gompers, he will maintain his great sympathy for and interest in the welfare of organised and unorganised labor which his previous record sustains.

No Change in Principles.

"I want to say," he said, "that it does not make any difference how much Mr. Gompers may misrepresent my position; it does not make any difference how much he misrepresents the position of the Supreme court of the United States—I suppose I ought not to feel hurt because I am running for office. If these gentlemen had the patience and justice to read my decisions when I was on the bench and when I had not the slightest idea of ever yielding to the weakness of running for the presidency, they would have found I have not changed from the principles I stated then.

"I have not turned an iota from the principles I there established, and those principles and those principles alone are the basis upon which trade unionism can flourish in this country.

"The question of today," he added, "is how far Mr. Gompers is able to transfer what he has not. Every attempt made by misrepresentation and otherwise as to the attitude of the republican party has been made to prejudice the wage earners of this country against the party and its candidate."

Mitchell Message Misquoted.

In this connection it was made known that Representative Burton had information from Daniel Keefe, president of the Longshoremen's union, that the telegram published this morning from John Mitchell to Samuel Gompers, in which Mr. Mitchell declares himself in sympathy and accord with the policy of the American Federation of Labor, is garbled, inasmuch as it leaves out two important words, these words being "nonpartisan political."

The text of the telegram as it should have been published was read as follows:

Chicago, Oct. 31, 1908.—Samuel Gompers, Washington, D. C.: Telegram quoting what purports to be an extract from speech delivered by Mr. Taft at Buffalo last night received. His statement, so far as it relates to me, conveys a wrong impression. I am in full sympathy and accord with the nonpartisan political policy of the American Federation of Labor, as it has been outlined and promulgated by the executive council.

JOHN MITCHELL.

Long Day of Campaigning.

Mr. Taft has had a busy day. Beginning his work at Dunkirk, N. Y., this morning, he addressed big crowds at Westfield, N. Y.; Erie, Pa.; Ashtabula, Garrettsville, Cleveland, and Youngstown. The Cleveland meeting was a monster affair and was preceded by a parade of many marching clubs. The meeting, held in the armory, was presided over by A. L. Faulkner, president of the National Order of Window Glass Makers.

The first address at Dunkirk, was made by the candidate from the rear end of the train. Mrs. Taft was standing by his side when he said:

"I don't know whether you are as glad that tomorrow is election day as I am. If you are you are happy. I am delighted to stand before an audience of workingmen, to assure them that there are many reasons why they should vote the republican ticket, and if that ticket is successful, as I have no doubt it will be, then we will have nothing to regret in the victory; first, because it will preserve the protective system; second, because it is not a menace to prosperity, and prosperity will return as we had it two years ago for a period of ten years; and, third, because the republican party has shown itself in the past to be a friend of the workingman and it will do so in the future.

Not Unfair to Labor.

"I have been attacked as unfair to labor. I wish I could stop and demonstrate to you that of all the public men you know there are few who have done more in the interest of labor than I have, and I want it understood that if I am elected the fact that Mr. Gompers has attempted to deliver over the labor vote to the democratic party and has attacked me bitterly, and with others has done me injustice, will not deprive me of the interest I feel in labor in its attempt to get to higher things, and it will give me the utmost pleasure to follow along in the path of Theodore Roosevelt to bring to the attention of congress and by executive measures to put labor on an equality with every other class in the community.

"If I understand the position of labor, they don't ask to be put at an advantage. They ask a square deal to be put on a level. The republican party in the last ten years has passed ten statutes and the democratic party not a single line in the interest of labor.

"Under these circumstances I ask you to consider carefully the question whether you want to put in the democratic party with its record and its promises unfulfilled, or the republican party with its records of things done."

At Cleveland Mr. Taft predicted a great and decisive victory in New York for the republican ticket.

"I have just come out of New York state with the conviction that tomorrow will bring with it a republican majority there which will not only give the electoral vote to me, but will elect Gov. Hughes by a round majority," said Mr. Taft. "We all of us recognize New York as a pivotal state and I speak advisedly when I say that the republican ticket will prevail there.

"The democratic plurality in New York City will not be sufficient to overcome the tremendous republican vote which will be rolled up in the rural districts.

"The Madison Square garden meeting was regarded as the climax of the campaign, but all the meetings which I have held since there have been the same enthusiasm, the same huge crowds, and the same firmly implanted conviction that New York will again go republican.

"I am satisfied with the situation and I await with confidence the election tomorrow, for I am as certain of victory as a man may well be of anything here below."

Answers Questions at Youngstown.

This city was alive with political activity throughout the day, meetings being in progress long before the Taft special arrived at 4 o'clock. Among the prominent speakers at the several meetings were Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, Secretary Garfield, and Representative Burke of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Taft's three speeches here tonight dwelt largely with the labor question, and again and again he emphasized his denial of charges against him of unfairness, and asserted his friendliness to labor.

When Mr. Taft stepped on the Park theater stage he faced an audience almost wholly friendly but of an inquiring turn of mind. Several persons called to him before he began his speech.

"What about the full dinner pail?"

"I am going to talk to you tonight," said Mr. Taft, "about the reasons labor men should support the ticket, and my talk will cover the question of the full dinner pail."

Warns of Tariff Peril.

Mr. Taft then made his tariff argument, showing that protection of American manufacturers protected also the men who worked for the manufacturers against the pauper labor of Europe. When he had finished that part of the speech questioners in the audience still insisted that the "full dinner pail" question had not been answered, and Mr. Taft said:

"All right, I will answer you."

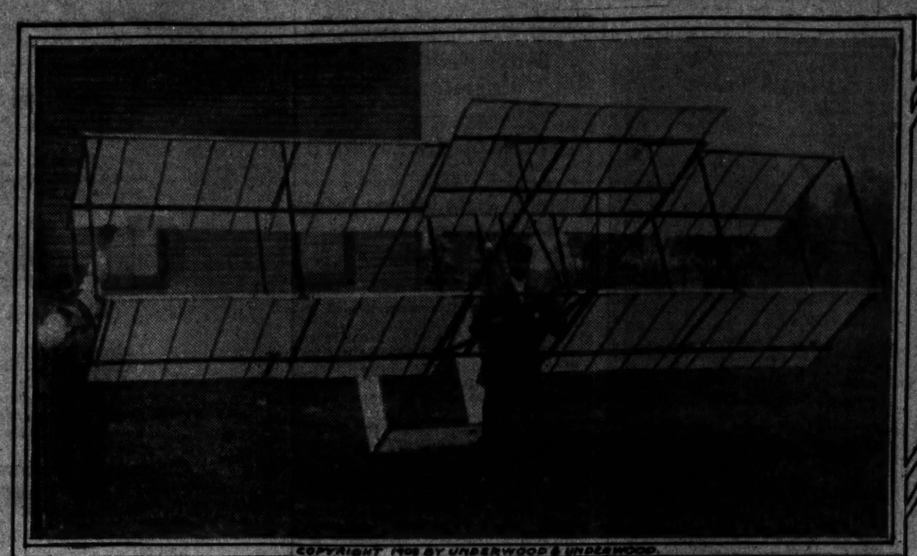

He then spoke of the recent panic and said that if labor men wished to fill the dinner pail that had been depleted by the recent depression, they would have to choose between himself, as representing the party that had legislated for both labor and capital, and Mr. Bryan, who had only theorized on both subjects.

From this argument Mr. Taft went to his own labor record and his aggressiveness and independence won the applause of the crowd.

When Mr. Taft ended his last address tonight he had made 418 speeches in forty-one days, the first speech of the tour having been made at George Ade's farm in Indiana, Sept. 23. His train left for Cincinnati at 11 o'clock. It will arrive early tomorrow morning.

SLIM 'DOUGH DAY' AT TAMMANY.

Allotment for Getting Out of Vote $40 to Precinct, Where in the Past It Has Sometimes Been $100.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—It was "dough day" at Tammany hall and at the headquarters of the republican county committee. At the wigwam in Fourteenth street Charles F. Murphy sat as usual behind the long table in the executive committee's room and handed to each assembly district leader as he filed into the room a small canvas sack containing the money which had been appropriated to his particular district.

The leaders took what was given to them without even attempting to ask the amount. It would have done no good if they had asked. Mr. Murphy had settled several days ago the amount of money that was to be sent to each district to get the vote out.

Mr. Murphy is as hard up this year as are other heads of the county, state, and national committees. In past years as much as $100 has been allotted to an election district, but the distribution today averaged only about $40. This does not mean that this was the actual amount given to every district. In some of the districts as low as $10 was given, while in some of the republican assembly districts the appropriation on an average ranged from $60 to $90.

Estimating on an average of $40 for the 800 election districts in this county, the fund distributed today by Mr. Murphy totaled $35,600.

The republican leaders did not fare as well as their Tammany brethren. It is understood that their average was not more than $30 to the election district.

TAFT TO HUNT WITH PRESIDENT

Roosevelt and Republican Leader Plan to Take Vacation in the Mountains of North Carolina.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—President Roosevelt and William M. Taft probably will indulge in a hunting trip together about Thanksgiving in the mountains of North Carolina. There is to be no visit to Pine Knot this year. The hunting has not proven exciting or successful down that way. Mr. Taft is said to be planning to take a long rest from his campaign labors. Asheville, N. C., is reported to be the point he has selected.

Bryan Will Hunt Ducks.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—William J. Bryan has accepted an invitation to spend two weeks duck hunting in southern Texas immediately after the election.

OHIO BOSS IS THREATENED.

Indianapolis Resident Arrested in Cincinnati for Remarks Made on a Street Corner.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Herman Newman, formerly manager of the salvage corps of this city but of recent years a resident of Indianapolis, was arrested here this afternoon as a result of several threats alleged to have been made against George B. Cox, republican leader. When searched at the police station a revolver was found.

As Cox passed a street corner Newman, it is charged, was heard to utter such serious threats that a policeman was notified.

At police headquarters Newman said Cox had ruined him in business by using his "influence" against him.

ONE CONTRIBUTOR ONLY NAMED

Father of Girl Said to Be Fiancee of W. J. Bryan Jr. Gives $500 to Wisconsin Democrats.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—When State Democratic Chairman H. H. Manson made his final announcement of the money expended in the Wisconsin campaign, showing a total of $8,671.25, he named only one individual contributor. That one was Alexander Berger, the board of trade man, whose daughter is said to be the fiancée of W. J. Bryan Jr. Mr. Berger gave $500 to the cause, and the democratic national committee furnished $5,000.

DEMOCRATIC TIGER IS "BLIND."

Officials at Danville, Ind., Raid Drug Store Where Party Leaders Congregated and Seize Liquors.

Danville, Ind., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The S. R. Lingenfelter drug store, known as the democratic headquarters, was raided tonight under the "blind tiger" law. More than 100 cases of beer, two barrels of whisky, two barrels of wine, and several cases of bottled goods were confiscated. A crowd followed the wagon load of intoxicants to the jail.

BRYAN PLEADS TO NEIGHBORS

He Asks That Former Defeats in Lincoln Be Wiped Out.

HISTORY OF HIS LIFE TOLD.

Statement Challenges Any Fault Finding in Political Deals.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—William J. Bryan made his final address of the campaign to a gathering of his neighbors tonight. He previously had spoken at Kansas City, Leavenworth, Atchison, Everest, Hiawatha, Sabetha, Seneca, Axtell, and Marysville, in Kansas. In each of these towns Mr. Bryan had discussed the political issues of the campaign. At home, however, he pleaded for votes on the score of old friendship.

Regarding the fact he has been beaten in his home town in both his presidential campaigns, Mr. Bryan said:

"While it has been humiliating to have it thrown up to me in other parts of the country that my city never has given me a majority, as a matter of fact, I have always had a large complimentary vote from the republicans of Lincoln.

"When I ran for congress in 1890 I was only defeated in this county by a little more than 400, and when again I ran for congress in 1892 I was only defeated in this county a little more than 900, and even in the heat of presidential campaigns I have always had a large number of votes from men who were not connected with the political party of which I am a member; and if this fact were known there would not have been so much criticism because I never have carried this city with its large republican normal majority.

Thanks His Republican Friends.

"Without the votes of many republicans I would not have been elected in 1892, for my majority was only 140, and without that election I would not have been nominated for the presidency in 1896, and therefore I can feel grateful to the republicans who gave me my start and whose votes were absolutely necessary to my election on that occasion.

"My friends, I am at the end of my third presidential campaign. Tomorrow 15,000,000 of voters will decide whether I am to occupy the seat that Washington, and Jefferson, and Jackson, and Lincoln occupied. You will have your part in that victory or in that defeat. It may be that the election may turn on Nebraska, and it may be that Nebraska will turn on votes so few in number that the city of Lincoln may decide my fate.

"I believe I am going to be elected. More than that, I believe it is going to be more than a bare victory. I believe there is a stirring of the conscience of the American people, a moral awakening, an uprising that means a sweeping victory. But, my friends, that victory would be robbed of much of its sweetness if it were won outside of the state of Nebraska entirely; that victory would be robbed of much of its sweetness if Lincoln did not contribute to it; it would be robbed of much of its sweetness if my little precinct at Normal did not contribute to it."

Issues Review of Life.

Mr. Bryan tonight issued the following signed statement, a review of his political life:

"I am now 48 years old. It is eighteen years since I began my political career as a candidate for congress. I told the people of my district that if elected I would not try to get their hands into other peoples' pockets; that I would simply try to keep other peoples' hands out of their pockets. For eighteen years this thought has run through my every speech and act. I have tried to apply to government the Jeffersonian maxim of 'equal rights to all and special privileges to none.' I have tried to help make this government a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Claims Own Record Is Clear.

"For eighteen years you have had a chance to scan my every speech and act. While republican leaders have disappeared as the result of investigations, I have invited the scrutiny of my opponents and have outlived their criticisms and their misrepresentations.

"I know not what the future has for me. I know not whether it is the people's wish that I shall be their spokesman in the White house or continue to perform the work which I have tried to perform as a private citizen; but I have not lived in vain. I have given an impulse to honest politics; I have helped to create a sentiment in favor of reform, and as a candidate I have but one thing to rely upon—the confidence of the masses in my fidelity to their interests.

"My opponent has behind him all those forces which are considered potent in politics; but I would rather have the love of the people, the affection of the multitude in whose behalf I have fought, than to hold any office. If I enter the White house, I shall enter it free to keep the pledges I have made, free to serve with singleness of purpose. If I am elected I shall for four years devote whatever energy I have and whatever ability I possess to the one object of making this government again a government in which the people rule and under which every citizen shall draw from society a reward proportionate to the service which he renders to his fellow men.

Says the Fight Is Won.

"Our fight is won and we await the verdict with confidence. The people will not be deceived by the padded straw votes published by the partisan newspapers, by the sham bets of Wall street gamblers, or the boastings of the panic stricken republican leaders.

"The republican candidate has behind him an army of office holders, trust magnates, most of the leading newspapers and an enormous campaign fund so tainted that he dare not let the people know where it comes from until after they have voted and that part of it that is contributed to the republican congressional committee will not be known even then.

"I have behind me the awakened conscience of the country and the sentiment in favor of popular government which demands the election of United States senators by direct vote. I have behind me the victims of the trusts who are pleading for relief, the laboring men whose petitions have been rejected by the republican party, the depositors whose savings are imperiled by the carelessness of bank officials, and the consumers who have been exploited by the beneficiaries of the high tariff.

"All of these people see in a democratic victory their only hope of relief and they know that, with the election of a democratic president and a democratic congress, backed by a popular verdict in behalf of democratic policies, the way is open for remedial legislation.

Votes of Reformers His.

"The republican leaders have been weighed in the balance and have been found wanting; they have betrayed the rank and file of their own party and have left the democratic party to voice the honest sentiment of the honest citizenship of the country, republican and democratic.

"And, I may add, we expect in this campaign the votes of all reformers, for the democratic party is the only party that can bring at once the reforms which the people need, and I am sure the reformers cannot be deceived by the leaders who, pretending to represent labor, are now trying to assist the republican party, which is the open foe of labor, and, having posed as enemies of the trusts, now join hands with Rockefeller, Harriman, and Carnegie in supporting the republican party which is today the champion and bulwark of all the trusts.

"What a spectacle the republican campaign presents at its close, the republican candidate trying to repudiate the support of the trust magnates, who are coming out from under cover and announcing their loyalty to him and at the same time trying to claim the support of labor leaders like Mitchell and Duncan and Morris, who are openly repudiating them. Surely the hour has come for a return of the government to the hands of the people. Let the people rule."

COUNTY JAIL OVERCROWDED; CRIMINAL COURT CLOGGED.

State's Attorney to Be Elected Today Will Find Plenty of Work Awaiting Him When He Qualifies.

The new state's attorney to be elected today will find an unusual number of prisoners in the county jail awaiting trial when he takes charge of his office on Dec. 7.

The month began yesterday with 708 prisoners in the jail, and usually winter brings an increase of the number. More than forty of the prisoners are charged with murder. Three of them have been convicted and are under death sentences. These are Herman Billik, who will be resentenced tomorrow; Albert Williams, colored, wife murderer, to be hanged on Dec. 11, and David Anderson, slayer of a policeman, whose case is pending before the state supreme court.

Fifty-four of the prisoners are women. This time last year there were only 403 prisoners in the jail. The average number on Nov. 1 is about 525. Although the criminal courts are about seventy-five cases behind in trials of prisoners, and "woefully behind," according to State's Attorney Healy, in trials of indicted persons who are out on bail, Mr. Healy said:

"Less than one-half the jail population is awaiting trial. The others are federal prisoners, persons who have been tried and convicted and now are awaiting the result of appeals, or persons who are serving terms in jail to which they have been sentenced.

"Of the 325 persons in jail awaiting trial about 200 were indicted by the October grand jury, which ended its work last Saturday. About 100 are cases where indictments were returned by the September grand jury.

"The decision last summer by the Appellate court practically robs the municipal court of criminal jurisdiction and throws all such cases back upon the Criminal court."

FOUR TOWN OFFICIALS CITED ON CHARGE OF MALFEASANCE.

District Attorney D. E. Boone Makes Many Accusations Against Village Trustees at Miller's Station, Ind.

The Superior court of Lake county, Ind., issued an order yesterday citing the president and three members of the town board of Miller's Station to appear on Nov. 10 to answer charges of malfeasance in office. The accused members of the board in addition to President Gustav Anderson are Patrick Carr, John Carr, and Patrick Malone. Malone also is accused of habitual drunkenness.

The specific charges against the town officials are:

That they refused to permit an examination of the public records.

That when it was feared an order would be issued by the court compelling them to produce the records they spirited them away to Hobart, Ind.

That they neglected to make public a report of receipts and disbursements by the board.

That they granted contracts without advertising for bids.

That they allowed a $5,000 bill for water and light without submitting an itemized report.

The charges were presented by District Attorney David E. Boone and are the outgrowth of a petition signed by fifty citizens several weeks ago in which it was requested that immediate action be taken.

All the accused men deny that they are guilty of the charges made against them and say the citation to appear in court is a result of the enmity of political foes.

Hit by Auto, Then Locked Up.

John Davis, 45 years old, was struck by an automobile last evening at Wells and Kinzie streets, knocked down, and his head badly cut. He was taken to the Harrison street emergency hospital and later removed to the East Chicago avenue police station, where he is held as a witness. The automobile was driven by Frank Kraus and is owned by W. H. McKintock, 415 Sheridan road.

'BRYAN A WINNER,' ABBOT'S LAST CRY.

New Jersey and Iowa Are Included in Final Guess of Writer.

FAIR FIGHT, HE AVERS.

However, He Says, "Slush Fund" Has Been Dumped Into Indiana.

BY WILLIS J. ABBOT.

Manager of publicity department, Democratic national committee.

[Copyright, 1908, By Tribune Company, Chicago.]

This is the end of the campaign. Somebody is going to be elected. It may be Mr. Taft or it may be Mr. Bryan. I believe it will be Mr. Bryan. THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and many republican politicians think it will be Mr. Taft.

What I may have to say today will have no influence on the vote. The people who do the voting have made up their minds already. If I were a lawyer I would say it was possible to influence a jury of twelve men, but nobody can influence a jury of 13,000,000 men. That is the jury that will determine whether Mr. Bryan or Mr. Taft shall be elected.

Claims New Jersey and Iowa.

It is difficult to determine what the voters of the United States are now going to do. I don't believe that my friends, Mr. Hitchcock or Mr. Rosewater, know more about it than I do myself. And perhaps not knowing much about it that I suppose to the voters of the country and to the readers of this paper may be as unwise as what the men on the other side say.

All I can say is that in my judgment Mr. Bryan is going to carry the really vital states. He will have New York, New Jersey, Indiana, Ohio, Iowa, and possibly Wisconsin.

We who are in politics recognise the fact that we must not discourage our friends outside of the certain states by conceding any possibility of republican success.

Mr. Bryan's majority in the electoral colleges will run from twenty to thirty votes. Any competent observer of politics recognises that fact today. His election is absolutely assured and there can be no newspaper in the United States that does not recognise the fact.

Campaign Has Been Fair.

It has been a clean and a fair campaign. Even to the last the men who have been pressing the Bryan campaign have not been called anarchists or been accused of being enemies of the national honor. Mr. Bryan has been charged with political sins, but that is what a man who is in politics must expect from his enemies. But, so far as has been observed, the republican forces against Bryan and the democratic seceders with him have not encountered the bitterness of opposition that they did in 1896 or in 1900.

Mr. Bryan has not been bitterly attacked by any newspaper recognised as a real opponent of public opinion. Never before has the democratic party got such fair treatment from the republican press—in Chicago at least—as this year.

We of the democratic party believe that in this changed attitude of the republican newspapers there is something more than mere newspaper common sense. We think there is a feeling among the conservatives and the publishers of the republican papers that among the voters of this country the old and bitter antagonism to Bryan has at last disappeared.

Last Slush Fund Charge.

Mr. Bryan is going to win this election. But he has to meet an enormous slush fund raised by John D. Rockefeller, Andrew Carnegie and Wall street generally.

I have definite and positive information that into the state of Indiana nearly $400,000 has been plumped within the last four weeks. This is a matter which American citizens should consider seriously.

You can take a state like Indiana and pick out a few precincts or counties which are politically close. Two hundred or $200 might buy a precinct. Four hundred thousand dollars might buy a state.

Party Free of Entanglements.

It isn't always bribery—it is more the effort to persuade and bring the voters to the polls. But at the same time the democratic party, being antagonistic to the steel trust, to the Standard Oil trust, to the shipbuilding trust, to the railroad trust, and all the other trusts, have refused to accept money from any of these organizations. It does not stand for the revision of the tariff upward but the revision of the tariff downward.

And so in the end the democratic party meets today the voters of the nation with a perfect confidence that it does not appeal to any special interests, and with an equal confidence that it does stand without any sort of entangling alliances with the protected interests.

BETTING SUB ROSA IN GOTHAM

$100,000 Wagered at Hoffman House Strictly on Quiet.

ORDERS TO KNIFE HUGHES?

Chanler Backing Forces Even Money at the Metropole.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The long lobby and bar of the Hoffman house were mournful precincts tonight to the old timers who were used to seeing Charley Mahoney standing knee deep in green and yellow bills while hundreds of excited men battled to get within six feet of the little man to take a chance on one candidate or another.

Two years ago, and four years ago, Mahoney hardly had time to count the money, it came so fast. Tonight, from 6 o'clock until after midnight, $100,000 would have been a liberal estimate of the coin he stands sponsor for.

Hide Out to Place Bets.

He spent most of his time in a storeroom off the lobby. Persons with cash and confidence in their own judgment got to Mahoney by rapping softly upon the door. What took place in there is more or less of a mystery. Nobody was advertising himself as a bettor. Out of the $100,000 put up tonight at the Hoffman, there were three bets of $10,000 to $9,000 on Gov. Hughes. There was mighty little 10 to 8 Hughes money and no 10 to 7. Gentlemen with a fancy for Hughes' chances modestly asked for even money. Sometimes they agreed to take 10 to 9. By midnight the betting was practically all at even money.

Sol Lichtenstein negotiated some fair sized wagers. He bet $19,000 on Taft, putting up $6,500 against $1,000, $7,000 against $2,000, $3,000 against $600, and $3,000 against $800. Lichtenstein took the Chanler end of half a dozen small bets.

Word Given to Knife Hughes?

The betting was brisk in the Metropole hotel. A flood of Chanler money drove the odds on Hughes from 10 to 8 to even money. There was a persistent rumor going the rounds among betting men that the word had gone out among the republican organization to knife Hughes and vote for Taft. This rumor did much toward driving the odds down.

Felix Isman of Philadelphia was at the Metropole. He had a lot of Hughes money. George Considine, one of the owners of the Metropole, said Isman had placed one bet of $15,000 on Hughes at odds of 10 to 8 and that he probably had many more thousands down. Considine had a telegram from a man in the west instructing him to place $15,000 on Chanler at the best odds he could get. This $15,000 was taken by Isman.

Little Gambled on President.

There was little betting on the national issue. The odds on Taft were too great to admit of much plunging for large sums. Considine said the prevailing odds quoted in his place were 7 and 8 to 1 on Taft. The men who were willing to back Bryan even at those odds were few.

Here is a list of bets placed with a well known bookmaker:

$2,000 to $1,800 on Hughes' reelection.

$1,000 to $900 that Hughes will be reelected.

Two bets of $1,000 even money that Hughes will be elected.

$500 to $400 on Hughes' reelection.

$1,000 even money that Hughes will beat Chanler.

$10,000 even money that Brooklyn will not give Chanler a plurality of more than 20,000.

$500 to $400 that Chanler will not get 15,000 plurality in Kings.

$6,500 to $1,000 that Taft will be elected.

$7,000 to $2,000 on Taft.

$3,000 to $600 on Taft.

$8,000 to $800 on Taft.

$500 even money that Chanler will have a plurality of 100,000 in New York City.

HEARST DEALS BRYAN BLOW

Refutes Charge That He Organized Party for Revenge.

REFORM AS HIS ONLY AIM.

Asserts Nebraskan Has Abandoned Time Honored Principles.

New York, Nov. 2.—William R. Hearst, national chairman of the independence party, in a statement tonight replied to the charge made by Democratic National Chairman Mack today that Mr. Hearst had organized a new party to obtain revenge upon Mr. Bryan for the latter's failure to aid Hearst in his presidential aspirations of four years ago.

Mr. Hearst denied Chairman Mack's charge, declaring that he was not angry at Mr. Bryan because he (Hearst) was not nominated by the democratic convention in 1904.

Democracy Not Party of Reform.

"It was not at all necessary for me to have been nominated," declared Mr. Hearst in his statement. "I was willing to support any other progressive democrat. If the anti-Parker forces had united on any man Parker would have been defeated for the nomination."

Mr. Hearst declared that his loss of confidence in Mr. Bryan prompted him to form a new party.

"I have abandoned democracy," his statement says, "because it is no longer the party of reform. I am not in favor of Mr. Taft. I never have been in favor of him. I am not in favor of Mr. Bryan, although I was once a supporter of him. Even then I was a supporter not of the man, but of his principles, and I am at variance with him now, as I have said, not because I have changed my opinions, but because he is continually changing his mind.

Hearst Party Lays Foundations.

"Those who believe as I do have founded a new party, and I declare that this new party is the only one which earnestly and sincerely advocates reform, and the only one which has in this whole campaign done anything whatever to expose corruption and promote reform.

"I am proud of the work of the independence party in this campaign. It has done the only work that has been done that will really inure to the benefit of the people. It has laid the foundation for great reforms. It has made history. It has done much for one campaign and sown the seed for a rich harvest in future achievements."

MANAGERS QUIT; BOTH CONFIDENT.

Hitchcock and Mack End Strenuous Tasks and Go Home to Vote.

NEW YORK AS HARBINGER

Friends of Hughes and Chanler Claim Victory; Republican Congress Predicted.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 3.—Fair weather in all but eleven states is the final forecast for election day, made tonight by the weather bureau. Moderate temperature will prevail in all states. Showers are indicated for Tuesday in Georgia, Alabama, western Florida, Mississippi, eastern Louisiana, the mountains of Tennessee, the Carolinas, Washington, Oregon, and northern Idaho.

New York, Nov. 2.—The rival managers of the republican and democratic national campaigns closed their desks at headquarters tonight and declared respectively that Taft and Bryan would win.

The managers then hurried away on late trains to cast their ballots, Mr. Hitchcock at West Newton, Mass., and Mr. Mack at Buffalo.

The tasks of the national chairmen have been many and tedious. They have involved long railroad journeys and many midnight vigils. The varied turns and perplexities of the campaign have been trying and it was with sighs of relief that Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. Mack announced that their work was done.

Much Needed Rest for Hitchcock.

There will be many details to be looked after when the voting is over, but the nerve racking tension, the uncertainty and suspense will be gone, and with either victory or defeat will come an earnestly anticipated cessation of political worries.

For Mr. Hitchcock it will mean a rest for the first time since he set out to round up Taft delegates to the republican national convention last spring. It will be rest after a campaign which he declares has been conducted strictly along the lines agreed upon at the start.

Mr. Mack gives up his prediction work with the satisfaction, his associates say, of having brought the democratic party into greater unity than for many years past. He has conducted a vigorous campaign and says he believes the party is in a better position to win the election than at any time in its history.

Socialists Expect Big Vote.

What effect the independence party, organized by William R. Hearst, and in the national field for the first time this year, will have upon either of the old parties is a matter of conjecture to be decided by tomorrow's balloting.

The socialist leaders, basing their claims upon the reception given to Eugene V. Debs on his "Red Special" tour of the country, are confident they will poll a greater vote than ever before.

Secretary Loudenslager of the republican congressional committee closed his headquarters today. He said he was confident the returns would verify his prediction as to the next congress. This forecast, given out last week, is, republican, 227; democrats, 204.

New York to Forecast Result.

The polls in New York City will open at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning and close at 5 p. m. The same rule holds throughout practically every part of the state, and the indications are that the New York state vote will be the first to be flashed over the wires tomorrow night as giving an indication of how the election is going. This at least will be true of the counties and cities outside of Greater New York. Voting machines are extensively used up state and the results will be known almost as soon as the polls close.

It was said that four years ago Erie county, in which Buffalo is located, first told President Roosevelt of his approaching victory. The returns from Erie this year will be watched with the keenest interest, both as to their bearing on the national and New York state results. The count of the vote in New York City, Brooklyn, and surrounding boroughs is likely to be slow and long delayed.

The New York state campaign did not end until well toward midnight tonight, Gov. Hughes making ten speeches in Greater New York during the day and evening. His democratic opponent, Lieut. Gov. Chanler, spent the day in his home county of Dutchess, and made a number of speeches to his neighbors.

Both Sides Claim Empire State.

The puzzle as to the outcome of the state contest was apparently no nearer solution tonight than at the beginning of the campaign, and both sides are claiming the state by overwhelming majorities. At democratic state headquarters confidence was expressed that New York would go for Bryan, Kern, and Chanler.

Chairman Woodruff of the state republican committee said tonight:

"I have given out no figures on the result in New York, but I believe that Taft and Hughes will win by substantial pluralities. I believe Hughes has been growing every day."

Indiana Result Is Uncertain.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 2.—There has not been an election in Indiana in years when there was such a feeling of uncertainty as to the outcome as exists tonight. Both parties are claiming the state.

The democrats are not giving out any figures, but Fred A. Sims, acting chairman of the republican state committee, in a statement tonight said:

"Basing my prediction upon the thirty day poll I feel safe in saying that Mr. Taft will carry Indiana by not less than 30,000 plurality; that the entire republican state ticket will be elected and that we will elect a majority of the legislature in both houses and probably eleven of the thirteen congressmen."

"The whole democratic state and national ticket," Stokes Jackson, chairman of the democratic state committee, said, "will be elected. We expect to carry the legislature and elect ten of the thirteen congressmen."

New Law Felt in Maryland.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 2.—The feature of the political situation is the effect of the new corrupt practices act upon working politicians of both the great parties.

Both claim the other side will evade the provisions of this act, in force for the first time. The disbursements of money to ward workers were less than half those hitherto customary.

Both sides continue to claim the state for presidential electors and congressmen. There are no surface indications of any change of sentiment.

Ohio Makes a Hot Finish.

Cincinnati, O., Nov. 2.—In addition to voting for or against one of Ohio's native sons for the presidency, the electors in this state will cast their ballots on the full state official family, members of both houses of the legislature, judicial and county officers, and also express their opinion on three constitutional amendments.

The campaign, after a quiet opening, has been one of the hottest ever known, and leaders of the various parties in the nation have been drawn into the fight.

Temperance legislation, present and prospective, has cut a large figure in the state office contests, notably between the republican and democratic candidate for governor, and it is expected that the complications resulting from internal party differences on that issue will cause much delay in learning the result.

The various developments that seemed to bring the Standard Oil company more or less into politics, as indicated by published letters and statements, were followed closely, the mention of Senator Foraker and other leaders in that connection having complicated the calculations of experts on advance information.

The legislature to be elected will name a successor for Senator Foraker, for which place the present incumbent is a candidate.

The three amendments to the constitution to be voted on have received the indorsement of the various parties. One provides for changes in taxation methods, a second for earlier legislative sessions, and the third provides for a two-thirds legislative vote to overcome a governor's veto.

Both Sides Claim Colorado.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 2.—At democratic state headquarters 17,000 is given as the probable plurality in Colorado for Bryan and the democratic state ticket. Republican leaders give the same figures as their estimate of the plurality for Taft and their state candidates.

Both parties lay claim to the three congressmen and the legislature, which will elect a United States senator.

The Supreme court refused today to appoint watchers at the polls in Huerfano and Las Animas counties, where the democrats assert the republicans intend to return fraudulent majorities, and a number of democratic candidates, including John F. Shafforth, nominee for governor, will personally watch the election in those counties.

Great Mixup in Idaho.

Boise, Idaho, Nov. 2.—With the independence candidate for governor declaring himself for the republican national and state tickets, the Independence state chairman lining up with the democrats, the democrats fighting for the direct primary, and the republicans out for local option, election day will bring a complicated situation in Idaho.

The republican chairman claims the state for Taft by 30,000 and for Brady for governor by 15,000.

Bryan and the democratic gubernatorial candidate will have 10,000 majority, according to the democratic chairman.

Claims Shrink in Montana.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 2.—The most significant feature in Montana is the greatly reduced claims of the state republican chairman.

Last Tuesday Chairman Lanstrum claimed Montana would go for Taft and Edward Donlan for governor from 8,000 to 10,000. Today Mr. Lanstrum's estimate places a plurality for Taft and Sherman at not less than 2,000, with 5,000 for Donlan.

State Democratic Chairman W. B. George's estimate tonight is that Montana will give Bryan a popular majority of at least 10,000, and majorities of at least 6,000 for the state ticket.

Fight to Save Bryan at Home.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 2.—With only eight electoral votes to be contested for, the fight in Nebraska will nevertheless be one of the most strenuous ever known in the state.

Partisans of Mr. Bryan are anxious to wipe out the slender plurality the republicans have enjoyed for the last nine years, and claim to have absolute confidence they will win.

The republican managers concede a slight gain for Mr. Bryan, but insist the state is for Taft for president and that the entire state ticket will be elected, with probably five of the six congressmen.

South Dakota May Be Close.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 2.—The republicans tonight expressed confidence in their ability to sweep the state tomorrow on both the national and state tickets, while the democrats were equally confident of electing their state ticket, and especially the democratic nominee for governor, and a good representation in the legislature. Conservative estimates give the state to Taft.

Alarm Felt in Connecticut.

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—Genuine alarm prevailed in the republican state headquarters here tonight because the anti-Lilley republicans, who have organized in New Haven to fight Congressman Lilley in his campaign for governor, have flooded the state with ballots bearing pasters for Judge Robertson, the democratic candidate, but of illegal size, with carelessly misspelled names, and of wrong type.

These ballots will cause a wholesale investigation and recount if they are voted tomorrow, and the committee tonight is doing its utmost to call them in by telephone and telegraph before polls open. They are fearful that they cannot reach them all in the outlying towns.

Candidates admit that the fusion republicans have jeopardised the entire state and national republican ticket and have given the democrats an opportunity to carry Connecticut unless the ballots are withdrawn in time. Lilley probably will be swept into the governor's chair on the presidential wave, but the contest will be close.

'DAUGHTERS' TO MEET TODAY FOR POLITICS OF THEIR OWN.

Chicago D. A. R. Delegates Leave for Jacksonville, Where Order's State Convention Opens This Morning.

A party of fourteen members of the Chicago chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution left Chicago yesterday for Jacksonville, where the state conference of the organization will open its sessions this morning. Just before leaving several of the delegates admitted that the prospects were better than ever for a close contest when it comes to nominating and electing national and state officials.

"Why not?" said one club woman. "We cannot well take part in the general elections tomorrow. If we have a little excitement of our own, who is there to object?"

The contest is expected to center around the Illinois indorsement for nomination as one of the ten vice presidents general at the next national convention of the organization. One faction of the Chicago chapter, together with many of the down state women, is working for Mrs. Frederick W. Becker of the Chicago chapter. Another, headed by Mrs. J. Ellsworth Gross, regent of the local chapter, favors the candidacy of Mrs. Charles V. Hickox of Springfield, the present state regent. A third candidate for the office is Mrs. Ralph Emerson of Rockford.

The Illinois indorsement for the next president general is to go, it is understood, to Mrs. Mathew F. Scott of Bloomington. Mrs. John C. Ames of Streator is a candidate for state regent, and Mrs. Sain Welty of Bloomington for vice regent.

SOUTHERN CLUB HAS MEETING; 37 NEW RECRUITS ARE ADDED.

Roster of 200 Names Set as Goal of Membership for New Society Before Headquarters Are Selected.

Thirty-seven new recruits were reported last evening at a meeting of the recently formed Southern club, held at the Great Northern hotel. With the thirteen "original" members, making a total of fifty, the southerners held an impromptu jubilee. H. H. Bonoré was one of the merrymakers. The club has set 200 members as a goal before establishing headquarters.

J. Hamilton Lewis sent word that once the election is over he is going to devote some of his time to the new club. Emerson Hough, who was present, applied for membership. John Glass, the president of the club, completed its organization of committees.

"There are lots of us from south of the Mason and Dixon line," said Mr. Glass, "and we want to get acquainted. There are young men, too, coming from the south who find the city strange and lonely. We want a place for them to go."

ON TRIAL AS CONSPIRATORS.

Four Alleged Members of Plumbers' Union Arraigned on Charge of Inciting Strikes and Boycott.

Simon O'Donnell, William Gunther, James Garwin, and John J. Kelly, who are said to be allied with the plumbers' and gasfitters' unions, were arraigned before Judge Gemmill yesterday on charges of conspiracy to prevent W. H. Shilvock of Cragin from successfully carrying on his business of manufacturing plumbing supplies. No testimony was heard during the afternoon session, the time being consumed by statements of counsel.

"We expect to prove that these defendants by getting plumbers to boycott this man's goods and inciting strikes have been guilty of a conspiracy to injure his business," said Assistant State's Attorney Hafold.

After bringing a cart load of plumbing supplies in the courtroom, Attorney P. H. O'Donnell, representing the defendants, talked for an hour, explaining the technical nature of the materials.

TWO STATES GIVE ELECTION RESULT.

Ohio and New York, Earliest to Report, Pivots on Which All Swings.

LINEUP OF THE FORCES.

Sure Taft Vote So Large Bryan Must Get Landslide if He Is Winner.

tions Mr. Taft need secure only two or three big states.

This is important on election night, because the wise political observers will concentrate their attention on a few of the pivotal states, and the returns from one or two of them may be sufficient to indicate the result early in the evening. Experienced politicians go farther than this. They watch the ratio of gains or losses in some one state like New York, for instance, and, after having figured out how that state will go if the result is at all decisive, assume that the same conditions would produce the same result in the other pivotal states, and thus they are enabled to get at the outcome of the election long before the general public begins to understand the real significance of the early returns.

States Which Forecast Outcome.

There are half a dozen states which between them have 100 electoral votes. They will be worth watching tonight, and the list is worth cutting out for ready reference. The test states line up in this way:

New York	39	Nebraska	8
Ohio	23	West Virginia	7
Indiana	15
Maryland	8	Total	100

New York is always one of the earliest states to report. They close the polls early there and the system of counting is such that the returns are soon known. The great problem in that state is to determine the balance between the city and the country. Greater New York, involving the two boroughs of New York and Brooklyn, with a few outlying towns, is generally heavily democratic. The country above the Bronx is heavily republican. The only question is to determine which majority is going to be larger than the other.

New York and Ohio Early.

It also will be seen that if New York state goes for Taft he will be so near an election that he will be almost certain to pick up enough votes from some of the other states which are classed in the battleground list. On the other hand, Mr. Bryan might win New York and he would still have to win one state after another in this list to make up his deficiency of 115 electors.

Returns from Ohio and Indiana come in fairly early. If the republicans carry either or both of them by fair majorities it will indicate they have a large percentage of the other states on the doubtful list.

If Mr. Bryan carries either or both of these states it will show a trend in his direction which will make it worth while for the average citizen to stay up late to get final returns, because it will show at least that he is doing much better than he did either of the times when he ran before.

Three Doubtful States Slow.

Maryland, Nebraska, and West Virginia are all of them slow states. All of them, however, are distinctly doubtful and the majority either way is likely to be so small that they may be classed as doubtful until late at night or possibly until the next day. A small majority in either direction may not affect the general result, but the three states are uncertain quantities even in the minds of the most experienced politicians. The early returns from Maryland come from Baltimore, where Bryan is not popular. From Nebraska the first news generally comes from Omaha, where there is a large labor vote, said to be hostile to Taft.

If Indiana, Ohio, or Kansas seems to be at all close people should not make the mistake of depending too much upon the early returns. If there is a large defection from the republicans among the labor men it will be apparent, of course, chiefly in the cities and definite returns come from there earlier than the agricultural section.

Taft is supposed to be especially strong with the farmers, and the temperance question, which has disturbed things in Ohio and Indiana to such an extent, is likely to cause republican losses in the cities which may be counteracted largely by corresponding gains in the country. Nevertheless returns from Cincinnati or Indianapolis unfavorable to Taft must be taken with caution until it is found out what the country districts are doing.

New York and Ohio Pivots.

An student of the returns tonight who finds New York and Ohio have gone republican can go home satisfied that Taft will be the next president of the United States, the final result being only to determine the exact majority in the electoral college.

If the returns indicate that one after another of these test states is sliding over into the Bryan column his election will be indicated, or at least the result will be entirely too close to suit the republican managers.

The margin between the states sure for Taft and the necessary majority is so small that it is likely to make little difference how small states like Idaho and Utah turn out. Even Colorado with five electoral votes is not likely to determine the election, and that is fortunate, because the state is so big, so mountainous, and apparently so close that the country would be in an ecstasy of uncertainty until the last precinct was heard from.

He Has Voted for President 19 Times

IRA STONE.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 2.—(Special.)—When Ira Stone steps into the voting booth tomorrow to cast his presidential ballot it will be the twentieth, perhaps a greater number than cast by any other man in Illinois.

He was born in Vermont ninety-eight years ago, and cast his first vote in 1832 for Andrew Jackson. He voted for Van Buren in 1836, for William Henry Harrison in 1840, for Henry Clay in 1844, for Gen. Zachary Taylor in 1848, for Gen. Winfield Scott in 1852, for Gen. Fremont in 1856, for Abraham Lincoln in 1860 and 1864, for Gen. U. S. Grant in 1868 and 1872, for R. B. Hayes in 1876, for James A. Garfield in 1880, for James G. Blaine in 1884, for Benjamin Harrison in 1888 and 1892, for William McKinely in 1896 and 1900, for Theodore Roosevelt in 1904. Mr. Stone has voted for fourteen candidates who were successful and five who were defeated.

CANNED NEW YORK NOISE USED AS BOSTON EDUCATOR.

Woman Who Will Organize Branch of Society for Suppression of Din Will Employ Phonographs as Aid.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Canned New York noise reproduced by a phonograph is to be a big feature of the opening campaign of Mrs. Isaac L. Rice of New York, who is going to organize a Boston branch of the society for the suppression of unnecessary noise.

Mrs. Rice and her phonographs, including records of all of the ear splitting noises of New York, arrived here tonight, and tomorrow afternoon Mrs. Rice and the phonographs will address a fashionable audience at the Hotel Vendôme.

The address will be under the auspices of the Women's club, and Mrs. Rice hopes to show how nerve wrecking, brain wearying the street noises are.

OBITUARY.

HENRY F. GRISWOLD died suddenly Sunday at San Diego, Cal. He was born in Norwich, Conn., seventy-three years ago, came to Chicago in the early '60s, and became a member of the firm of J. A. & H. F. Griswold, dealers in coffee and spices. Shortly after the fire of 1871 he became a member of the firm of Sprague, Warner & Griswold, later Sprague, Warner & Co. He retired from business in 1894 and had lived in San Diego since 1892, returning to Chicago on frequent visits. He was a member of a number of Chicago clubs and was the first commodore of the Chicago Yacht club. He left a widow and three children—Marie, wife of Henry W. Price; Harry S. Griswold, and Albert S. Griswold. His remains probably will be brought to Chicago for interment.

HENRY A. SCOTT, a pioneer of Oak Park and Chicago, who died last Saturday at the residence of his only daughter, Mrs. Medora Jorgenson, 323 North Sixty-fourth avenue, was buried yesterday at Forest Home cemetery. He was born in Dover, Ark., in 1823. He was a member of the Scott, Ovington Bros. company, wholesale and retail dealers in crockery, established in Chicago just after the fire. He was also interested in business concerns in Galena, Ill., and Lyons, Ia. His wife died ten years ago.

ALBERT LESTER HOWARD, a jeweler in Beloit, Wis., for thirty-five years, dropped dead on the street in Beloit yesterday. Mr. Howard, who was 65 years old, was the father of three Chicago women—Mrs. John R. Montgomery, Mrs. H. S. Blanchard, and Mrs. R. H. Harrison. Mrs. Montgomery, who had been visiting her father, left Beloit three hours before his death. All three daughters have made arrangements to attend the funeral, which will be held in Beloit.

PATRICK SHELLY O'RYAN, 1226 West Harrison street, attorney and member of the school board, died Saturday. The funeral will be held this morning from the Church of the Precious Blood. SAYS UNION BAND FORGETS FAVORS.

County Democracy Finds Organization Guilty of Ingratitude.

MUSIC BILL IN DISPUTE.

Robert E. Burke Declares Federation's Action Result of Spite Work.

The Cook County Democracy, through its attorney, George F. Mulligan, 616 Ashland block, yesterday denounced the action of the Chicago Federation of Labor in putting the organization upon the "defaulters' list," as the "height of ingratitude" on the part of union labor toward Robert E. Burke and his organization.

Furthermore, it was charged that the full amount of $1,004, which the musicians' union claims is due to the County Democracy band for services rendered at the Denver convention, and at William Jennings Bryan's residence near Lincoln, Neb., last July, was ready to be handed over to the musicians at noon yesterday, but was not handed over on account of the attitude of the unionists.

Hence, the musicians will have to go through a formal process of adjustment with Mr. Burke and his organization, which is liable to take a considerable time. Attorney Mulligan expressed the opinion that the musicians' union was more anxious to attack the Burke organization than to get the money.

Calls It Ingratitude.

"For union labor to take a position of that kind toward Mr. Burke is the height of ingratitude," said Attorney Mulligan. "When the lithographers were on strike they got the use of two floors of the Cook County Democracy quarters for five months without a cent of charge, and the use of the billiard tables.

"The striking teamsters had the use of the same quarters free for six months, and in testimony thereof you may see an engrossed tribute to Mr. Burke and the organization which was presented by the Teamsters' joint council. The pressmen also had the quarters for six months free when they were on strike.

"Mr. Burke went on the bonds of thirty-two teamsters during the strike. He has been on bonds to the extent of almost $50,000 for union men who have been indicted."

Statement by Mr. Burke.

Mr. Burke, when seen at his residence in the evening, said:

"This entire matter is a piece of political spite work gotten up by a certain coterie of alleged republicans and alleged democrats, solely for the purpose of injuring the oldest democratic organization in Chicago, and one of the few organizations in this city that are in reality supporting Bryan.

"About twelve years ago we organized the County Democracy band and placed the lamented W. C. De Baugh as director of the same. The band was splendidly equipped in every way and was backed by our members both financially and in other ways. For years we have had a running account with this band. Sometimes they have been in our debt and sometimes we have been in theirs; and in all these years, although they have traveled all over the country with us, no friction of any kind has ever occurred.

"It seems strange that this trouble should have arisen immediately before a presidential election, doesn't it? We have paid this band over $28,000 for services during that period and have secured additional work for them outside of ours amounting to many thousands of dollars. It is only within the last ninety days that we aided in securing them employment, the bills for said employment amounting to over $2,000.

Rain Spoiled Picnic Receipts.

"Now, as to the particular bill over which this trouble arose: We have paid them $665, or about two-thirds of the amount claimed, and the entire bill would have been paid on Sept. 20 had it not been for the freak rainstorm which occurred on Sept. 19, the date of our nineteenth annual picnic, the proceeds of which were to have been devoted towards wiping out this particular debt, and others of a like character which had accrued on account of the Denver trip, which was an expensive one, costing the members of the organization, individually and collectively, about $12,000. However, this entire 'job' will fall of its purpose. The matter will be adjusted satisfactorily to everybody concerned, because they can't down the County Democracy, which has existed here for the last twenty-seven years and which will continue to exist long after its defamers have passed away, both in a physical and in a political sense."

ROOSEVELT FIXES HIS AFRICAN DATE

March 13 Settled Upon as the Time of Departure from New York.

ON THE KOENIG ALBERT.

Via Red Sea, Mombassa, Into Uganda, but Keeping Away from the Congo Region.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—From excellent authority it is learned President Roosevelt plans leaving New York on March 13, nine days after the inauguration, by the liner, Koenig Albert, for Naples, via Gibraltar, where the liner is due on March 25. His expressed desire is to get away as soon as possible, so as not to embarrass Mr. Taft in his new office.

Besides his son Kermit, who will take photographs of big game in Africa, he will be accompanied by a professor from the Smithsonian institution and an official from the navy department. They have not yet been chosen, but several are under consideration. One will have a knowledge of medicine, so that when the party leaves the Uganda railroad and plunges into the unbeaten paths of the eastern African forests the members of the expedition may be properly cared for.

From Naples Mr. Roosevelt and party will travel on one of the German East African steamers to Mombassa via the Suez canal and Aden, a sea journey of seventeen days including stops.

Will Avoid the Congo.

So far no arrangements have been made for the six months the party will spend in Uganda province between the coast and Port Florence, a distance of 584 miles. On Victoria Nyanza the party will embark for Entebbe in Central Africa. One thing certain is that Roosevelt will not enter the Congo territory.

President Roosevelt has received an invitation from the nephew of the late Senator James McMillan of Detroit, who owns 50,000 acres of forest, mountain, and jungle in the Nairobi district of Uganda, to shoot over his estates and use the comfortable shooting boxes that have been erected in various sections where big game is to be found.

The president is scheduled to arrive at Entebbe early in December, where his native porters, hunters, and guides will be in waiting to conduct him through central Africa exploring some of the tributaries of the Nile and eventually landing him at Gondokoro, the frontier post of the Soudan, some time toward the end of April, 1910.

The number of natives to be employed on that part of the journey is not yet settled, but it is estimated as somewhere around fifty. Each man will carry an average load of fifty pounds on his head.

To Leave Beaten Paths.

It is stated Mr. Roosevelt will not follow the beaten paths of travelers and hunters in the East African protectorate, or any part of his journey in Africa, but will strike out on new lines for himself.

From Entebbe the distance to be covered on foot by boat, rivers, and lakes to Khartum, where it is expected Mrs. Roosevelt will join the party, is about 3,000 miles. The journey from Gondokow by steamer will take eleven days and vessels leave once a month.

From Khartum the railway journey across the desert to Wadi-Halfa, at the second cataract of the Nile, takes thirty-six hours. From that point there is a regular steam boat service down to Assouan at the first cataract, and to Cairo, a total water journey of 900 miles. The time taken from Wadi-Halfa depends on the length of the stay the party will make at Aboo Simbul, Philae, Luxor, and other points of interest on the banks of the river Nile. The usual passage for tourists down is about two weeks.

Has an English Permit.

From the British government the president has received a permit to kill as much game as he likes, but it is understood he will go to Africa more in the interest of science than to kill animals for the mere sport of it. It is probable he will confine himself to one specimen of each kind of large and small game, including lions, elephants, rhinoceroses, and crocodiles. Lions, it is said, are the most difficult of get at in Africa because they have become wary of the white man and his deadly gun. The king of the forest can be heard roaring around the camps all night, but they take to cover and disappear before the sun rises.

The president will have no difficulty in keeping in touch with the outer world, whether in the British or German East African protectorates. Telegraph wires now cover the district in all directions, and where the station is some distance away the native runners are employed to take messages. At night the natives have a semaphore signal, by means of torches waved from the hill tops, which has been in use in the orient for thousands of years and is still reliable.

Effects of the Climate.

An expert who has made the same journey through Africa three times from the east coast to the Nile said today that the climate in the interior was healthy for white men if they only took ordinary precautions to safeguard themselves against disease. The country teems with interest for the hunter and naturalist from the time he lands on the East African coast until he reaches Egypt.

Large steamers land their passengers at Kilindini harbor and passengers drive by carriage along a smooth road fringed with immense mango trees to the old Portuguese seaport of Mombassa, where the Uganda railroad starts through East Africa to Port Florence on Lake Victoria Nyanza, a distance of 584 miles.

The temperature of Mombassa is torrid, as it is situated only four degrees from the equator, but the railroad begins to ascend directly after leaving the coast and by the time the station of Mazeras has been reached the elevation is 580 feet above sea level. For the accommodation of the president and his party a special saloon coach with kitchen attached will be reserved, in addition to a saloon carriage with leather seats which can be transformed into sleeping berths at night.

No accommodation has yet been reserved on the liner Koenig Albert for Naples on March 13, as there is plenty of time and the liners are not overcrowded at that season.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—The cases against the officials of seven corporations under indictment for alleged conspiracy in bidding on contracts for the city, in which three officials pleaded guilty last week and were fined, were disposed today.

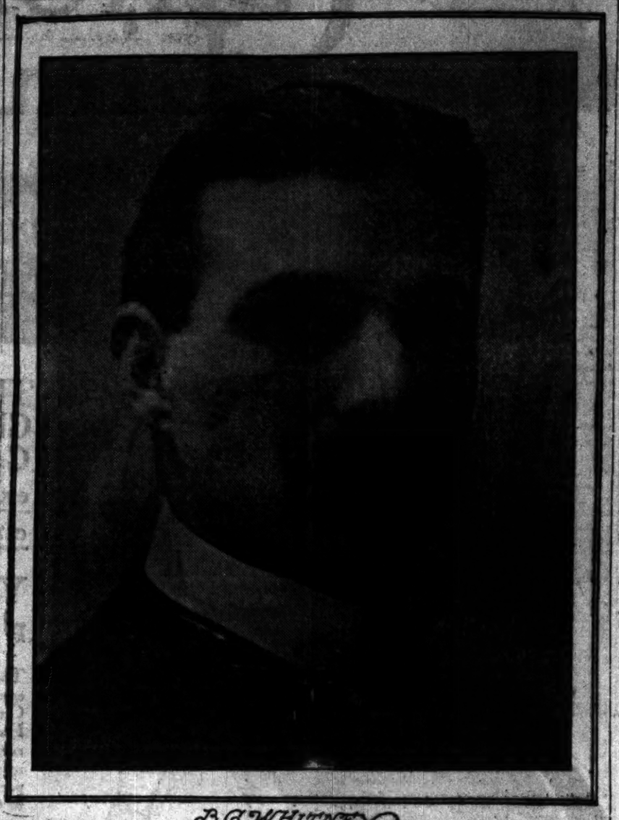

Similar pleadings were entered by John E. Lynch of the Hodge boiler works, Duncan R. Russell of the James Russell boiler works, Charles F. Koopman Jr. of the Cunningham iron works, and Edward P. Robinson of the Atlantic works in the Superior Criminal court today.

Skull Fractured When Phone Pole Was Dislodged by His Automobile.

WHITNEY HURT; DUE TO PRANK

Theater Owner Runs Into Hollowen Trap in Indiana.

SUFFERS FRACTURED SKULL.

Automobile Dislodges Telephone Pole Which Strikes Him on Head.

B. C. Whitney of the Whitney Opera house suffered a fractured skull at Brownstown, Ind., as the result of a Halloween prank, according to dispatches received by his friends in Chicago yesterday.

He was returning to Detroit in an automobile with a party of friends. Halloween marauders had thrown a telephone pole across the road, and in driving around it the machine ran into a guy wire which was fastened to the pole. The pole was jerked from the ground into the air, one end of it striking Mr. Whitney on the head.

Mr. Whitney fell back into his seat unconscious. The party proceeded hurriedly to Brownstown and the injured man was taken to the Falk hotel, where physicians attended to his injuries.

Say He Will Recover.

Last night Mr. Whitney was reported to be resting easy, and it was declared he would recover. The physicians say he suffered a compound fracture of the skull, the wound being in the shape of a capital letter T. Ten stitches were required to sew the wound together. The patient rallied in the morning and for the first time following the accident recognized his friends.

With Mr. Whitney in the automobile when the accident occurred were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Taylor, Mrs. F. C. McMath, Miss Dora Breese, Mrs. Whitney, and the chauffeur, Irving Williams. None save Mr. Whitney was hurt.

Owns Twenty-nine Playhouses.

Mr. Whitney is the owner of twenty-nine playhouses scattered about the country. He is a brother of Fred C. Whitney, also a well known theatrical manager, and lives in Detroit. He is 37 years old and began his career as an usher in the Detroit opera house. He inherited that property from his father and by producing successful musical shows soon made a fortune. He now owns theaters in New York, Buffalo, Boston, Toronto, Montreal, and other cities.

RIVAL OF SCHOOL PRINCIPAL WOULD WED MISS FARRAR.

Former City Official Said to Be Suitor for Hand of Woman Named in Mrs. Ella Voorhees' Suit.

Miss Giralda Farrar, alleged "affinity" of George L. Voorhees, principal of the Samuel B. Morse school, who is named in the suit for separate maintenance of Mrs. Ella Culver Voorhees, the "woman farmer" of Upper Alton, Ill., appeared in a new role yesterday. Miss Farrar is reported to have met James T. Gleason, a former deputy building inspector, at Waveland and North Forty-second avenues, and to have been asked to choose between him and the school principal as her "soul mate."

Although Mr. Gleason would neither admit nor deny it, neighborhood observers say that he has been paying attention to Miss Farrar for several years. His own sister asserts that "Jimmy will marry Miss Farrar" some day.

These new developments in Miss Farrar's affairs of heart complicate the plans of Principal Voorhees, who last week was quoted as saying he was "willing to marry Miss Farrar" if she was willing to have him.

With a new rival on the scene Mr. Voorhees' future attitude has become a problem for his friends and they are wondering if he will insist on the divorce which he applied for after twenty-nine years of married life. Miss Farrar has said she had no idea of marrying Voorhees.

Gleason lives at 2392 North Forty-second avenue.

HELD ON ABDUCTION CHARGE

Samuel Feinberg Suspected of Selling Girl Into "Slavery."

POLICE ASKED TO SEARCH.

Esther Hemmer and Elvira Landahl Missing from Their Homes.

Samuel Feinberg, a bartender, was arrested in a saloon at 90 Canal street yesterday charged with abducting a 15 year old girl from her home at Moline, Ill. He is believed by the police to have sold her to the keeper of a disorderly resort.

The warrant for Feinberg's arrest was sworn out by Attorney Richard Forleigh, who is said to be connected with the People's Protective bureau, 153 Randolph street. Feinberg said the girl's name was Signe Strandlund and that she was 18 years old. He asserted also that he intended marrying her, that she came to Chicago of her own accord, and that she had returned to Moline several days ago.

Search for Two Girls.

The police have been asked to search for Esther Hemmer, 15 years old, 145 Oak street, and Elvira Landahl, 19 years old, 108 Oak street, who disappeared from their homes yesterday morning. The girls told their mothers they were going downtown to search for work. The police think the girls may have become the victims of the "white slave" traffic.

Ex-Patrolman Accused.

Roy J. Ballsbaugh, 22 years old, recently dismissed from the police department as a probationary patrolman, was held to the Criminal court by Municipal Judge Gemmill yesterday. Ballsbaugh was arrested on two charges brought by Genevieve Hagen, 16 years old, 1720 Park avenue.

In denying the accusations Ballsbaugh said he met the girl while he was employed as a street car conductor.

STUDENT MISSING SIX WEEKS THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN FOUND

Blue Grass University Freshman Whose Disappearance Was Laid to Fellow Pupils May Be in Russellville, Ky.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 2.—It is believed that Willis B. Smith, a freshman at the state university who has been missing since Sept. 22, has been found at Russellville, Ky.

A message from Russellville today to L. E. Smith, brother of the missing boy, said the officers there had been for two days shadowing a young man who acted suspiciously. Yesterday he said his name was Harrison, but today when asked point blank if his name was not Smith, he said it was Harry Smith.

He also said he had been in Lexington attending the state university about six weeks ago, but left because of ill treatment at the college. He would not admit that he was the boy for whom the police everywhere have been searching.

Smith's case attracted the attention of the whole country. State university students were accused of making away with him, but rigid inquiry by the faculty and a court grand jury failed to bring out any information.

Smith was also said to have been shipped away in a box car, but a rigid search over the country failed to show any evidence of this contention.

A reward of $200 has been offered for information regarding him by the state university and the accused classmen.

New Land Fraud Hearing Refused.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 2.—The Supreme court today denied the petition of Willard N. Jones and Thaddeus S. Potter for a writ of review. Jones and Potter were sentenced to imprisonment on the charge of defrauding the government by the illegal entry in Oregon of lands under the homestead law.

GERMAN HYSTERIA OVER BUELOW ROW

All Other Questions Forgotten; Many Angrily Demand Chancellor's Retirement.

IRISHMEN'S DANDER UP.

Redmond Suggests Seat Be Arranged for Kaiser in the English Cabinet.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BERLIN, Nov. 2.—The chancellor crisis still occupies the attention of German people to the exclusion of everything else. One considerable section of opinion, supported by a large number of newspapers throughout the country, angrily clamors for Prince von Bülow's immediate retirement.

Another section admits the situation is serious, but hold that a change in chancellors at the moment when the recent grave European crisis is only temporarily lulled and German financial affairs are in a serious state would be detrimental to this country.

The third section demands a complete change in the system of government, with the chancellor effectually protected from the personal interference of the sovereign.

Possible Successors to Buelow.

Rumor is busy with the names of possible new chancellors, among which those of Herr Dernburg, director of the colonial office, and Baron Marschall von Bieberstein, now ambassador to Turkey, are conspicuous.

Official announcement that Herr von Schoen, the foreign secretary, will be replaced during his illness by Herr von Kiderlin-Waechter, at present minister to Roumania, is taken as confirming the suspicion that Herr von Schoen is to be the scapegoat of the publication of the kaiser's interview. Herr Stemrich, under secretary of the minister of foreign affairs, also is picked out as likely to share his chief's fall.

Lost Favor by Joking Wilhelm.

Herr von Kiderlen-Waechter, who is known for his wit, was formerly one of Emperor William's most intimate friends. This was when he was stationed at Hamburg, but he came into certain disfavor because he made his majesty the object of an untimely jest. As a result he was transferred to Bucharest, but he has since won back his position of confidence.

"Bobe'" Friends Angry at Wilhelm.

LONDON, Nov. 2.—It became evident today that the plan of campaign for ending the Boer war which was drawn up by Emperor William and sent to Queen Victoria, according to the interview with his majesty that appeared last week in the Daily Telegraph, was not communicated to the British war office.

This matter has aroused the ire of the Irishmen, who affect to see therein an attempt to rob their fellow countryman, Lord Roberts, of the glory attached to his success. William Redmond, the nationalist, heckled War Secretary Haldane on the subject in the house of commons this afternoon.

Suggests Cabinet Job for Kaiser.

The secretary replied that the archives of the war office contained no such document, and that he could find no record of its ever having been in the possession of anybody connected with the department.

Mr. Redmond wound up his questions by suggesting that Mr. Haldane propose to Premier Asquith the propriety of offering Emperor William a seat in the British cabinet, thereby making the situation regular.

ACTRESS ENDS LIFE FOR LOVE.

Takes Poison When Young Man of Alameda Breaks Engagement and Returns Gifts.

Alameda, Cal., Nov. 2.—Miss Ida Beamer, an actress, said to belong to a wealthy family in Pennsylvania, died today at a sanitarium in Alameda from the effects of an overdose of morphine. The police believe the woman committed suicide because of a love affair.

It is generally declared that Miss Beamer, who recently came to San Francisco with a comic opera company from Chicago, was infatuated with a young man of this city and that she was engaged to wed him. Three days ago she received a message from him that all was at an end between them.

Later she received by messenger presents which she had given to her betrothed. Since then she became despondent and admitted that there was nothing more in life for her.

Ends Life in Niagara Whirlpool.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Charles A. Hengerer, son of the late William Hengerer, and former vice president of the William Hengerer company, one of the largest department stores in Buffalo, committed suicide here today by jumping into the river and going over the falls. No cause for suicide is known.

CZAR URGES SERVIAN PEACE

Russia Promises Moral Support, but Won't Risk Fight.

CROWN PRINCE BEARS WORD.

Peter's Government Disclaims War Intentions with Austria.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 2.—Crown Prince George of Servia left this evening for Belgrade, taking with him an autograph letter from the czar to King Peter, in which it is understood the czar reaffirms Russia's sympathy with the southern Slavs, and assures King Peter that Russia's efforts will be directed toward tranquilizing the situation by pacific means.

That Russia has no present intention of risking hostilities with Austria in behalf of Servian aspirations was made clear by a semi-official declaration stating among other things that the Russian government fully sympathizes with Servia and is willing to give her moral support.

Must Be Careful of Acts.

"This, however, depends directly upon the Servian course of action," the declaration adds, "and whether she refrains from every incautious and inconsiderate step which can in any degree be regarded as provocation. This has been made clear to Crown Prince George and ex-Minister Pasitch by the Russian minister at Belgrade."

M. Homiakoff has replied sympathetically to the recent message from the president of the Servian skupshtina, saying that a peaceful solution of the crisis will alone permanently assure Slavdom's future. M. Pasitch remains here. He probably will replace the present Servian minister.

Crown Prince George on the eve of his departure said:

"We are advised to wait. We certainly will, because we are in the right and the law is on our side. But if the resolutions of the conference or other events are not in our favor we are determined to proceed at our own risk. We will never consent to perish silently."

Servian Declaration of Peace.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

BELGRADE, Nov. 2.—King Peter presided over two cabinet meetings today to consider the urgent advice from Great Britain, France, Russia, and Italy to check the popular war clamor.

Subsequently the government published a declaration affirming that Servia does not intend to go to war or to provoke Austria. It says the government has done its utmost to protect Austrian interests. It repressed the anti-Austrian demonstrations, although Austria mobilized troops on the Servian frontier and prevented not only war material but merchandise from entering the country.

It adds that Servia awaits the conference hopefully, relying upon her friends to advocate her just cause.

Fear Felt in Austrian Action.

Considerable alarm is felt in official quarters regarding the supposed aggressive intentions of Austria. It is even suggested that preparations are in progress for a sudden attack on Belgrade.

Austria for some time past has been taking measures with the view of a possible aggravation of the situation. War material is being accumulated at various points along the Danube, Save, and Drina rivers. Increased stringency is manifest on the frontier.

Gloomy View Taken by France.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Nov. 2.—The German crisis is considered by the ministry of foreign affairs as rendering the European situation almost hopeless.

French diplomacy has been seconding its conciliatory arguments at Vienna by interviews between M. Cambon, French ambassador at Berlin, with Herr von Schoen, in which the French representative sought to persuade Herr von Schoen to induce Austria to meet Russia for friendly negotiations.

It is realized now that the question of German imperial diplomacy obliterates the idea of all secondary pourparlers in the Balkan crisis.

MARRIAGE WOULD HONOR DUKE.

Clemenceau Says Abruzzi's Alliance with Miss Elkins Would Be a Credit to Royalty.

PENNSY CONTRACT ON ELECTION EVE.

$5,000,000 Plans to Electrify New York Terminals Show Faith in Taft.

PUTS A HALO ON MORSE.

Lawyer Does the Same for Curtis and Talks to Jury of Good Intent.

NEW YORK BUREAU CHICAGO TRIBUNE.
New York, Nov. 2.

Plans for completed electrification of the Pennsylvania railroad terminals in this city were announced today with the signing of a $5,000,000 contract for the work with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company. This followed an important meeting of the Pennsylvania directory in Philadelphia.

Pennsy Makes a $5,000,000 Contract.

Aside from the importance of the contract for the work it involves, the announcement has a political significance, made known through an interview with President George Westinghouse, who announced the signing of the contract. He said: "It was decided at first not to announce the contract at this time, but after arriving here I telephoned President McCrea of the Pennsylvania.

"Of course, we all hope for the election of Taft tomorrow, and I thought this would be a good time to show our confidence."

The contract is for the electrification of the entire Pennsylvania system from Harrison, N. J., to Jamaica, L. I. While the initial amount of apparatus will aggregate $5,000,000, this is said by no means to represent the full amount.

The system of trolley will probably be overhead, and not the so-called third rail system. The engines to be used will be entirely of a new type, and the most powerful in existence. They will resemble closely the steam locomotive now in use and not the type of short locomotive on the New Haven.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr. was sworn in as a member of the November grand jury before Judge Mulqueen in the Court of General Sessions. The jury will consider 428 complaints.

An election day verdict by the jury which is considering the case of Charles W. Morse and Alfred H. Curtis, former officials of the National Bank of North America, on trial in the United States court here charged with violation of the national banking laws, was rendered improbable today. Some time was taken up with arguments on various motions and the beginning of the summing up was delayed long beyond the time which had been tentatively set. Tomorrow, it now appears, will be occupied with the concluding arguments, so the case is not likely to go to the jury before Wednesday.

Lawyers Argue Morse and Curtis Meant Well.

The attorneys for Morse and Curtis today secured the dismissal of the counts in the indictment referring to the Calvin Austin loan of $100,000. Charles E. Littlefield addressed the jury in behalf of Morse and former Judge W. M. K. Olcott for Curtis. Mr. Littlefield argued that Morse's intent was of the best. His client, he protested, was "neither a wrecker nor a coward." In the thickest of the storm, he said, Morse had stood firm, making good every promise and carrying out every agreement. He had met all his obligations; the $210,000 overdraft had been paid, and not a single depositor had suffered loss.

In opening for Curtis, former Judge Olcott said if he had erred it was only in reposing too great a faith in Morse. No motive could be advanced why Curtis should endanger his bank, said Olcott.

The anxiety of the authorities of the American Museum of Natural History regarding the explorers of the Steffansson-Anderson Arctic expedition, who at last reports were short of supplies in the Arctic regions, has been relieved by news from Point Barrow, Alaska. George H. Sherwood, secretary of the museum, announced today that a letter had been received from Mr. Steffansson dated Point Barrow, Aug. 29, saying the expected ships had come in after the ice had broken and that from the whalers about four tons of provisions and other necessaries had been obtained.

Anxiety Regarding Explorers Relieved.

Mr. Sherwood said these provisions would last the expedition two years and that Mr. Steffansson wrote that he had chartered a small sloop and loaded it with supplies and started east. His plan now was to go back to Herschel island and make connections with the rest of the party, Dr. R. M. Anderson and the Esquimaux planning to spend the winter in the Colville river district, west of Flaxman island.

Mr. Steffansson left New York last April to spend a year and a half or two years and a half among the Esquimaux.

Dr. Julian P. Thomas, the aeronaut, who was injured at Morris Park while experimenting with his "wind wagon," will be in bed several weeks, according to a statement made by Mrs. Thomas today. The bruises on his back, his left arm, and left leg were so painful that a complete examination had not been made, and it had not been ascertained whether the leg was fractured. It was not believed that Dr. Thomas' spine was badly injured, as at first reported.

Judge Holt denied a motion in the United States District court today directing Edna Wallace Hopper, the actress, to turn over to ex-Congressman Charles E. Littlefield, receiver for the bankrupt brokerage firm of A. O. Brown & Co., the automobile and life insurance policies which Albert O. Brown, head of the firm, presented to his fiancée before the collapse of the firm.

Battle with Fugitives Looked For.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The Doenering brothers, who escaped from the jail at Madison, where they were held pending hearing on a charge of counterfeiting, have been located in the wilderness near Rhinelander, and as they are dead shots a battle is looked for. Capt. Porter of Chicago probably will have charge of the secret service men who will try to capture the brothers.

RECEIVER FOR BIG CONCERN

Hudson River Company, with $10,000,000 Capital, on Rocks

FUNDED DEBT IS $9,683,500.

Petition Filed Against Southern Life and Accident Insurance.

Norwich, N. Y., Nov. 2.—Receivers were today appointed for the Hudson River Electric Power company, Judge Ray naming Charles W. Andrews of Syracuse, George W. Dunn of Binghamton, and Milton Delano of Canastota.

The corporation was organized in 1903 and controls the Hudson River Water Power company, Hudson River Electric company, and Hudson River Power Transmission company, together with various subcompanies owned by the last two named, supplying central and eastern New York state with power.

The authorized capital stock was $10,000,000, of which $5,390,000 was issued. The total funded debt of the corporation, according to its last statement, was $9,683,500. Net earnings for 1907 were $466,200.

Ten Companies Involved.

Ten companies are included in the receivership. They are known as the Hudson River companies, and their operations extend from Spier falls, on the Hudson river, to Saratoga Springs, Cohoes, Troy, Albany, Schenectady, and as far west as Utica. Their principal business is to operate and transmit electrical power for running machinery, cars, and furnishing light. The president of the companies is Eugene Ashley.

Bonds of the various companies involved to the amount of some ten or twelve millions of dollars are afloat and are held principally in New England and New York City, where many of them were put up as collateral by Edward H. Gay & Co., who recently went into bankruptcy in Boston. Charges of insolvency are made against all of these companies, one, the Hudson River Power company, being the parent, and the others subsidiary. There also are charges of mismanagement and misapplication of funds.

For Southern Life Receivership.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 2.—Upon suit filed in the United States Circuit court here by Charles L. Hilgartner, Andrew Hilgartner, and Addison E. Mullikin, citizens of Maryland, for the appointment of receivers in Virginia for the Southern Life and Accident Insurance company, Judge Waddill today cited the defendant company to appear here Nov. 16 and show cause why a receiver should not be named. This is a suit similar to that brought by the plaintiffs in Chicago Saturday.

MRS. HAINS' SHAME AVERRED IN COURT

Alleged Confession Read in Part by Counsel for the Captain's Brother.

IN A FIGHT FOR DELAY.

Annis' Slayer Represented as Crazed and Yet Unfit to Testify.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Portions of an alleged confession purporting to have been made by Mrs. Peter C. Hains, wife of Capt. Hains, now under indictment with his brother for the murder of William E. Annis, were read in open court for the first time today. John F. McIntyre, who read the document, was surprised into producing it.

The hearing before Supreme Court Justice Aspinwall, sitting in the Flushing court, was to determine District Attorney Darrin's motion that the trial of T. Jenkins Hains be held some time in November. As objections, Mr. McIntyre was urging that three material witnesses for the defense are now on the high seas; that the district attorney had not given the defense proper time to plead to the indictment, and that the stress of his own practice was great just now. Capt. Haine, it was further urged, is an essential witness for his brother, and was mentally in no condition to testify. It was asked that the trial be delayed until January.

District Attorney Darrin, whose term expires at the end of the year, is considered anxious to have some of his work count on the case before he goes out of office.

Alleged Confession Is Sprung.

Doubt being cast on the truth of the contention that Capt. Haine was in no condition to testify, Mr. McIntyre read from his brief extracts which he declared he had taken verbatim from Mrs. Hains' alleged confession.

"On Oct. 20," Mr. McIntyre read, "Capt. Haine left Fort Hamilton and within a month, at the solicitation of William E. Annis, I began improper relations with him."

Details in regard to places visited together followed. The confession was dated May 31.

Arguing from this, it was McIntyre's contion Capt. Hains' mind became unhinged from the revelations alleged. He produced an affidavit made by Dr. L. S. Mann of New York City, who examined into the captain's mental condition at Queens county jail, that Hains was unfit to appear as a witness at this time. The physician's statement added Capt. Hains' condition would likely show improvement if he were kept quiet for three months.

Another Bunch of Affidavits.

Mr. McIntyre sprung another batch of affidavits from three men now said to be on a United States transport bound for Manila. These had to do with a change in Capt. Haines' demeanor induced by letters written in diary form by his wife, which he received upon his return to San Francisco. These affidavits stated the captain was in the best of spirits on the way over and that he talked of nothing but the pleasure it would give him to rejoin his family in the United States.

He received Mrs. Hains' letters at the supper table as the United States transport came to anchor in San Francisco. At once a shocking change came over him, the affidavits say. He sprang up from the table like a madman, dashed out of the room, waiving his arms and yelling incoherently. That night he started east without leave.

After half an hour's recess, in which the court looked over the affidavits and reviewed Mr. McIntyre's points, it was announced definite decision would be given next Monday.

COREY AND WIFE NOT INVITED TO MARRIAGE OF HIS SISTER.

Steel Man's Absence Was to Keep Peace in Family—Sends Check for One Hundred Thousand Dollars to the Bride.

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—William Ellis Corey and his wife, who was Mabelle Gilman, did not attend the wedding of his sister, Ada B. Corey, at Downingtown, Pa., today, but his first wife, whom he divorced to marry the actress, and his son, Alan, did.

A check for $100,000 to the bride from Mr. Corey bore witness that his staying away was rather to keep peace in the family than because of any disapproval. Mrs. Corey sent a beautiful diamond brooch.

Miss Corey married Dr. Charles Howard Aufhammer of Pittsburg, whom she has known since childhood. Mrs. A. A. Corey, the mother, said:

"I have already explained why my son William and his wife were not invited. We care for both of them, but it would not have done. They both understood our reasons and are satisfied."

Dr. and Mrs. Aufhammer will live in Pittsburg. Up to Saturday night he was attached to the staff of the Episcopal hospital.

Sore Throat Not a Trifling Ailment

Almost every one has had sore throat—will have it again. It is one of our most common ailments and, because it, in itself, is not fatal, is too often looked upon as a small matter, requiring little or no attention.

On the contrary it is a very serious affection because every person with Sore Throat is in danger of Tonsilitis, Quinsy, or Diphtheria and other serious maladies. In fact these diseases are almost invariably preceded by Sore Throat.

The air we breathe, the food we eat, the liquids we drink, all pass through the throat, and if that is diseased infection may be carried to every part of the system. To cure a Sore Throat often means to prevent Diphtheria or one of the other more serious throat diseases. Curing Sore Throat is TONSILINE'S special mission. It is made for that—advertised for that—sold for that one purpose. TONSILINE is the one and only Sore Throat cure which is sold over a large part of the United States. TONSILINE is so well and so skillfully prepared as a Sore Throat cure that the first dose gives decided relief, and a very few doses cure.

Remember—Sore throat is Nature's danger signal. Keep TONSILINE in the house and be on the safe side of Sore Throat.

TRYING AUTO COP FOR SHOT AT GIRL.

Judge Mack Hearing Case Against F. Moor, Glencoe's Special Policeman.

VICTIM SAVED BY BUTTON

Tonneau of Henderson Car Perforated by Bullets Shown in Court.

Glencoe speed trappers and Chicago automobilists entered the legal arena again yesterday and renewed their joust of last summer. The latest encounter is in the Criminal court before Judge Mack.

Frank H. Moor, the Glencoe special officer and hero of the villagers, who has been conspicuous in former tilts, is the central figure in this clash. He is on trial charged with assault with a deadly weapon, the same being a revolver, with intent to kill a party that rode through Glencoe last July in T. P. Henderson's machine. One of the bullets from Moor's revolver hit Miss Buena Stribling, but was deflected by a button on her waist and thus prevented from entering her back between the shoulder blades.

Henderson then surrendered after this shot was fired, was arrested, and later fined $25 for speeding. Moor, who was arrested on complaint of Henderson, was dismissed by the Glencoe justice. Henderson then sought the assistance of the state's attorney's office, and as a result Moor was indicted.

Glencoe Throng in Court.

Judge Mack's courtroom was filled with a representative throng of Glencoe people and an equal number of city residents.

The automobilists were represented by the party at which Moor shot, by Dr. George N. Pratt, who attended Miss Stribling when she returned home, Harry N. Nolan, who went on Henderson's bond, Attorney Sidney S. Gorham of the Chicago Automobile club, and a part of the auto, punctured by two bullets from Moor's revolver.

Moor appeared in court attired in clothes of the latest fashion. During the testimony he smiled frequently and conversed with his attorneys.

The first witness called to the stand was Miss Stribling, who since her mishap essayed a career upon the stage. She said she was sitting on the left side of the rear seat when Moor stepped out from behind a bush and raised his hand. When the machine shot past him, she said, he fired three shots. At the third shot she felt a pain in her back and screamed, believing she was shot. On cross examination she admitted that she did seek the services of a physician.

Calls Moor "the Man."

Mrs. Henderson, wife of the automobilist, was the next witness. She was questioned by Assistant State's Attorney John Northrup about the shooting. She referred throughout her testimony to Moor as "the man."

"Describe the incident," asked the state's attorney.

"I first noticed the man when he passed in front of me. He raised his hand and pulled back his coat. We passed him, and the next instant three shots were fired, one of which struck Miss Stribling. Then the man came up after we had stopped, and said he could not have hurt us, as he fired only wax bullets. Another man appeared with him, and, in spite of Miss Stribling's serious predicament, they seemed utterly unconcerned about her condition. The first man placed his pistol at the head of my husband, and when Mr. Henderson protested he put it on the tire of one of the wheels."

"What sort of a day was it?"

"Bright."

"You saw where the two bullets struck the tonneau?"

"Yes, sir."

Tonneau Shown in Court.

The tonneau was then introduced in the case and was promptly objected to by Attorney Morton Culver, representing Moor, on the ground that the whole car should be brought in before the witness could testify. Judge Mack overruled the objection and the places where the bullets struck were pointed out by Mrs. Henderson. She also identified the bullet that struck Miss Stribling.

On cross examination Attorney Culver brought out the fact that the party had refused medical aid in Glencoe, and that they had not called a physician for Miss Stribling till they returned to Chicago the following Monday.

Henderson was also given a sharp cross examination by Culver. He had the witness detail the number of times he had been arrested for speeding.

Dr. George N. Pratt testified next and said that he had treated Miss Stribling for two weeks after her return. He said that the young woman was in a highly nervous condition and that her back where the bullet struck was sore and sensitive.

Boudsman in Debtors' Court.

The next witness was Harry Nolan, who admitted upon Culver's questioning that he had had little property when he signed Henderson's bond.

"Is it true that you didn't have $400 when you signed the paper?"

"No. No, my household articles and all that would amount to more."

"Were you not summoned to the debtor's court recently and there didn't you say that you only possessed a watch worth a couple of dollars and a pair of diamond cuff buttons?"

"Yes, outside of my exemptions."

The defense will begin its side of the case tomorrow.

Domestic Dies Following Quarrel in a Boarding House.

ALLEGED SLAYER AT LARGE.

Police Expect, However, to Soon Arrest Missing Man.

Dominick Yahus, 27 years old, is sought by the police, who charge him with the murder of Barbara Yonaship, a domestic, who was found shot to death in a Lithuanian rooming house yesterday morning at 51 West Fifteenth place.

The shooting is said to have terminated an afternoon's carousal, indulged in by the dead woman, Dominick Yahus, Frank Yahus, and Mrs. John Yonaship, a sister-in-law of the victim of the shooting.

Frank Yahus and Mrs. Yonaship are under arrest at the Maxwell street station. Both admitted that they were present when the shot was fired, but assert that the killing of the Yonaship girl was accidental.

Dominick, the brother of the prisoner, who, they declare, fired the fatal shot, escaped from the rooming house.

Says Victim Was Peacemaker.

"It was an accident," explained Frank Yahus in his cell. "My brother Dominick and I quarreled at 6 o'clock last evening and he fired a revolver at me. As he fired Barbara, who was in the room, ran between us to separate us. We did not know even then that she was shot. Dominick never meant to shoot her.

"After the shot was fired she lay down on the bed and went to sleep and we went away."

The version Mrs. Yonaship, the dead woman's sister-in-law, tells is as follows:

"The Yahus brothers had been at the rooming house with us all day yesterday. About 6 o'clock they quarreled over my sister-in-law. Dominick drew a revolver and fired at his brother. As he did so Barbara sprang between the men. We did not know the bullet hit her. She lay down and went to sleep. Now the doctors tell us that she bled to death."

Alleged Murderer Evades Police.

Police of the city scoured the west side factories and shops yesterday and last night in search of the alleged murderer. Inspector Dorman declared, however, that he expects to have the man in custody within twenty-four hours.

Although the shooting took place at 6 o'clock Sunday evening the police obtained their first information after 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Other occupants of the building broke into the dead woman's room and notified the police.

The woman was found lying in bed clad in a nightgown. The garment had been burned by powder and the bed clothing was saturated with blood.

DECLARE DE VINE CONFIDENCE MAN.

Alleged Draft Manipulator Identified as "Parker," Who Got $32,000 in Boston.

WIFE'S FAITH UNSHAKEN.

Despite Statements of Stenographers Young Bride Believes in Prisoner.

Two young women yesterday walked into Edwin C. De Vine's field of high finance and crushed his hopes of side stepping his second identity as "Richard F. Parker." The broker, who is declared to have played such a prominent part in draft "kiting" manipulations, amounting to $125,000, was positively identified by the women as the "Parker" who secured $32,000 worth of bonds by means of a bogus check in Boston.

But this positive identification and the assertions of the accusing witnesses still failed to shake the faith of the young woman who stood in the cell when De Vine passed through the ordeal—his bride of five months.

Mrs. De Vine turned appealingly to those she felt so sure had mistakenly identified her husband as a confidence man, then, seeing how futile were her words, she fell hysterically into the arms of her husband.

Prisoner's Appearance Is Changed.

When A. E. Turner, head of the Boston brokerage house of Turner & Co., arrived in Chicago in the morning with his two stenographers, Misses Ida M. Smith and Marie Barrett, they went immediately to the county jail to see De Vine. Detectives Sibel and Decker preceded them to the prisoner's cell, and on calling him out discovered that in the brief week in which he had been there his entire appearance had changed.

His face was covered with a black growth of beard, his suit of the latest cut had given place to a baggy pair of overalls, and his head was shaded by a big slouch hat. Instead of the jaunty air that had gained the confidence of La Salle street brokers he shuffled along like the other prisoners.

"That man's trying to disguise himself," said Detective Decker.

Investigation showed that he had borrowed the clothes from a cellmate and had donned them apparently in order to avoid identification. The jail barber, however, succeeded in scraping away that portion of the disguise which covered his face, and the finding of his own clothes completed the return of a normal appearance.

Identifies De Vine as "Parker."

A few minutes later the two young women were led into his cell. Mrs. De Vine, who had awaited their arrival, continued to press her husband's hand, hopeful that there was some mistake. This hope was removed a moment later when Miss Barrett declared that De Vine was the man who had committed the bond frauds.

"That's Parker beyond a doubt," said she.

"Yes, I would know him anywhere," assented Miss Smith.

"O, but it can't be," exclaimed the agonized Mrs. De Vine, as she turned to the two young women.

"Do you realise what this means to him—an innocent man?" she said. "You are mistaken. Tell them that you are before it is too late."

The two women hesitated, then repeated their assertions that there could be no mistake.

"But he hasn't been in Boston," continued the young wife. "I married him here. O, Edwin, what can they mean?"

Mrs. De Vine turned again to the women, but they were leaving. Then, unable to stand the mental strain under which she had been laboring for days, she fell into her husband's arms.

De Vine, however, did not appear at all perturbed by the identification. He comforted his wife and at the same time protested that he was innocent.

"I will have no trouble showing these people that they are making an awful error, dearie," he said. "Don't worry any more about the matter."

Props Knocked from Defense.

In the meantime Judge Mack knocked another prop out of his plan for a defense. De Vine's attorney had appealed for his release upon a writ of habeas corpus, attempting to establish his alibi. Judge Mack, however, decided that such a defense could be made only in Boston, where the crime was committed.

The two young women who identified De Vine were in the office of Turner & Co. in Boston about two years ago when the elusive "Parker" carried on a transaction with Mr. Turner which resulted in the passing of a bogus $32,000 check. In return for the check he secured gilt edged railroad bonds.

De Vine is declared to have maintained offices in Boston under the name of Parker. He secured the offices and assumed this name, the police assert, merely to establish himself sufficiently to gain the confidence of Turner.

NEED SCHOOLS ON WEST SIDE

Cooley Says Situation Will Require Drastic Measures.

NO PROVISION FOR GROWTH.

Indiana Doctor Commends Schneider's Stand Concerning Football.

"The population of the west side is going to swamp the school system in a few years, even with the new buildings provided for, unless we take some drastic measures to meet the situation," said E. G. Cooley, superintendent of schools, yesterday. "Few Chicagoans realize as we are forced to the rate at which foreigners are pouring in over there," he continued. "The most startling growth has come within the last two or three years, and although the school buildings in many cases are placed within a few blocks of each other, every one not only is full but overflowing."

The "new buildings" referred to by Mr. Cooley are included in his plan, approved last week by the buildings and grounds committee, for spending $8,000,000 on new buildings within the next two years. A large proportion of these new buildings will be located on the west side.

Growth Not Provided For.

"That list sounded like an impressive one, and it is," the superintendent said, "but it really provides for little in the way of growth. It simply will give adequate accommodations for some of the children who are not properly provided for now.

"The city has a grave problem to face over there. Russian Jews, Italians, Bohemians, and Lithuanians are coming into the city by the thousand. They land along Halsted street and, then gradually they move west. The ghetto has been moving west for years, forced out by the population behind it, and the other nationalities are doing the same thing.

"Since I became superintendent we have been putting up new buildings and additions over there continually—some fifteen or twenty altogether. Recently things took a fresh start. Two years ago, for example, we abandoned the old Corkery school and found we had several empty rooms in the Whitney building at West Twenty-eighth street and Fortieth court. Within a short time we had to reopen the Corkery school, and now both buildings are overflowing—basement playrooms used for classrooms, outside playgrounds occupied with portables, and several of the rooms in half day divisions.

"To the northwest there are the Scandinavians, and to the southwest, west of Englewood, there is a growth that no one not familiar with the situation knows anything about. We must do big things if we are going to provide for the children in the city."

Against College Football.

President Schneider's remarks on football and American sports in general, published in THE TRIBUNE a day or two ago, brought an emphatic commendation from an Evansville (Ind.) physician in the morning. In a letter to Mr. Schneider Dr. W. S. Pollard wrote:

Your strictures on baseball and football are timely and true. Both should be prohibited, not only in the public schools, but also in the universities and colleges. Parents are not interested in such things.

Your stand against these games should be approved by all parents who are endeavoring to educate their sons. I am a victim of this grievous policy permitted in the universities. My son and only child contracted that disease (baseball craze) while attending a university, and as a result his prospects for a useful professional career have been blighted.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 3, 1908.

WATCH the searchlight tonight.

IF it moves around on the level it means Taft.

IF it wabbles uncertainly up and down it means Bryan.

IMPORTANT to voters: Don't overlook that little ballot.

MR. ROCKEFELLER may get huffy now and decide not to vote at all.

STRANGE and exciting news comes from Lincoln. Mr. Bryan has quit talking.

IF Mr. Taft should happen to be elected by merely a small plurality Mr. Roger Sullivan and Mr. Boeschenstein will lay the entire blame on the Vanderbilt system.

ON the other hand, if Taft is elected by an overwhelming majority, Mr. Rockefeller will feel justified in claiming a large share of the credit.

AT any rate, ex-Gov. Frank Black of New York feels better. He has succeeded in getting that speech on President Roosevelt out of his system.

PERMIT us at this point to remind you of the importance of voting yes on that little ballot.

EVEN if he should fail of being elected president, Mr. Bryan will have the satisfaction of remembering that he has had a splendid time. He never made so many speeches in his life.

AFTER all, the question is not "Shall the people rule?" It is this: "Shall Mr. Gompers rule?"

AT a late hour last night Chairman Mack was claiming everything he thought he needed.

UNDOUBTEDLY the breaking down of that engine last Saturday night was a part of a hideous scheme by the Vanderbilts to keep Mr. Bryan from closing his campaign in a blaze of glory and red fire.

AN esteemed New York contemporary has discovered that John D. Rockefeller is the Burchard of this campaign. But there is a wide dissimilarity between Judge Taft and the late James G. Blaine, while Mr. Bryan lacks a great deal of being a Grover Cleveland.

TODAY Statesman Roger Sullivan and the Hon. Bill Lorimer will be found working cheek by jowl "for the honor of Illinois."

IF you have not seen any of those George Washington and William Jennings Bryan interconvertible folders you have missed one of the best jokes of the campaign.

THE voters of Missouri, we trust, will remember that the eyes of the whole country will be upon them today, at intervals.

REPORTS from every county in Illinois enable us to say authoritatively that George Washington McCaskrin will not be elected governor.

CANDIDATE DEBS, so far as can be ascertained from the dispatches, has gone unkissed through the entire campaign.

OHIO and Indiana, after a severe struggle with the political spellbinders, are reported as resting easily this morning.

THE deep waterway ought not to have an enemy, but it needs the votes of all its friends.

IT should occasion no surprise if Mr. Hoist appears at some voting place this morning for the purpose of reading a few letters he has just found in one of the inside pockets of his other coat.

YOU have heard of Jake Kern, have you not? Well, this is the same Jake Kern.

SHALL the PEOPLE rule? Watch the searchlight this evening.

IT is all over now.

BUT the voting.

THE LAST OF THE OLD REGIME.

With the death of Mrs. William Astor New York has lost the last of its old society leaders. This daughter of the old Dutch aristocracy of Manhattan held to the ideals of an earlier and saner day, and her influence could not fail of being kindly and healthy.

She believed that society established what claim it might have to recognition by genuine excellence of mind and manners. That which she recognized was not a society of ostentation, of eccentricity, of rich vulgarity, or of uncertain morals.

Until the beginning of her illness in 1906 Mrs. Astor had maintained a leadership in both New York and Newport, but ... the ... cles which have given the latter place its name for freakish entertainments and insane amusements and the former its name for matrimonial infelicity.

AN ACTUAL CONVERSATION.

"Good morning. I suppose you will find time to vote tomorrow?"

It was the greeting of a well dressed woman to a prosperous looking man.

"No. I am not going to vote."

"Why! How is that?"

"I don't like my party's candidate for governor. I don't want to vote for him and it is too much trouble to fix the ballot when you want to scratch. Then, you know, they sell the polling lists to advertising fakers, and the result is that your mail box gets filled up with all sorts of stuff. Besides, the jury lists are made up out of the names of the voters, and I don't want to be bothered in that way."

Then the conversation was shifted to Ibsen, Nazimova, and "The Doll's House." But the enforced listener sitting near by thought of the column heading he had just noticed, "Only Cowards Fail to Vote, Says Bishop," and of the strong declaration underneath those words that it is treason and lack of patriotism which cause voters to stay away from the polls.

The "undesirable citizen" is a phrase which has had a good deal of prominence in recent months. In original application it had another type in view. But it is difficult to imagine a more undesirable citizen than the man who declines to meet the responsibilities which a republican form of government imposes upon the individual, lest, perchance, some personal inconvenience attend the act. Perhaps "cowardice" is a wrong word to use. But Bishop Fallows is right in his notion that men of this type would not be found where bullets are flying if the country called for volunteers to protect its liberties on the field of battle.

SUBSIDIZING THE PRESS.

While in congress Mr. Joseph C. Sibley was the Washington correspondent for the Standard Oil company. He was continually giving Mr. John D. Archbold news and advice. One of his suggestions might have been of service to the Standard and allied interests if it could have been carried out. He recommended "the education of public sentiment" so that the country might receive coldly the measures which he saw early in 1905 it was the intention of President Roosevelt to urge upon congress. It seemed necessary to Mr. Sibley that the industrial and transportation companies should get together and start a back fire. There was need, he thought, of an efficient literary bureau and "a permanent and healthy control of the Associated Press and kindred avenues." At a later day the railroads, probably of their own motion, started a literary bureau which did not do them much good.

What Mr. Archbold thought of Mr. Sibley's plan to buy control of the Associated Press and color the news is not known. Probably he saw how impossible it would be and made no move in that direction. But he appreciated the value of friendly newspapers and was ready to bid for their support whenever a certificate of deposit would do the work. The first batch of Mr. Archbold's correspondence showed him ready to lend $50,000 to a protégé of Senator Foraker who was after an influential Ohio newspaper. From the latest batch it appears that the Standard paid $3,000 for a year's subscription to a $4 a year publication. Another publication got a $5,000 certificate of deposit for a year's subscription. A magazine which professes to discuss economic questions in a large and intelligent way got an additional allowance of $5,000 for its "excellent work."

With comparatively few exceptions the newspapers of this country have denounced the Standard Oil company and its methods so vigorously as to clear them from all suspicion of being subsidized. But how about the exceptions? It has been proved that the Standard Oil company was ready to reward publications that would sing its song. The names of only a few Standard Oil organs have been published. There must be more. The public would like to see a complete list.

NATIONAL BANK DIRECTORS.

The controller of the currency has sent a list of troublesome questions to each national bank director. One of them is as to his familiarity with the national bank act. It is said that since the controller sent out his queries there has been an unexampled demand for copies of the law. The natural presumption is that it never has been perused by many of those who should be thoroughly acquainted with its requirements and its penalties.

Any director who is able to answer in the affirmative all the searching questions put by the controller may be set down as a man who understands his business and whose bank is safe. There are many to whom this description does not apply. There are honorary directors who are put in merely because they have respectable names that may draw business. There are dummy directors picked out by the man who controls the bank because they may be depended on not to look curiously into its affairs or attempt to stop him if he should enter upon forbidden ways. If all the sham directors could be weeded out and the genuine article substituted for them a national bank failure would be a startling event.

That the controller of the currency will be able to bring about a general reform is not to be expected. His circular will, however, awaken some easy going directors to a sense of responsibility. They will either acquaint themselves with their duties and perform them, or give up positions which for one or another reason they cannot fill properly. A director who does all the controller of the currency wishes him to must give more time to the work than many men in active business think they can afford to give.

The catechising of directors, which will be of advantage to national banks, will be of equal advantage to state banks. Therefore the state auditor should pattern after the controller of the currency and try to find out something about the banking attainments of the directors of institutions which are working under Illinois charters. Not all of them are fit for their places.

THE BLAME FOR EPIDEMIC.

"Every case of contagious disease results from somebody's violation of the law."

That is a little comment made by the health department officials as they announce the end of the epidemic of typhoid "back of the yards" and in West Pullman.

Milk dealers violate the law when they furnish supplies from insanitary dairies. Physicians violate the law when they fail to report cases of contagious disease. Parents violate the law when they try to keep secret conditions in the home which should be known throughout the neighborhood.

The attitude of parents is easily understood. There are some things connected with the presence of a contagious disease in the home that are not pleasant. The trouble and unpleasantness may be reduced somewhat by keeping silence. But there is another side. A mother discovered that her child had scarlet fever. She called it measles. No doctor was consulted. The child returned to school in a short time. Result: Twenty-four cases of scarlet fever in the neighborhood.

For the physician who fails to report as the law requires there is no excuse. Unsparing condemnation is the only thing suited to the case of one who pretends to be devoted to the bettering of health and the saving of human life and yet, for any reason whatever, conceals facts that ought to be proclaimed from the housetops.

The offending milk dealer, likewise, is beyond the pale of sympathy. He knows well the connection between insanitary dairies and the health of a community. The relationship between the milk supply and the life of helpless children is clearly established. The man or woman who sells tainted milk is a public enemy to be punished by fine or revocation of license. The effects of selling poison are no less certain than those of selling impure milk.

Public sentiment will support the board of health in its vigorous campaign against offenders of every type. The good citizen is the one who will coöperate in every way in protecting his neighbors from epidemics.

IN A MINOR KEY.

Setting a Good Example.

"Well, old man, have you decided how you are going to vote?"

"Yes; early and once."

The Professor Quibbles.

The Doctor—"Do you think Bryan is quite right in his mind nowadays?"

The Professor—"Why, yes; he's always quite right—in his mind."

Sympathy.

Mrs. Goodsole—"I told the editors of that paper I didn't want them to print my picture, but they went right ahead and did it!"

Mrs. Chillicon-Kearney—"Yes; it was a mean trick. The picture looked just like you, too, didn't it?"

In the Congress of the Future.

The honorable member from the Third district of Arixico arose to address the house.

"Mr. Speaker," he said, "to revive an ancient and obsolete slogan, I wish to say that the old question still confronts us—'Shall the people rule?'—"

Instantly a multitude of women, who had packed the galleries, rose to their feet, waved banners, and shouted:

"They don't!"
"Half of the people are disfranchised!"
"Votes for women!"
"Give us the ballot!"
"We demand our rights!"
"Suffrage for women!"
"Give us the ballot!"
"Votes for women!"
"Women demand their rights!"

The speaker ordered the galleries cleared, but there were not men enough to enforce the order. The session broke up in confusion, and the honorable members fled for their lives.

The American suffragette had broken loose.

Alliteration Appropriate Again.

An Austrian army, awfully arrayed,
Boldly by battery besieged Belgrade;
Cossack commanders cannonading come,
Dealing destruction's devastating doom.
Every endeavor engineers essay
For fame, for fortune—fighting, furious fray—
Generals 'gainst generals grapple—gracious God!
How honors heaven heroic hardihood!
Infuriate, indiscriminate in ill,
Kinsmen kill kinsmen—kinsmen kindred kill!
Labor low levels loftiest, longest lines,
Men march 'mid mounds, mid moles, 'mid murderous mines.
Now noisy, noxious numbers notice nought
Of outward obstacles opposing ought;
Poor patriots, partly purchased, partly pressed,
Quite quaking, quickly quarter, quarter quest.
Reason returns, religious right redounds,
Suwarrow stops such sanguinary sounds;
Truce to thee, Turkey! triumph to thy train!
Unjust, unwise, unmerciful Ukraine!
Vanish vain victory! vanish victory vain!
Why wish we warfare? Wherefor welcome we Xerxes, Ximes, Xanthus, Xavier?
Yield, ye youths! ye yeomen yield your yell!
Zeno's, Zarpatus', Zoroaster's zeal,
And all attracting—arms against appeal.

The doctor sat in his office,
O, a doctor young was he,
And his waiting and consulting rooms
Were as bare as bare could be.
But the doctor's heart was warm and glad,

A certain cure for the blues he had:

A young M. E. sat at his desk

And never and never an order came

But the engineer had never a frown,
But murmured, "Wait till I own the town!"

PRINCE NICHOLAS of Montenegro is reported on good authority to have decided upon proclaiming himself king or czar of the Black Mountain, thus following the example of Ferdinand of Bulgaria. It will be difficult for the great powers to offer any opposition. The objections which existed in the case of Ferdinand, who was a vassal of the sultan with regard to Bulgaria and a mere Turkish governor general as far as eastern Rumelia was concerned, do not exist in the case of Nicholas, who owes allegiance to no other ruler. In one word, his assumption of the title of king or czar does not involve the casting off of a suzerainty, as it did with Ferdinand.

Not that the kings of Great Britain and of Italy, nor the emperors of Russia, Germany, and Austria can view the matter with approval. For there is no doubt that the assumption of the title of king by the former princes of the Balkan states has contributed to bring the dignity into ridicule and contempt, royalty in that portion of Europe suggesting comic opera rather than majesty save at Bucharest, where the action of Charles in assuming a crown made not of gold but of steel taken from the cannon captured from the enemy on victorious battlefields by Roumanian soldiers lent a certain impressiveness to the ceremony of his coronation as king.

We are supposed to be in a democratic age. But if Prince Nicholas proclaims himself king Montenegro will be the thirteenth kingdom to have come into existence within the last hundred years—an ominous number, that of thirteen. Six of these kingdoms—Bavaria, Saxony, Würtemberg, The Netherlands, Westphalia, and Hanover—were the outcome of the Napoleonic wars. Belgium was the result of the breaking off in 1831 of the uncongenial union with Holland.

Greece, Bulgaria, Roumania, Servia, and now Montenegro are directly or indirectly the result of the disintegration of the Ottoman empire in Europe, while the revival of the kingdom of Norway three years ago, after many centuries of subordination to Denmark and Sweden, was the climax of national ill will and resentment against the latter. During the same period of time four kingdoms have vanished from the scene—namely: those of Naples, of Westphalia, of Hanover, and of France. It is noteworthy that only one of these extinct kingdoms has become a republic—namely: France—which would go to show that, in spite of all that is asserted to the contrary, the trend of the old world is towards monarchy rather than towards democracy.

A general impression seems to prevail abroad that the present dynasty of Montenegro is of as modern and plebeian origin as that of the Karageorgevitches, now reigning in Servia, and of the house of Obrenovitch, which became extinct with the murder of the late King Alexander. This assumption has largely been strengthened by disloyal Italians, who have been in the habit of abusing their charming and beautiful queen, Helen, as a mere Montenegrin goatherd.

The contrary is the case. For whereas the first Karageorgevitches were common swineherds a hundred years ago, the dynasty of the Petrovic has reigned over the Black mountain for near 300 years. Nicholas, indeed, can boast of being a direct descendant of the warriors who fought under the Balsas in the eleventh and twelfth centuries against the Turks. George Balsa, last of his line, died in 1421, and Stefan Crnojevic, a connection of the family, was chosen as prince of the Black mountain in his stead.

In 1516 the last descendant of this national hero resigned his power into the hands of the Metropolitan Vavil, with whom commenced the curious vladikas, or prince bishops of Montenegro. The office remained elective until 1696, when, after a severe defeat by the Turks, Danilo Petrovic was chosen vladika or prince bishop. The people had by that time become alive to the necessity of having hereditary rulers if the existence of their country was to be preserved, and as the vladika or prince bishop was not allowed to marry, it was arranged that the bishop should always be chosen from the Petrovic family and that his eldest nephew should in each instance be entitled to the succession.

Prince Bishop Peter Petrovic, who defeated the Turks and also routed the troops sent against him by the first Emperor Napoleon, died in 1830, when he was succeeded by his nephew, Peter II. The latter was the last of the prince bishops, for his nephew and successor, Prince Danilo II., separated the civil from the ecclesiastical functions and married the lovely Darinka, daughter of a noble Slav family of Trieste. But he had no son, and on his assassination in 1860 he was succeeded by his nephew, the present ruler of Montenegro, who is now becoming its king, and of whom Gladstone was wont to say that he was the most gifted and remarkable man of his acquaintance, while Alexander III. publicly proclaimed him as his only reliable and true friend.

Lord Fitzmaurice's promotion to a seat in the cabinet as chancellor of the duchy of Lancaster serves to recall the attempts which were made to shelve and to sidetrack him at the time when, after the defeat of the conservative-liberal-union coalition, the late Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman was engaged in the formation of his liberal administration. Sir Henry, like other premiers before him when engaged in a task of this kind, was confronted by the disagreeable necessity of having to intimate, as suavely as possible, to veteran members of his party that they were no longer wanted; that younger men, and above all newer men, were needed, and that their pretensions could not be entertained.

Lord Edmond Fitzmaurice, as he was then, was included among those thus slated for relegation to obscurity, and an offer was made to placate him with a peerage. He, however, refused to submit to such treatment, and displayed so much pertinacity that on the nomination of Sir Edward Grey to the secretaryship of state for foreign affairs Lord Edmond was reappointed to his old place as under secretary, with the mission of representing his department and Sir Edward Grey's views in the house of lords. In order to do this it was necessary that he should be a member of the upper chamber, and accordingly he was accorded the peerage which he had previously declined.

So well has he done his work at the foreign office and in the house of lords that the government has realized that his inclusion in the administration was a piece of good fortune, and his promotion to cabinet rank now comes in the order of well deserved recognition of excellent services.

Lord Fitzmaurice is the only brother of Lord Lansdowne, who is the liberal-unionist leader in the house of lords and who was minister of foreign affairs in the Balfour cabinet. So that the world has been treated for the last two years to the spectacle of two brothers interested in the same department of government—namely: the foreign office, one as its former chief, the other as its official representative and mouthpiece—combating one another from opposite sides of the house of lords.

Lord Edmond, who on being raised to the peerage took the title of Lord Fitzmaurice, is an odd looking, clean shaven, bald pated man, credited with a strain of the blood of both Louis XV. of France and of the great Talleyrand on the maternal side of the house, to which ancestry he doubtless is indebted for his marvelous knowledge of French. This has been of inestimable use to him in the many foreign missions in which he has been employed.

He is not only a singularly discreet and able diplomat but also a clever debater and a gifted writer, among the best known of his books being his interesting "Life of the Earl Granville." He was married for a time to an American woman, a Miss Caroline Fitzgerald, daughter of William John Fitzgerald of Litchfield, Conn., and 51 Fifth avenue, New York. But the marriage was annulled after five years of matrimony, Lady Edmond Fitzmaurice resuming her maiden name.

Paradox of the American Boy.

In America I have been confounded by the astuteness, the intelligence, and the zest for knowledge manifested by boys who are leaving school and about to enter college or business. They know, so far as book learning goes, far more than the average English boy, but their ignorance of the world always struck me as astounding.—Horace Annesley Vachell in Pall Mall Magazine.

APPEAL TO COLORED VOTERS.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I cannot too severely condemn any effort to influence us negroes to withdraw from the principles of the republican party. At this critical moment can we lose our sanity and be led over a political precipice which will surely hurl us to a political death from which there can never be any resurrection? I trust not, I pray not. Some among us charge the republican party with infidelity and advocate the support of an avowed enemy rather than support a false friend. I do not seek to condone crime, it matters not under what administration the wrong may have been committed. We will always have them and must always forgive them. But I should much prefer to vote for the person or party which has been a friend of mine for fifty years than vote for the person or party which has been my constant enemy for fifty years with prospects of being my enemy fifty more years.

Let us not, as Afro-Americans, be deluded into the idea that by fleeing to the democratic wing we will find shelter and protection. May tomorrow find us presenting a solid phalanx advocating the doctrines and principles of the party of our fathers and forefathers.

ELIJAH J. GENTRY.

LIKE THE IRISHMAN IN LOVE.

Polo, Ill., Oct. 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In 1896 and 1900 W. J. Bryan chased the country over preaching the fallacy of free silver, and is now rounding up a national junket advocating another pipe dream—government security of bank deposits—while the rest of the party, as formerly, is as much mixed up what to do as the Irishman who had made a date with his best girl and because she failed to keep it wrote her as follows:

"My Darling Nora: I met you last night and you never came. I will meet you again tonight, whether you come or whether you stay away. If I am there first I will write my name on the gate post. If you are there first wipe it out and no one will be the wiser. I will always be found at the trysting place, darling. For faith, I cannot keep away from the spot where you are, whether you're there, or whether you're not. Your own Mike."

SAYS SWEATING CURES SCARLET FEVER.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Apropos of the prevalence of scarlet fever in Chicago I had three sisters and a brother die in one day from this disease and have cured my children of it in twenty-four hours. The former were treated by the attending physicians, who applied bags of ice to the base of the brain. The latter were given a good sweat as soon as the disease was so diagnosed.

The doctor who prescribed this treatment said that it would cure every case unless the patient was dying. He also stated that no child would or could contract the disease if given a sweat when exposed to the disease.

The manner of producing the perspiration does not matter, as one way is just as good as another. If parents who fear this disease will take heed of the above they need have no worry on account of it.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S ADVICE.

O'Fallon, Ill., Oct. 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Figuratively speaking, I was in at the birth of the republican party. I voted for Fremont and on down for each of our party presidential candidates. I was well acquainted with Lincoln, and after his nomination in 1860 he and Joseph Medill, the founder of THE TRIBUNE, asked me to work a little among my classes, the farmers and workingmen, for our party and cause. I did so, and in my humble way at every general election since I have given the cause like service and several hundred dollars in hard earned money for honest campaign expenses, never accepting any offices, though the party generously tendered them. I worked for the good cause, its triumph being better than money and honors. When I went out to work Lincoln said among other things to always tell the voters to "vote for an enemy and against a friend, if the interests and duty to the great cause required it." And this message appeals to every republican voter today as if it were Lincoln's voice coming from the grave. It is easy when we have no factions to stand by your party ticket, but now that it will test our loyalty and devotion, let us all forget factions and vote as Lincoln would have us to do.

PRAISES COOK COUNTY BOARD.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In an editorial on Oct. 29 you lauded William Busse, now president of the county board. With all due respect to Mr. Busse how about the present board? Look up the records and you will find a no better commission; a body of men devoting all their time and energies to the welfare of the people. Although a democrat, I firmly believe we should reëlect such tried out men as now comprise the present board.

EDWARD F. CONDON.

SAYS TAFT IS REAL CHRISTIAN.

Sweetwater, Tex., Oct. 27.—[Editor of the Tribune.]—I am sorry to see a few people out in opposition to Judge William H. Taft on account of his religious belief.

The splendid Christian character of Mr. Taft, his high ideals of moral character and patriotic citizenship, and his most devout loyalty to all that is good and great to be achieved by our people and nation will cause such an opposition of narrow views to shrivel into nothingness and be held in contempt by all Christian and fair minded people.

Fortunately the American people have shown time and again that the accident of mere sect is not a determining factor in selecting their president.

Character should count for more than creed. There are no religious tests in this country as a qualification for holding office. The real test is whether the candidate is likely to do right—make good when placed in a position of power.

I am a loyal Methodist and love my church, but I know Judge Taft to be a large souled, broad minded Christian American, who stands for civic righteousness and "a square deal" for every one, and is well worthy of the support of Christian people. We have no place in the American republic for such bigotry.

M. B. HOWARD,

DOESN'T LIKE THE TRIBUNE'S ADVICE.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I have been a reader of THE TRIBUNE for years, and being a voter with independent tendencies I naturally have been inclined to follow your recommendations. But when in the primaries I see you fail to advise men to vote for Healy instead of Wayman, and now in the election, after it is generally conceded that Wayman's nomination is secured by fraud, you still advise voters to vote for him instead of a man like Street, and try to give color to your support by publishing a list of politicians, officeholders, and office-seekers as favoring his election, it goes a long way toward making your readers feel that you have other considerations than a desire to have the best men in office when you come to your conclusions about them. I am sorry that I must now seek a more trustworthy source for my information about other candidates.

D. T. STEPHENSON.

DENEEN FRIEND OF POLICY HOLDERS.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Noting an editorial in a Chicago evening paper which excoriates Deneen for being indifferent to forwarding any legislation or measures to better protect life insurance policy holders and which charges him with allowing Illinois to be far behind other states in the matter of life insurance reform, I am prompted to say that the editorial writer displays so much ignorance on the subject as to elicit a few words of correction. I am not a partisan in any sense, but after the work Gov. Deneen and the state insurance department has done for insurance policy holders of Illinois, simple justice should be given at least.

Aside from Gov. Hughes of New York, who was counsel for the Armstrong committee that investigated the life insurance companies of New York and hence was brought personally in contact with insurance conditions in his state, no governor has tried to do more for the better protection of policy holders than the chief executive of Illinois.

Gov. Deneen, appreciating the need of greater safeguards to insurance policy holders, appointed O. B. Ryon of Streator, Ill., as special attorney for the insurance department to investigate fully life insurance conditions, study the laws, and recommend changes.

Mr. Ryon gave his entire time for months to this important work. He visited other states to study their insurance codes. He attended the sessions of the committee of insurance commissioners, governors, and attorneys general that were appointed to draft regulations governing life insurance to serve as a model for all states.

Gov. Deneen in his message gave special attention to life insurance. He recommended a set of bills to be passed and urged the legislature to give the state better protection to policy holders. Gov. Deneen instructed Mr. Ryon and the state superintendent of insurance, Fred W. Potter, to prepare a set of measures regulating life insurance to be introduced in the legislature. This was done and they were known as "administration" bills.

Most of the bills were passed, with the result today that Illinois has perhaps the most reasonable, protective, and sanest life insurance codes of any state in the union. It may be of interest to the editorial writer of the evening paper to know that other states have used the new life insurance laws of Illinois as a model of excellence. All who have made a study of them appreciate the fact that we citizens of Illinois owe much to Gov. Deneen and his insurance advisers for giving us the new life insurance code.

Those who are in a position to know can testify to the fact that the present administration of the state insurance department is the most able, honest, and effective since the department was established.

WHY WAYMAN SHOULD BE ELECTED.

Chicago, Oct. 31.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I admire your plucky, correct stand about Mr. Wayman. How any man of sense can vote against him passes my understanding. The primary muddle was not Mr. Wayman's fault. His personality was seized by the United Societies, Yates crowd, etc., to crystallize around.

Personally he is an absolutely clean man, not owned by Yates, etc. Intellectually he is better than all other candidates together. He is familiar with court ways and business, young and active. The Sunday cases are not one in one thousand of other far more vital business falling to the duty of state's attorneys. Should we sacrifice the 999 criminal cases, protecting our lives, property, etc., to gratify one Sunday case, about which equally good, equally moral, intelligent people differ so radically that one-half do not even concede that Sunday laws have sense, logic, or force?

Kern is too ignorant; Mitchell not qualified, too much owned by his party owner; Street totally unqualified and biased to start with.

CRITICISES STEVENSON'S WAR RECORD.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I notice all over the city placards put up with the headlines, "For the Honor of Illinois," and containing Adlai E. Stevenson for governor. Looking back to the '60s and calling up memories of those times, in which the true friends of the government united in a death or life struggle with those who would disrupt our glorious country and make two governments of it, eternally at war with each other, in place of our now united one, I cannot help but ask myself how any one who has the honor of the state of Illinois at heart can vote for such a man as Stevenson for governor. Certainly no one who knows the stand he took in those times that tried men's souls.

I lived in Davenport, Ia., in those days, near the home of Stevenson, and knew him to be one of the most rabid of rabid copperheads, and it was commonly reported—and never denied by him or any one else in those days—that he was one of the leaders of the K. G. Cs.

He himself gloried in what he did secretly for the cause of secession.

PHILOSOPHY OF LAUGHTER.

[From a lecture by Prof. William Norman Guthrie.]

"It has become a common belief that if a man is not serious he is of no use in the world. To my mind the serious man should be in second place. We entirely overestimate seriousness. What is the use in continually thinking how bad the world is? It's liable to make it all the worse.

"Laugh when the feeling overtakes you. Let it come right out. Some say it's immodest. I cannot agree with them. It has been said that comic sense is the privilege of old age. That is the reason aged people are permitted to laugh uproariously and nothing is thought of it. You see, they are old enough to know what an excellent thing it is to laugh.

"Something has been said about laughing last and having the joke on the other fellow. For my part, I prefer to laugh first and take my chances on the fun continuing.

"You see some person commit an unusually ludicrous action. For the sake of so-called politeness you smother a laugh, but when you tell the story later every one thinks it all funny. Instead, you should give vent to your laughter at the time. If one's vanity is hurt by laughing, it is high time all the vanity was driven out of the system."

English and American Contrasts.

"The English business man's hours are shorter than ours, and, besides, when his work is done, he turns to some avocation, culture, theology, art, or literature. The American business man is inclined to be too materialistic. His work is too intense, too engrossing, and when he is through—and we work long hours—he wants something exciting, something with a tang to it, something he can 'taste all the way down.' He must have an automobile that he can drive through the country at seventy miles an hour; he must have at least his golf or poker, even on Sunday. Balfour had as his avocation theology—did you ever hear of an American politician seeking relaxation in theology?"—Bishop Williams of Michigan.

The Dutiful Chinaman.

A Chinaman residing in Wellington, N. Z., was ordered by the court to pay 2s 6d weekly for the maintenance of his wife. The first month's alimony was accompanied by this note:

"To the Great Prince of the Temple of Justice:

"O High Excellency—I quail before thy terrible eye. Thy message of blue has reached thy servant in regard to his wife, 'Light of My Eyes.' In trembling compliance I inclose your excellency the 10 bob demanded."—Sydney, Australia, Mail.

NEWS OF THE THEATERS.

La Traviata.

"La Traviata" was the bill at the International last evening, the Italian half of the organization supposedly presenting the Verdi opera. Three of the singers did use the Italian text, but all the secondary personages and the chorus stuck closely to the English. It was a bit polyglotian, but that is not unusual. Miss Bertossi was indisposed by a cold, and the rôle of Violetta was intrusted therefore to Miss Almeri, the young Chicago soprano who was one of the principals of the Italian company heard at the International last season. It is said that the singer had not before appeared in the character, and this being the case, commendation is her due for the comparative surety and approximate finish with which she played and sang. Violetta is not a rôle, however, that permits of hasty preparation. The music itself makes no slight demand upon a soprano's technical and interpretative powers, and as actress much is required. Miss Almeri sang with more of brilliancy and with more of tonal smoothness and purity than she brought to her performances last year, and in certain of the more exacting numbers rose to their demands in creditable and praise meriting manner.

Mr. Russo was the Alfredo and wholly at home in the part. He was in exceptionally good voice and really sang much of the music beautifully. He was especially successful with the romanza at the commencement of the second act. Mr. Arcangeli was the elder Germont, and although he made up to look like an advertisement for a wigmaker's shop, he did work that was vocally good in the duet with Violetta. In the "Di Provenza" he sang much of the favorite number with taste and in good style, but at the close he could not resist his overweening desire to force his voice to its fullest volume, and he bellowed as he has bellowed but few times before, and he has accomplished considerable along that line. He should be taken in hand by some one in authority and impressed with the fact that even though the public may applaud his excesses the artistic worth of the scene is ruined by his shouting. He has plenty of voice and of good quality when sanely used, but it becomes ugly when pushed as he pushes it.

The chorus did as well as hurried rehearsals make possible, and the minor rôles sung in English were creditably taken.

Tonight "Bohemian Girl" will be presented with Mr. Sheehan as Thaddeus, Mr. Richards as Arnheim, Mr. Bennett as Devilshoof, Miss Hemmi as Arline, and Mrs. Shayne as the queen.

The first announcement of the selections Mme. Fremstad is to sing at her concert in Orchestra hall next Saturday afternoon, commencing at 3 o'clock, has been received. She is down for an aria from "Der Freischütz," Rubinstein's "Es Blinkt der Thau," Schumann's "Frühlingsnacht," Grieg's "Med en Primula Veris," and "Et Syn," and the finale from Richard Strauss' "Salome." Concerning the "Salome" excerpt which will be given with piano accompaniment, Mme. Fremstad is quoted as having said:

"While I was singing 'Salome' in Paris Mrs. Potter Palmer asked me to go to London to sing at a party she was giving for King Edward. He was anxious to hear something from 'Salome,' and I could think of nothing but the finale. I was afraid that the piano accompaniment would rob the song of its effect, but to my surprise the number was exceedingly effective. I spoke to Richard Strauss about it, and he has made a special arrangement of the number for concert."

Cecil Fanning, the baritone, will be associated with Mme. Fremstad on the program and is listed for the "Vision Fugitive" of Massenet, the Loewe ballads "Henry the Fowler" and "Edward," Willeby's "I Mind the Day," Clark's "My Friend," and Whiting's "Fuzzy Wuzzy."

> HEDDA GABLER.
> A Domestic Tragedy in Four Acts.
> BY > HENRIK IBSEN.
> Presented in the Garrick Theater, Chicago, by Mme. Alla Nazimova and Her Company, Nov. 2, 1908. The Cast:

George Tesman	Percy Lyndal
Judge Brack	Dodson Mitchell
Eilert Lovborg	Brandon Tynan
Mrs. Elvsted	Florence Fisher
Miss Juliana Tesman	Mrs. Jacques Martin
Bertha	Evelyn Wiedling
Hedda Tesman	Mme. Nazimova

After watching the Hedda Gabler of Alla Nazimova approach her fate through four acts of Mr. Ibsen's play one is impelled to reach wildly for an illustration to fit the performance. It is to suggest that the Russian actress should give up the stage and take to gardening—not because she would make as good a gardener as she is an actress, but because she is so wonderfully inventive and so good at making things grow.

She has taken the Hedda Gabler plant, for instance, and though it was far from a simple bloom to begin with, she has nursed and developed it until six or seven different heads now sprout from the original stock. She has successfully grafted on it a series of shoots that are weird and wonderful, and she has forced the whole, by her hothouse method, into a rare exotic that could perhaps live and blossom in several countries, but not, we fear, in the Norway to which it is native, or the America into which it has been imported.

The Nazimova Hedda is many in one. It is a multiplied affair. It is a series of detached exhibits, and each one of these is strange and abnormal. The Hedda that begins the evening is a pathological study. The Hedda that ends it is a coward faced by scandal and preferring suicide. It could be indefinitely divided:

As Exhibit A—A uniquely extravagant and original Hedda, bent upon displaying the odd accumulations of her trousseau, a series of startling gowns and robes built to increase her height, to attract attention and put her out of the Ibsen picture.

As Exhibit B—A Japanese poster Hedda, looking out from a fascinating but unreal makeup in which the lips and ears are perceptibly reddened, while the eyes are blackened and the face chalked in sharp contrast.

As Exhibit C—Hedda as an abnormal female threatened with the responsibilities of motherhood and resenting nature's interference with her plans.

As Exhibit D—A clairaudient and clairvoyant Hedda, forewarned of her fate and foredoomed to approach it by stealthy strides, the while she secretly glories in the exclusiveness of her knowledge.

As Exhibit E—The jealous, plainly human Hedda, bent on avenging herself for the slight fate has placed upon her by turning all her works into failures; and

As Exhibit F—The cowardly Hedda whose artistic soul recoils at the thought of scandal and who kills herself at last to escape the mesh she finds an unwelcome lover has woven about her and into which she is likely to fall.

The Nazimova Hedda is any one or all of these Heddas, but in place of being molded into a single characterization, as representing human peculiarities in the one Hedda, they appear, as said, to be impersonations of so many different Ibsen studies.

Sometimes, when the poses and the detached studies came together, or when one Hedda was abruptly left behind and another put forward in her place, one wanted to laugh at the extremely earnest but likewise extremely unimpressive young woman who was doing the acting. There was so little heart in it and so much decoration. This is the second of the Ibsen women Mme. Nazimova has presented in Chicago. Both have been elaborated with an expert technique and have contained flashes of sane, impressive, meaningful acting. But both have likewise been empty and not to be compared, in point of real worth, with the same characters as played by American and English actresses.

Wherein Nazimova is unusual she is well suited to the Ibsen women, for they are nothing in our world if not unusual. But wherein they are human, understandable creatures her grasp of them is neither firm nor convincing. We shall await her appearance next week in modern but less complex characters, rather confident that she will appear to better advantage in new rôles than in those in which our standards of comparison are naturally rather high.

So rapid has been the progress of the Ibsen drama, and so generally the dissemination of inside information concerning it, that it is unnecessary to remind the gentle reader that "Hedda Gabler," whatever else it may be, is not a message of sweetness and light. It is, to the contrary, a tragedy that is horrible though not grim—horrible because it is hopeless, drear, and uncomfortable, and escaping grimness because the death of Hedda is practically its only satisfactory solution. She seems quite beyond reclamation. Certainly nothing as sapient and cozy as a happy ending could be attached to her life. Imagine Hedda Gabler happy! And imagine Henrik Ibsen turning in his grave at the thought!

In the few days of her life with which the drama deals, Hedda is seen in the approach toward and at the culmination of her unhappy existence. She, in a way, typifies spiritual unrest. She epitomizes disgust. She is pessimism personified. She enters into a contest with fate and daringly determines to trifle with the destinies of men. Being in heart and mind untrue to any ideal, all that she touches turns to ashes, and when she knows this, lacking the courage to live, repent, and reform, she summoned the courage to die, and kills herself. It is a play filled with symbolic suggestion for those in search of symbolism, but it is neither a helpful nor comforting document.

The support did not distinguish itself. Brandon Tynan played a passionate and rather convincing sort of Lovborg. Florence Fisher was a distressed and often distressing Mrs. Elvsted. Dodson Mitchell gave Brack a sneer that was illuminating if not subtle. Percy Lyndal played Tesman with much fuss and two blind eyes, considering that all his impossible Hedda did passed him completely, and the others were satisfactory. The setting was excellent.

Well known north shore women are planning an evening musical to be given late in January at the home of Mrs. Irving Osborne, Ridge avenue, Evanston. The entertainment is arranged for the benefit of the Children's home at Evanston and is to be an important event in the winter's north shore society circles. Mrs. Frank C. Letts of Evanston has the arrangements in charge and the program is to be given by Chris Anderson, violin, Miss Consuelo Bates and other musicians to give numbers. The home also is the beneficiary at a bridge to be given by the Highland Park women at the Moraine hotel on Nov. 12.

Mrs. George C. Hixon, 78 Bellevue place, entertained at luncheon and bridge yesterday for Mrs. Georgena Haskell Sands of Cobourg, Canada, who is the guest of her relatives in the city. Today Mrs. Robert C. Newton, 163 Rush street, will give a bridge party for Mrs. Sands and tomorrow a luncheon and bridge will be given by Mrs. Boyd and Miss Chanute at 61 Cedar street.

Miss Margaret Benedict, who is to be a November bride, will be the guest of honor at a matinée party tomorrow, at which Mrs. Leroy Woodland will be hostess, and on Thursday Mrs. Frederick Lawrence, 2207 Washington avenue, will give a kitchen shower. Mr. and Mrs. Potter Palmer, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Honoré Palmer since their return from Europe on Saturday, opened their own residence, 183 Lincoln Park boulevard, yesterday.

Seats of the French theater have been taken in numbers during the last few days, as belated people returned from their summer outings. Among recent purchasers are Mrs. Ogden Armour, Mrs. T. B. Blackstone, Mrs. F. T. Vaux, Mrs. Henry A. Blair, Mrs. Howard F. Swift, Miss Rose Jones, and Robert Mandel. The tickets are in charge of Mrs. Harry Channon in the library of the Alliance Française. The next performance at the theater will be on the afternoon and evening of Monday, Nov. 16, when "La Française" will be played.

Mr. and Mrs. William V. Kelley have come in from Highland Park, where they have been spending the summer, and are now at their home, 4849 Ellis avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Peterson of the Plaza gave a luncheon on Sunday in honor of Prof. Montelius, the Swedish archeologist. The luncheon was preceded by an automobile trip through the parks.

Miss Gertrude McMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McMillan, 3444 Michigan avenue, gave a dinner Saturday evening in honor of Miss Marguerite May Pettie of London, England, and Miss Gladys Vera Chapeck and Herbert Roy Johnson, whose engagement was announced recently. The decorations were in white and yellow.

The marriage of Miss Dorothea Houston White, daughter of Mrs. Jannette Elizabeth White, 1017 West Pensacola avenue, Irving Park, and Dr. Karl Julius Stecher of Chicago took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Houston. Dr. and Mrs. Stecher will reside in Chicago.

The marriage of Miss Viola Straus and Maurice A. Leberman took place last night at the Standard club, the guests including only the relatives and intimate friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Meyer L. Straus of the Lakota hotel and the groom is a Philadelphian. Dr. Emil Hirsch performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white crêpe meteor satin trimmed in duchesse and rose point lace, and carried a white leather bible. Miss Nets Straus, the bride's sister, was maid of honor, her gown being fashioned of apricot satin. She carried a bouquet of My Maryland roses. Sidney Leberman, brother of the groom, was the best man and the ushers were Max Straus, Irvin Hartman, Melvin Emerich, and Harold Israel. The honeymoon will be spent in the Berkshire Hills, after which the young people will reside in the Hotel Majestic, Philadelphia, until their new home is ready for occupancy.

SEWING ROOM

About Sleeves.

Although the long sleeves, which are the style this season, are pretty and a welcome change from the short full sleeves which were the style for so many seasons, there is one drawback to them—namely: that they give one a narrow effect across the shoulders. Women with narrow shoulders and a flat chest look extremely narrow and thin in these tight sleeves. To a small extent this appearance may be done away with.

Most of the sleeves have a slight fullness at the top of the arm, and when gathering this fullness stitch the top of the sleeve with two rows of machine stitching about a quarter of an inch apart. When sewing the sleeve into the waist sew along the line of the first stitching and leave the other row to show at the top of the sleeve. This will give a pretty tailored finish to the top of the sleeve and will hold the top of the sleeve firmly up so that it will give an inch or so on each side to the width of the shoulders. You will be surprised to note how this adds to the appearance of a waist.

Save the Buttonholes.

When discarding a worn undergarment or waist, save the strip of goods on which the buttonholes were made, if the buttonholes are still strong. When repairing underwear on which the buttonholes have become torn or too large, select one of the strongest of the sewed buttonholes and place it over the old one and stitch into place. This process requires but half the time and labor that it would take to put a new band on and work the buttonholes.

Little BOUDOIR

Split Ends of Hair.

It is essential for the proper growth of the hair that the split ends should be clipped off with the scissors. The easiest way to do this is to separate the hair into strands, going to work at it systematically, beginning at the front on one side and taking one strand after another around to the front of the other side. Twist each strand tightly and the hairs of different length will stand out so that they may be easily clipped. This is better than singing the hair by means of lighted tapers passed quickly along the strand so that the hairs which stand out will be burned off. Unless this is done by one who is an expert the other hairs will become burned and the hair will become uneven.

Delicate Bath for Skin.

The skin of the whole body can be made soft by using a dry flesh brush every night after the warm bath. The bath should be an invigorating warm bath, and after the body has been gently dried brush it with a flesh brush, not too harshly but enough to make the skin glow and the blood race through the veins. Twice a week treat yourself to this extravagance. It is but a little one and is deliciously delicate. Make a dainty lotion from twelve ounces of distilled witch hazel, four ounces of alcohol, and one-fourth of an ounce of extract of violet. Directly after the vigorous rubbing with the brush apply this with both hands all over the body. It is not only softening, but stimulating to the muscles.

IN THE NURSERY

About Children's Teeth.

No child can thoroughly cleanse his own teeth, and the mother who gives her child a few simple instructions as to how to clean the teeth and then leaves him to his own resources is simply courting poor teeth for her child. Even a grown person can not thoroughly cleanse certain parts of their teeth. The mother not only should see that the teeth are brushed carefully and regularly but she should insist on frequent visits to the dentist's to have the teeth examined and thoroughly cleaned.

Never allow a "baby" tooth, if it is decayed, to remain unfilled, for if the decay is left it is apt to travel downward and affect the permanent tooth, which is forming below.

Never allow a child to pick the teeth with any sharp or pointed instrument or to crack nuts with the teeth. Dental floss is the best thing to use for removing foreign substances from between the teeth.

* *

Child's Exercise.

If your baby has been taking his morning exercise in the form of a walk, with a baby carriage close by, in case he gets tired, do not deprive him of all exercise during the fall and winter by making him ride in his carriage all the time. If a child is warmly dressed there is no reason why he cannot walk when the pavements are dry if he has reasonably thick soled shoes on. The majority of children, 2 years old and over, derive much benefit and pleasure from the morning walk. If the sidewalks are damp, then the child may be wheeled in the carriage, for the soles of children's shoes are not made very thick and arctics or rubbers are rather hard for children to manage.

TESTED RECIPES

Oysters.

SCALLOPED OYSTERS.—Clean free from bits of shell one quart of oysters. Mix one cup each of bread and cracker crumbs and stir into one-half cup melted butter. Add enough oyster liquor to two tablespoons cream to measure one-half cup. Put a thin layer of buttered crumbs in bottom of the pudding dish, buttered. Cover with oysters, dust with salt, pepper, and if liked, celery, salt, and paprika. Then another layer of crumbs and oysters, with crumbs on top. Sprinkle over the liquid just before the last layer of crumbs. Put on cover, bake in moderately quick oven about thirty minutes. Uncover and brown delicately.

CODDLED OYSTERS.—Turn one quart of oysters into wire sieve and stand over saucepan to drain. Pour slowly over the oysters, if needed, about one cup of cold water. Clean oysters free from bits of shell. To the liquor in the saucepan, which should be about one pint, add one-half teaspoon salt, white pepper, or paprika to taste, two to three cloves, blade of mace, piece of bay leaf, cover and let simmer a few minutes while preparing the toast. Toast six slices of bread to a delicate brown. Butter both sides. Lay a slice on each of six small dishes. On each slice of toast lay six or eight oysters. Strain the oyster liquor, add one tablespoonful of butter, and when melted put five or six tablespoonfuls of liquor on each slice of toast. Put into hot oven, or under moderate flame of gas range, and let bake five or six minutes. Serve at once.

OYSTER SAUTES.—Toast six slices of bread. Drain a quart of oysters and dry on a clean towel. Then roll the oysters in a little flour seasoned with salt and pepper. Put three slices of bacon into a large frying pan. Remove bacon when fat has all fried out of it. Add two rounding tablespoons butter and let brown a little. Put oysters in pan over a hot fire and turn oysters as fast as edges curl and remove from fire quickly. Serve six or eight oysters over each slice of toast. Garnish with cut olives or pimolas, or sweet midget pickles and sliced lemon points. Will serve six persons.

IN THE KITCHEN

Scrap Apple Butter.

When making apple or crab jelly make apple butter of the pulp left after straining. First press it through a coarse sieve; a colander will do if the fruit has been cored previously. To four quarts of pulp use one quart of boiled cider, the kind you buy. Add two pounds (three large cups) of brown sugar and the same amount of granulated. Flavor cautiously with ground cloves and cinnamon; a quarter teaspoonful of cloves and three teaspoonfuls of cinnamon will suit the average taste. Bring the mixture to the boiling point and simmer gently half an hour, stirring frequently with a flat paddle to scrape the bottom; or, finish cooking in your hay stove. It does not require airtight sealing.

Election Cake.

One and a half cupfuls of butter, two cupfuls of sugar, one and a half pints of flour, three eggs, one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two cupfuls of raisins stoned, one cupful of currants well washed and picked, half a cup of chopped citron, half of a lemon peel chopped, half a cupful of almonds, blanched and in shreds; twenty drops of extract of bitter almonds and vanilla, and one cupful of milk. Rub butter and sugar to a cream, add eggs, beating all the time, then flour sifted with baking powder, raisins, currants, citron, lemon peel, almonds, extracts, milk. Make a smooth batter, pour in tin lined with buttered paper and bake for one and a half hours in a moderate oven.

N. Y. TIMES: "Mr. Fox has written one of the most charming stories in the world. Here is a romance of the Southern mountains, every page of which is delightful reading, every one of the characters in which—though some are dare-devil outlaws—is a welcomed new acquaintance, and from the reading of which every man and woman must arise with the feeling that the world is still the right sort of a place, and that love and honor are as fine things today as they ever were in the most romantic and chivalrous of ages."

No one knows how precious coal is as the one who has none and no money to buy it. Yet it is wasted—wasted in enormous quantities in every home or other building which is heated by old-fashioned methods. Chance-Murphy Breach Widens. Gridiron Gossip. Autos. Pugilism

BREACH IN CUBS' RANKS UNHEALED

COMBATANTS STAND PAT.

Trouble of Small Beginning Is Enlarged by Criticism of Manager's Work.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Frank Chance and his wife departed for the manager's winter home in California at 6 o'clock last night, leaving the breach between the Cub leader and President Murphy unhealed. So far as can be ascertained no effort has been made by either side to heal it.

The manager did not call at the club's offices yesterday to say good-by, and if he had done so would not have found President Murphy there, the latter remaining at his home in Oak Park on account of sickness.

Chance appeared to believe that an effort would be made to trade him during the winter to the Cincinnati club and repeated his statement that he would be glad to go there. In addition he made it plain that the next move in the matter would have to be made by President Murphy.

"I would go to the Cincinnati team if they traded me," said the Cub leader just before boarding his train, "but I would not go to any other club in the league. I would stay in California rather than that. I'm going to buy an orange grove out there right away, anyway, and won't have to come back.

Murphy Good to His Folks.

"I don't know but a trade would be the best way out of the difficulty, and told Murphy so. I'll say this for him. He never has shown a disposition to interfere with or criticise my work before, but has given me free rein for three years, and has been mighty good to his players. I never knew a man to treat his players better. But, as I told him, he may think next year he knows enough baseball to begin to interfere. I could not stand the worry of that in addition to the other worries."

According to the peerless leader the whole difficulty grew out of a minor dispute over salary for next year. He admitted having signed a four year contract, but said it did not look as good to him after mature consideration as when he signed it, and he had asked for some changes in it. He did not consider that his investment in the stock of the club and his revenue therefrom was a part of the argument, and President Murphy did.

Chance Balks on Criticism.

"From that argument," continued Manager Chance, "he began telling me about the mistakes I had made in managing the club. One of his criticisms was so palpably unjust that I offered to let him write out his own statement of the case and submit it to the baseball writers of Chicago, and if any of them said he was right I would admit he was. He refused to do anything of the kind, and when he began to talk of trading me off to Cincinnati I concluded it would be better to make a change next year if he felt that way. My offer to give him $2,000 in cash if he would make the deal was on the level and still goes.

"No, I did not go to the office today. Browns brought me what mail there was for me."

Among the score or more friends who saw the manager and his wife off on their long journey were Mordecai Brown and Joe Tinker, the only other Cubs in town, and the great pitcher may make the trip to the coast to visit his manager during the winter. Chance will go to San Francisco, then to his mother's home in Fresno. A week will be spent in each place visiting old friends, after which Chance intends to take up the matter of buying a fruit ranch. He will spend the colder weather at Ocean Park, as formerly.

Baseball Fans Discuss Split.

Among baseball men in general there was no other topic discussed than the breach between the two Cub officials, and, while agreeing that it was serious, there was none who believed there was any chance it would result in the loss of the Cub leader to Chicago.

The most serious aspect of the matter is the fact several important matters in connection with next year's campaign may be kept at a standstill until an understanding is reached, as Manager Chance was positive he would make no farther move until he was certain of his own status for next season.

The three fingered pitching star is planning to go for a short fishing and hunting trip to Wisconsin this week and Tinker is busy rehearsing for his stage début next Monday night.

"Sully" Leaves for Ireland.

Catcher Billy Sullivan of the White Sox and Mrs. Sullivan left Sunday night for an extended European trip with Ireland as the chief objective point and the establishment of his wife's claim to an $80,000 share in an uncle's estate as one reason for the trip. Sullivan expected to be gone the better part of three months, which would bring him back just in time to get ready for the California training trip.

"The whole White Sox team missed that trip to Ireland by one day only," said President Comiskey yesterday. "We needed only one more game from Detroit and we would all have been on the ocean before this time."

Pitcher Ed Walsh of the Sox was reported to be in town, but did not make his presence known at headquarters.

NATIVES JEALOUS OF RUCKER.

Brooklyn Pitcher Gets Too Much Feminine Adoration to Suit Georgia Ruffians—Bloodhounds on Trail.

Roswell, Ga., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Bloodhounds are being used by infuriated citizens of this place in chasing the ruffians who attacked "Nap" Rucker and several women who were automobiling. Jealousy on the part of the natives over attention shown Rucker, who is a pitcher for the Brooklyn baseball team, is said to have caused the trouble.

TITLE HINGES ON COMING GAME.

Meeting of Englewood and Wendell Phillips on Saturday Will Settle the Cook County Championship.

Representatives of the undefeated Englewood and Wendell Phillips High school football teams met yesterday to make arrangements for their match on Saturday. Marshall field already is taken for that afternoon and it is probable the game will be played at Anson's park at 2:30. This matter will be settled at another meeting today. Each team has four victories and the contest will settle the Cook county high school championship. It is expected the winning team will make a trip to Minneapolis or Seattle, while the managers also have a line out for a game with one of the Boston high schools.

Six Oak Park football men are on the invalid list or behind in studies according to reports received at practice by Coach Omer yesterday. The injured members on the squad will be out for at least two weeks. This is taken to mean sure defeat Saturday when the team meets Crane, as three of the injured players are regulars. The injured men are Hales, captain; Hunter, center; Wood, right tackle.

Murat Purcell, who was captain of the North Division High school team at the beginning of the season and became ineligible because of a condition in English, has entered Northwestern university and will join the freshman squad. It is believed a valuable man has been secured for the quarter position next year. If Purcell makes his grades this year he will be eligible for the varsity squad next fall.

OWSLEY JOINS YALE COACHES.

Former Chicagoan Makes 4,000 Mile Journey to Help Round Eli Eleven Into Final Shape.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Jack Owsley of Chicago, Yale's head football coach three years ago, came all the way from Seattle to help round the eleven into shape, arriving today after a 4,000 mile journey. The varsity was given a layoff from scrimmaging, but had a long signal practice. Tony Haines of Chicago was placed at right end, Fred Murphy resumed his place at quarter back for the first time in two weeks. Kilpatrick, the injured left end, was in uniform for the first time in three weeks, but was not sent into the lineup, simply jogging through a general conditioning run.

WISCONSIN HOPES AT STAKE

Coming Battle with Minnesota Means Much to Badger Eleven.

START OF LAST LAP IN EAST.

Princeton and Harvard Teams to Be Fully Tested Next Saturday.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

The Minnesota and Wisconsin football teams will battle next Saturday at Minnesota in what should prove to be one of the best games in the west this season. The Badgers will have to win to meet Chicago on Nov. 28 with a clean slate and if they lose little hope can be entertained in Badgerdom for a victory over the Maroons.

The Gophers and Badgers are old rivals and the game will be hard fought from start to finish, one team fighting to stay in the championship race, the other exerting every means to retrieve lost laurels. In the games played thus far this year by both teams Wisconsin should rule the favorite, as it is better versed in the possibilities of the new game and has a line which is well nigh impenetrable. The Badgers also have a kicker in Moll, who is liable to score any time by the air line route, besides other players who are past masters in the punting department.

Gophers Need More Plays.

Minnesota may take a great brace and upset the dope by playing better football than it did last Saturday against Chicago, but one thing is certain, the Gophers cannot hope to win from Wisconsin unless they are given more new plays involving the forward pass and other formations permitted by the new régime.

All the big teams of the east will start on the last lap of the intercollegiate race this week, when nearly every game will be of the championship variety. Harvard and Princeton will attract the greatest attention, for they will be pitted against opponents who will try them out to the utmost. The Crimson team will meet the Carlisle Indians, while Princeton will line up against Dartmouth. Pennsylvania will have its hands full in disposing of the strong Lafayette eleven, and Brown will give Yale its customary hard battle. Cornell will have the easiest afternoon of the "big five" with Amherst as an opponent.

The Indians, by reason of the tremendous battle they gave Pennsylvania and the defeat they handed the Navy last Saturday, may be depended upon to bring out all the strength there is in Harvard if the Crimson is to come out undefeated. The Pennsylvania team is a powerful combination, and the Indians more than held their own in the second half, and that by playing old football.

Test for Harvard Eleven.

That the Indians have some novel ground gaining plays, which they have not used this season on account of the wet conditions of the gridiron, is certain. Their attack showed what can be done with old fashioned plays when executed with the precision and speed for which the Indians are noted. In the Pennsylvania and Navy games they uncovered a series of double, delayed passes, long passes, and quick kicks which all but baffled their opponents, alert as they were for trick plays. It is certain this year's Indian eleven must be watched fully as closely as former Indian teams, and if Harvard wins it will establish the fact the Crimson has a remarkably fine team.

Princeton's eleven is proving an enigma this year, and Tiger alumni as well as the intercollegiate world are asking what the trouble is. That the Tigers should be held to three scoreless games, two by teams of the caliber of Syracuse and Lafayette, the other by the Army, and should be scored upon by the Virginia Polytechnic eleven suggests that something out of the ordinary is the matter with them. One does not usually attribute much importance to small scores by the big teams in preliminary games, but it is certain Princeton had no intention of letting Lafayette and Syracuse hold it to 0 to 0 scores. This the coaches would not have permitted, even to fool Yale, their dearest enemy. Those who have seen Princeton in action declare the team is weaker than any Tiger eleven of recent years, and it is only a matter of time until the team meets the defeat it has so narrowly escaped several times.

Tiger Coach System at Stake.

At the same time it should not be forgotten Princeton is prepared to move heaven and earth to defeat Yale this year. The succession of Eli triumphs has become so marked as to be uncomfortably monotonous. Princeton is trying a new coaching system this year, but it will not be judged, except by the result of the Yale game. If the annual struggle with the Elis be lost, then there will be a shakeup in Princeton's coaching methods. It doubtless is true that some of the Tigers' poor work may be attributed to the continued absence of Capt. Dillon from the team, but the fact remains Princeton has not shown anything like the varied and effective offense it possessed last year.

Probably one of the greatest achievements in the history of football at the Naval academy was the feat of holding Harvard to a 6 to 6 game a week ago, although a fumble and a long pass enable Harvard to tie the count. It is true the Navy was beaten by the Indians last Saturday, 16 to 0, through the ability of Balenti to kick four field goals, but the redmen could not cross the Middies' goal line.

Harvard did not slump against the Navy, but played good football. It actually looks as if Annapolis was better fortified now than West Point. The time was when the Army enjoyed a distinct advantage by reason of the fact that older men went to the military school and completely counteracted the benefit the navy derived from the larger student body at Annapolis. Now the Navy not only has nearly twice as many candidates as the Army, but they seem to be as good physically as the soldiers.

Little Line on Cornell.

The fact Cornell has such an easy schedule this year should occasion some uneasiness in the coaching staff. To date Cornell has not had a single tough opponent, although several have scored against the big red team. If the elevens Cornell has met were strong the results of the games played would indicate that Cornell has a first rate eleven, but most of the teams played thus far have been of the minor class, and that several of them should score and hold Cornell down, inclines one to the belief the Ithacans are not as strong as last year.

There is difficulty in making a comparison of scores, because Cornell plays teams which rarely are found on the schedules of its rivals. This is due, no doubt, to the peculiar location of Cornell. The teams which furnish practice for Yale, Pennsylvania, and Princeton are too far distant to make the trip to Ithaca a financial success, since only championship contests draw a large attendance on Cornell's field. In this respect Pennsylvania, Harvard, and Yale, having big cities to draw from, are assured a big attendance, even for the preliminary games.

The effect of Cornell's easy schedule will be seen best when the Ithacans come to Chicago on Nov. 14, and go to Philadelphia on Thanksgiving day. These will be the games in which they will need the stamina which they can get only by playing hard games during the preliminary season.

IN ADVANCE OF THE NEWS.

BY HEK.

It won't be long now until we have the confirmation of that which we already know.

The person who asks you how you think the thing is going is not deferring to your judgment, but looking for your indorsement of his own.

Anybody who has changed his mind in the last six days is liable to change it back in the last six moments.

Speeches lose votes as fast as they make them.

The more you talk to a prejudiced man the more you ramify his prejudices.

Nothing has happened since 1896 to cause the man who took the psychological switch at that time to repent. The fellow who said that there is no use chasing a car after you've caught it was no dub of a philosopher.

The only reason for the employment of brass bands in the final strides of a campaign is to fritter away the remnants of the "fund" and keep it out of the hands of some single minded person who might be tempted to apply it to his personal use.

This is the quadrennial period when the pernicious habit of betting is raised to the dignity of a powerful moral argument. There is no space too good just now for the dealer in odds who at other times is a hunted menace to society. Apparently it is only the medium of the decision that makes gambling wicked. The bookmakers who are doing business on this election have been posting odds infinitely more "death dealing" than they would dare to offer on a horserace and they are getting a play with the slates up and without the remotest fear of a pinch. O, well!

No matter what happens in today's election it will not be worth the while of the most daring and desperate office holder to remove what is technically termed "the lid." The wiping out of Derby day was quite a blow to "State street," but State street seems to have recovered and adjusted itself to the new order of things. At any rate, judging from the speeches made at the recent banquet of the credit men it has ceased to clamor for a return of the old condition of affairs. Those whose influence might assist a trifle have ceased to abide hereabouts. It is a case of a complete change of heart or one of besotted indifference.

There is nothing that a venal official may do that will help even the tiniest morsel.

The Gophers have gone back to Minnesota satisfied that it might have been worse.

It is pleasing and soothing to string with a game when a win is a win and a loss is a constructive victory.

The Wisconsin team that was beaten 160 to 0 received a glowing reception when it returned home. It might have been beaten 166 to 0.

The family jar in the west side baseball ménage must be handled rather delicately in these parts. The co-respondent in the case is so morbidly sensitive that he refuses to let an innocent guy get away with an innocent wheeze.

Risking a guess, however, we opine that Mr. Chance will remain where he's at.

The sheriff of Lake county, Ill., kindly acknowledges the right of the United States army to conduct prize fights at Fort Sheridan.

As close as we can get to it without offense, the Peerless Leader of the peerless Cubs had the temerity to string with those who did not like the things they did not like.

Of course it's nobody's business, but this question continues to arise: What are the scholarly qualifications of a Carlisle football player?

Very well, if Ann Arbor prefers to be a pollywog among the larger toads we don't see why we should waste any learned arguments.

If Mr. Hughes is defeated for the governorship of New York today, then what?

Whatever it takes to put a law on the statute books, it takes the same multiplied by ten to take it off.

It costs more to be amused than it does to be fed and we are always willing to listen to an argument the application of which would reduce the price.

There never was a political argument that did not appeal to one's natural desire to take something away from the other fellow.

We have been so deeply steeped in this political thing that we clean forgot this burning question which was propounded a week ago by our indulgent reader, Bluch Peabody. The question being: "What has become of all the bicycles ridden a few years ago, and where is El Sisam, the man who attempted to assassinate Abdul Hamid?" We hasten belatedly to answer that the man suspected of having swung on Billy Patterson now languishes in the Stanton avenue station and the last we heard of Charley Ross he was doing a sketch with Mabel Fenton.

BRINGS JOY TO PURPLE CAMP.

Right Tackle Hamilton Returns to Northwestern Team After Recovering from Dislocated Shoulder.

Followers of the Purple at Evanston were overjoyed to see Hamilton, the big right tackle, out for practice yesterday. Hamilton is the only man on the team with varsity experience, having been a lineman and substitute end during Northwestern's last year of intercollegiate football.

He was in the game early this season, but had his shoulder dislocated in the Northwestern-Alumni game, the first of the year, and it was supposed he was out of the game for good, as this is his last year in school. When he appeared on the field the team greeted him with hand clapping and cheers. He will displace Davies, who has been playing right tackle.

The freshmen are practicing for their Thanksgiving game with the Grand Prairie seminary at Onarga, Ill. The team was greatly strengthened by the addition of Purcell, former captain of the North Division High school team. Purcell entered the university yesterday, and will be a strong candidate for the varsity team next year.

Tom Longboat Becomes a "Pro."

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Tom Longboat, the Canadian Indian amateur long distance runner, has declared himself a professional, and his manager, Flannagan, is now making arrangements with Al Shrubb, the English world's champion, for a series of races. Shrubb, who is coaching the Harvard track team, tonight agreed to a series of three races, five, ten, and fifteen miles, with a twenty-five mile race to follow. The races probably will be run in New York in December.

Notes of the Golfers.

Golfers of the First National bank will hold their annual championship tournament at the Chicago Golf club today. The usual discounts will be given.

Conventsia members will play for four cups today. A medal play handicap is set for the morning and one against the par bogey in the afternoon. In addition there will be a choice score event at eighteen holes. Accounts of the presidential tournament over the national links will be read at the clubhouse at night.

St. Peter's, 42; Christ Church, 38.

St. Peter's Episcopal church basketball five defeated Christ Church Presbyterians, champions of the Bible Class league last season, by a score of 42 to 38 at St. Peter's gym last night.

Frank Hehr of the West Chicago team averaged 219 2-3. Steinmiller of the Bull Frogs accounted for 214 1-3 for the Bull Frogs in the Lincoln league. Scores:

New Orleans Racing on Dec. 5.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—It was officially announced here today that the race meeting at New Orleans would open on schedule time—Dec. 5—to continue ninety days. Those in a position to know assert that Barney Schreiber and Edward Corrigan came to the relief of Heaslip at the eleventh hour with financial assistance. There will be a meeting of all interested on Wednesday at Cincinnati when the details of the Crescent City meeting will be arranged.

Wagers Laid in Louisiana.

Shreveport, La., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The Locke anti-racetrack gambling law had its first test in Louisiana today at the opening of the state fair here. No attempt was made to open books on the races, but there were three or four of the old bookmakers on hand ready for business. They used the handbook system, mad. bets, and did a fairly good business. All betting was verbal and if any tickets were used the fact was not known.

"CON" CLOUD OVER MIDWAY

Four Weeks' Reports of Professors Due This Morning.

MAROONS ON ANXIOUS SEAT.

Schott and Ehrhorn Return and Take Part in the Practice.

A hang-over celebration of the Maroon victory over Minnesota, the return of two of Coach Stagg's injured players to the ranks, and rumbling warnings of the probable ineligibility of several of the Chicago football stars cast an air of modified joy over the inauguration of the preparations for Cornell yesterday at Marshall field.

While Schott and Ehrhorn rejoined the team, it is feared the annual invasion of "con" notices today may play havoc with the Midway machine. The professors will begin handing out their four week reports this morning, and the football players who receive marks below passing in two of their studies will be labeled undesirable for gridiron purposes. A number of the Maroons are on the anxious seat over their scholastic standing.

Should a single one of the varsity players be removed from the eligible list by the notices, Stagg would find himself in a tight hole again, and the impending showup will be watched with more than usual interest by the coach. It is probable the standing of all the squad will not be known until the end of the week, as some of the professors will delay their reports.

Schott at Full Back.

The addition of Schott and Ehrhorn was a big gain to the team, as both are needed the worst way. They will not go back at once to the positions they left vacant, however, as Coach Stagg wished to experiment with different combinations for a few days. Schott was in his old position at full back yesterday, but he will not have a full claim upon it until the coach has made up his mind where to use Worthwine, who has made an enviable showing at full back since stepping into Schott's shoes.

While Worthwine and Schott may be utilized as co-stars at full back, the former may be sent back to the line, where he played during the early part of the season. If he rejoins the forwards, he probably will go to his old place at left guard. If he stays in the back field, however, Ehrhorn will be the logical candidate for left guard, with Kelley at right guard. These unsettled points will be decided this week in the long scrimmages Stagg intends to give the varsity against the freshman team.

De Tray Back from Cornell.

The freshmen were coached in the Cornell plays yesterday by Assistant Coach Leo De Tray, who witnessed the Cornell-Penn State game on Saturday. Using the Ithaca formations, the "freshies" will test the varsity defense this afternoon in scrimmage.

Harris, the ex-Maroon, who acted as the Midway scout at the Wisconsin-Marquette game, brought back a tale of Badger beef and predicted a spectacular struggle at Marshall field Nov. 21, when the Maroons go against the Madison eleven. Stagg and the rooters believe Wisconsin has not shown anything like its real strength as yet.

RESPITE FOR CORNELL SQUAD.

Ithaca Team Practices Tackling and the Onside Kick—Beacham Joins Coaching Staff for One Week.

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The Cornell coaches gave the varsity squad a rest up today, as the men still are suffering from bruises and slight injuries incurred in the Pennsylvania state game. Practically all of the regulars, with the exception of Capt. Walder and Hurlburt, reported, however. The main work of the afternoon consisted in tackling and in practicing the onside kick.

Mowe astonished the coaches by making six drop kicks over from the forty-five yard line. This established a new record on Percy field. Hoffman was laid up again as the result of a hard tackle in which his ankle was wrenched.

The coaching staff was augmented today by the presence of Capt. Joe Beacham, U. S. A., Cornell, '97. Beacham has been coaching West Point, but will remain with the Cornell team for a week to assist in preparation for the Chicago game.

Saddened Gophers Are Home.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The Minnesota football squad returned from Chicago this morning and, with the exception of some bad bruises and scratches, the players are in good shape. The men are rather downcast over the crushing defeat, but are ready to bolster up the weak points in preparation for the Wisconsin game next Saturday. The coaches will exert every effort this week toward developing team play.

Davis and Yost Fight a Draw.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Jeff Davis and Joe Yost fought a six round draw at the stag of the Manhattan Athletic club tonight. In the semifinal "Black Kid" Broad knocked out Joe Williams in the third round. In the other bouts Joe Kennedy knocked out "Kid" Cherry, George Bailey knocked out Jack McManus, and Mike Murphy knocked out Abe Jones.

Watkins Rejoins Wolverines.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Michigan's practice was marked this afternoon by the appearance of Watkins after three weeks' absence from the squad. As was expected, he was put in at full back alternating with Davison. No change, however, was made at right end.

PUGILISTIC POINTERS.

Young Mahoney of Racine is looking for trouble in the middleweight division and wants to sign with Eddie McGoorty.

Hugo Kelly has commenced training for his prospective bout with either Papke or Ketchel on the coast. He is taking the outdoor treatment in the Wisconsin woods.

No matter which fighter wins it is quite likely Hugo Kelly will get on with the victor, for he has a promise from Papke and just lately Jim Jeffries has asked Ketchel to match with the Italian provided Ketchel again becomes middleweight champion.

Tony Caponi, the Italian middleweight who fought Billy Papke two hard draws before the "Thunderbolt" was able to beat him, has returned to the game again. He has signed up for a match with Fred Lucas, the New York bruiser, and is now looking for a club with a purse to offer for the battle.

Billy Papke has reached San Francisco and, following the example of many who have trained before him, will take to the woods and mountains for some of his preliminary work. In the meantime Ketchel, who has finished with the hill, will conclude his preparations at one of the 'Frisco gymnasiums. Stanley is away over weight and will take considerable boiling out before he can get down to the limit.

Packey McFarland's next fight probably will be with "Cyclone" Johnny Thompson, unless Batling Nelson again changes his mind. In his present mood the Dane cannot be coaxed into a short bout with Packey and the latter has about given up hope of securing a match with the champion, at least right away. In the meantime Thompson, the other contender for lightweight honors, is waiting on the Pacific coast and has signified his willingness to go against the Chicagoan.

BRITT OUTPOINTS ENGLISH FIGHTER

Californian Secures Decision Over Johnny Summers at London.

BOUT GOES TEN ROUNDS.

Referee's Decision Questioned by Spectators Failing to Appreciate Close Work.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

LONDON, Nov. 2.—Jimmy Britt of San Francisco and Johnny Summers, champion of England, met in a ten round bout at Wonderland tonight at catchweights. The decision was awarded to Britt on points.

The fight went the limit, and, although neither man was exhausted, it appeared to many of the onlookers as if Summers did most of the leading. Indeed, his form surprised his most sanguine supporters. Britt in the fourth round forced his opponent to the ropes with a well directed blow on the chest, but Summers was cool, and before the round ended landed a blow on Britt's chin.

Britt Excels at Close Range.

The sixth and seventh rounds were pretty even, although Summers drew blood from the American's right eye with a terrific blow. The last two rounds were lively. Both men were going strong, but Summers continually landed on his opponent's face. A section of the onlookers, which nevertheless was considerable, repeatedly protested against Britt's hugging and clinching. Britt scored frequently at the infighting in which he was superior and did fine execution with both hands. Both men were cautioned for clinching. It was a good fight and fast.

So confident were the Summers supporters that he would be called victor that at the end of the fight they rushed into the ring and lifted him on their shoulders in anticipation of triumph, but to his dismay and that of his friends Referee Watson gave the fight to Britt. This caused indignant protests from the English supporters.

For several minutes there was every indication of a riot, and it was with the utmost difficulty that quiet was restored. Britt and the referee were loudly hooted as they left the hall.

Statement by Referee.

Referee Watson said: "Honors were in Summers' favor at outfighting, but close in Britt did a wonderful amount of severe work which was lost on the crowd. The decision unquestionably was unpopular, but Britt's infighting won the victory for him."

COULON HAS HIS HANDS FULL

Bantam Outpoints "Young" O'Leary in Six Rounds at New York, but Has to Fight.

New York, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Johnny Coulon, bantamweight champion, barely succeeded in outpointing "Young" O'Leary in their six round fight at the Roman Athletic club tonight.

It was evident throughout the battle, which was fiercely contested, that the weight weakened O'Leary, but he fought a great battle and succeeded in dropping the champion to his knees twice in the second round and helping him to the floor in the fifth.

O'Leary was sent to his knees once in the fifth, but he was up in an instant and fighting hard. Throughout the fight O'Leary used a terrific punch to the heart, but Coulon kept forcing the fighting and at the end appeared to be the fresher of the two.

In the semi-final Harry Mansfield made Tom Newman quit at the end of the third round.

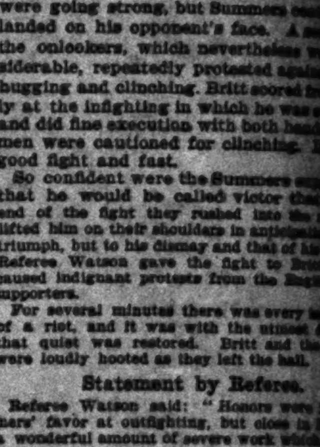

WOLGAST SECURES COAST BOUT

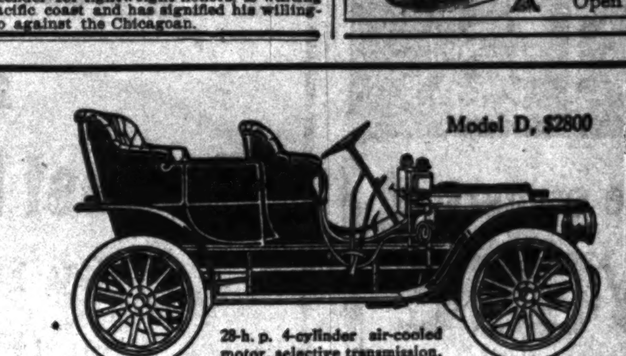

Will Meet Colored Boxer at Los Angeles Nov. 13—Attel and Welch Sign for Thanksgiving.

Los Angeles, Cal., Nov. 2.—[Special.]—Ad Wolgast, who declined to meet Attel after the Jeffries Athletic club had arranged the match, is booked to meet "Bubbles" Robinson, a local negro lightweight, before McCarey's club on Nov. 13.

Jeffries is provoked at Wolgast because the latter refused to meet Attel, but the Milwaukee boy's friends say he was justified.

Freddy Welch and Abe Attel signed articles today for their fifteen round fight on Thanksgiving day before the Jeffries club. Abe desired a 20 round go and Welch wanted twenty rounds, so they compromised. They will make 130 pounds at 3 o'clock. Attel will receive a bonus for agreeing to meet the heavier scrapper.

Model D with its 28 horse-power weighs a fourth less than the average five-passenger water-cooled automobile. You get more carrying ability and climbing power and "go" out of the same horse-power; you save gasoline and oil and tires ordinarily used up in doing the same work. PIT TRADE TALKS POLITICS.

Extreme Dullness Characterizes Session in All Cereals.

PRICE CHANGES ARE SLIGHT.

Liverpool Firmness Offset in Wheat Mart by Liberal Receipts.

Wheat traders yesterday yawned and stretched through one of the dullest and most uneventful sessions in months. Except for the buzzing of political discussion the pit was almost as quiet as on a full fledged holiday. In keeping with the pronounced dullness, values wabbled over a narrow range, the utter lack of trading at times keeping them riveted to one spot. There was a bare suggestion of easiness the greater part of the day, although final quotations were unchanged for May and July and only 1-8c off for December.

Liverpool Mart Relatively Firm.

Liverpool stirred up a spark of hope in the breasts of the bulls by ignoring the break here last Saturday and closing unchanged to ¼d firmer. The relative firmness at the English market was attributed largely to lighter world's shipments than had been expected and unfavorable reports from Australia. Paris was in holiday garb, Antwerp and Berlin wound up unchanged, and Budapest showed a decline of ⅜c from the finals of last Friday. The firmness at Liverpool was offset by favorable climatological conditions at home and liberal receipts northwest.

Bullish Argentine Crop Talk.

One of Expert Broomhall's agents estimated that the Argentine's exportable surplus this season would not exceed 92,000,000 bu, compared to about 136,000,000 bu already exported from the last yield. One cable, sent by the man who recently figured the Argentine damage at 30 per cent, had it that the frost had been general in the northern and western parts of the country. Another message noted more favorable weather conditions, with the general outlook satisfactory.

Northwestern Receipts Are Liberal.

Duluth and Minneapolis together reported 1,061 cars received, against 672 cars the corresponding day last year, and Winnipeg loomed up with 1,046 cars, compared to 709 cars a year ago. Total primary arrivals were 1,179,000 bu, those of the like day in 1907 being 774,000 bu. Stocks of wheat at Minneapolis showed even up for a brace of days, but advices indicated that farmers' deliveries northwest would show an increase this month. An early message was to the effect that Winnipeg had done a big business with Europe in Manitoba wheat, but definite information as to the extent of the workings was lacking. The day's seaboard clearances, wheat and flour, were the equivalent of 720,000 bu. The general domestic cash situation showed little change, a fair demand prevailing at the leading centers with prices well held.

Total Exports Comparatively Light.

World's exports last week totaled 9,168,000 bu, compared to 10,976,000 bu the week before, and 11,216,000 bu the similar period last year. Supplies on ocean passage represented a decrease of 1,344,000 bu from the previous week's showing. The total now afloat was given as 32,392,000 bu, compared to 29,760,000 bu a year ago. The statement on visible supplies in this country and Canada showed an increase of 2,421,000 bu, against a gain of 1,433,000 bu a year ago, the total now in sight being 48,053,000 bu, compared to 43,683,000 bu last year. Bears figured that sales of wheat here by southwestern and northwestern interests were in the nature of hedges against current and prospective arrivals at their markets. The day's receipts at Kansas City and St. Louis—336,000 bu—were more than double those of a year ago.

Corn Unchanged at the Finish.

Considering the relatively heavy pressure from local professionals and the waiting spirit among the bulls, corn values gave a fairly good account of themselves. As in the case of wheat, pit traffic was at low ebb, business at times being as quiet as the meadow lane at midnight and price fluctuations were almost too slight to warrant mention. The close showed all months unchanged from the Saturday finish.

Weather in all directions appeared to have been made to order for the curing of the new grain and for hauling in the country, and prices at the cash tables lost from 1@3c, sales at the declines being light. Local receipts were light at 53 cars, including only 4 of contract grade, against 53 expected and 160 received the corresponding day last year. The estimate for tomorrow was 174 cars, including today's inspection. Clearances at the seaboard were unusually heavy at 147,000 bu. There was inquiry at the gulf for early shipment to Europe, but business was halted by the absence of the grain. Prices were too far out of line to warrant any workings for deferred dates. Primary arrivals were only 271,000 bu, against 362,000 bu a year ago. World's shipments last week aggregated 1,857,000 bu, against 2,454,000 bu a year ago, and supplies on ocean passage decreased 1,873,000 bu. The visible supply statement showed a decrease of 191,000 bu, compared to a loss of 700,000 bu a year ago, the total now in sight being only 1,221,000 bu, against 3,361,000 bu last year.

Oats Lose Early Firmness.

The oats market, dull and uninteresting, displayed moderate firmness early in the session, but finally developed an easy tone. Final quotations showed ⅛@¼c lower for December and May and ⅛c weaker for July. The softer spots witnessed fair buying of both December and May by cash houses. Prices at the sample tables were steady to a little higher. Local receipts were 129 cars, including 13 of contract grade, compared to 122 expected and 158 received a year ago. The estimate for tomorrow was 204 cars. Primary arrivals aggregated 487,000 bu, against 522,000 bu last year. The visible supply statement showed an increase of 287,000 bu, compared to a gain of 446,000 bu last year. The total now in sight is 9,691,000 bu, that of a year ago being 7,579,000 bu.

Rye Displays Steadiness.

Rye was quiet and steady. December closed nominally at 74c and May at 79c. No. 2 sold free on board at 70c. No. 2 was quoted, 74@75c, and No. 4, 65@70c. Receipts were 3 cars.

Barley was in light supply and met with a good demand at firm prices. Malting was quoted 54@61c, mixing 53@54c, and screenings, 40@57c. Receipts were 43 cars.

Flaxseed was unchanged. No. 1 northwestern closed at $1.28¾. No. 1 from the northwest, $1.27, and No. 1 southwestern, $1.18¾. Receipts, 1 car.

Timothy seed was steady. November closed at $3.80 asked and March $3.90 asked. Country lots, $2.40@3.50. Cloverseed was firmer. November closed at $8.50 nominal and March, $8.85 asked. Cash lots, $6.00@8.00.

INTERESTING TRADE GOSSIP ON CHANGE.

"A practical demonstration of the benefits derived under the new system adopted by the Illinois state grain inspection department was made clear recently," said a leading receiver. "A car of new corn arrived over the Chicago and Alton railroad, graded No. 4 white; on a prompt test by the board of trade sampling department for moisture was found to contain 17.4 per cent (maximum generally accepted for No. 3, is 19 per cent) whereupon a request for reinspection was made and the grade changed to No. 3 white. On this corrected and proper inspection the property was sold the same day, a short session at that—Saturday. The time consumed for test and reinspection was less than one hour. Another carload arriving over the Santa Fé road, showing practically the same moisture and test, 17.7 per cent, was graded No. 4 yellow, but the fact that reinspection could be accomplished only after delivery to a special track, under the rules of the department, which might involve a delay of from twenty-four hours to several days, the consignees fearing unfavorable changes in the market and weather conditions, decided it was best to sell the corn on the market as No. 4 yellow, losing a benefit in price which would have been available on the better grade. The state department should be helped and encouraged in every possible way by every one in the trade, in the further promotion of this system. The country trade have emphatically indorsed it."

"Nine times out of ten damage claims are highly magnified, and we know that it is practically impossible for any one in Argentina at this time to make a conservative estimate as to what the outcome of that crop will be," said W. E. White in discussing the Argentine situation. "Argentine is a large country, and as they have poor railway and telegraph facilities, the chances are that only a slight portion of the territory has as yet been examined. The Kansas crop of 1907 encountered practically every vicissitude imaginable—namely: temperatures of 90 and hot winds in March, drought, thaws, and freezes on the 27th of May (or when the wheat was in the most critical stage), and billions of green bugs. Despite all of the above, which to the most optimistic indicated a calamity, Kansas produced over 64,000,000 bu of wheat. As the Argentine wheat is similar to our Kansas No. 2 hard, I think one is safe in assuming that the Argentine plant is just as hardy, and I feel positive that when the truth is known the damage in Argentine will not be more than 10 per cent, which is offset in a measure by the increase in acreage."

With the exception of a fair demand for car lots from elevator interests there was little inquiry for cash wheat here. Prices were relatively about steady. Receipts are comparatively liberal. At Minneapolis No. 1 northern was quoted 3¼@3½c over the December, with Duluth paying ¼c higher premium for choice wheat. There was a fair demand reported at Minneapolis, but flour sales were light. In the southwest the cash markets were heavy. Exporters all reported a moderate call for wheat from abroad, although Winnipeg said there was buying that looked like export business. The cash corn market here was decidedly heavy, old No. 3 yellow and No. 3 white corn being off 3c. Other grades were unchanged to 2c lower. Offerings of new corn were considerably larger, but were still comparatively light, farmers selling little. The new corn coming in is showing fine quality, and is in excellent condition. Oats were steady at the close in spite of the weakness in futures. Trade was quiet. Local cash sales were 10,000 bu wheat, 70,000 bu corn, and 35,000 bu oats. Sales at the seaboard were 24,000 bu wheat.

Trade in wheat at times was practically at a standstill, with individual operations unimportant. Bartlett-Patten brokers were on the buying side in a small way and there was a little buying by Van Ness and Rankin. Barrell was on both sides, selling early and later buying a little. In corn the chief feature was the buying of May by Roberts, who took about 300,000 bu. Friedman, Pringle, and Comstock sold corn and Bartlett-Patten sold both December and May. Peavey and Armour bought a few oats, with Buckley buying early and selling later. Pringle, Updike, and Crighton were the leading sellers. Cudahy interests bought provisions, and there was also liberal buying by local traders led by Raymond, Dennis, Friedman, and Champlin. Hately sold early, but offerings throughout the day were light.

Broomhall again came to the front with an estimate of the Argentine exportable wheat surplus, which still left a good deal of uncertainty in the minds of the traders. He placed the exportable surplus at 92,000,000 bu, or about in line with the estimates forwarded by the correspondents of Shearson-Hammill, Bartlett-Patten, and Slaughter. This would indicate a shortage of about 50,000,000 bu, compared to the shipments this year, and the equanimity with which this big reduction was taken by European markets, where it should first affect prices, caused local operators to regard the estimate with indifference. Barrell's correspondent cabled them yesterday that weather conditions were now splendid, with the crop making good progress.

World's wheat and corn shipments last week, with comparisons, follow:

	Last week.	Previous week.	Last year.

Argentine	1,024,000	1,682,000	780,000
Totals	1,857,000	2,405,000	2,454,000

The visible supply of wheat increased 2,421,000 bu last week. Corn decreased 191,000 bu, and oats gained 287,000 bu. Rye stocks gained 111,000 bu, and barley 421,000 bu. Comparisons follow:

	Last week.	Prev. week.	Last year.
Wheat	48,053,000	45,632,000	43,683,000
Corn	1,221,000	1,412,000	3,361,000
Oats	9,691,000	9,404,000	7,570,000
Rye	987,000	876,000	1,146,000
Barley	6,806,000	6,383,000	6,454,000

Good roads in the northwest, with cool weather and the fact that farmers have much of their fall work out of the way are expected to count in favor of more liberal country marketings in the next few weeks. Premiums for wheat to arrive are still held at stiff figures and this is also a big factor in causing freer offerings. Generally speaking, country elevator stocks are light, but, with more liberal farm marketings are likely to be replenished. In the Canadian northwest much the same conditions prevail as on this side of the line, and with better roads and good weather offerings are expected to be heavy for some time.

Local receipts of hogs during October were 689,829, compared to 464,544 the corresponding period last year. Shipments for the same time were 48,144, against 118,905 a year ago. Average weights for the month were 207 lbs, against 219 lbs in September and 235 lbs a year ago. For the week average weights were 207 lbs, against 204 lbs the previous week and 221 lbs the same week a year ago.

Packing interests and some of the local bulls are trying to discourage the efforts to boost prices for hog products at this time. The big interests so far, however, have not been inclined to sell much stuff short. The buying by the Cudahy Packing company and John Cudahy was regarded as the most significant thing in the trade yesterday and induced considerable buying by locals.

The percentage of oil in the corn this year is said to be larger than for several seasons, with a lighter percentage of water. This condition of the corn has made some of the usual tests useless. On casual examination samples of the grain appear to contain more moisture than is really the case.

World's stocks of lard decreased 45,000 tcs during October and are now about 208,000 tcs, against 253,000 tcs a month ago, and 202,000 tcs a year ago. The decrease during September was 90,000 tcs and during October, 1907, 90,000 tcs.

Deliveries on November contracts yesterday were 8,000 tcs lard, put out by the Cudahy Packing company and Hately and paid for by Armour and Hulburd-Warren-Chandler.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow are: Wheat, 85 cars; corn, 174 cars; oats, 204 cars; rye, 8 cars; barley, 103 cars; hogs, 15,000.

Ed McQuiston of Logan-Bryan was back yesterday from a trip in the east and reported trade in the east dull.

Winnipeg receipts of wheat showed a sharp increase—1,046, against 709 cars a year ago.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Greater activity and higher prices were noted in all lines of live stock, and the markets generally had a good healthy tone. Receipts of cattle fell short of the expectancy, buyers were liberally supplied with orders, and all grades of native steers sold with more freedom at a general advance of 10@25c in prices. Western steers, although in more liberal supply than a week ago, met with a broad outlet at a 10@15c advance. Native butcher stock trade held strong from start to finish, and a good clearance of all the offerings was effected at an early hour. Most of the calves were of inferior quality, and they sold slowly at weak prices. Bulls met with a good demand at firm figures. Heavy supplies of hogs had little effect on the demand, and prices held strong to 5c higher. All the packers were in need of heavy hogs, and they took advantage of the liberal arrivals to amass generous droves, their activity being largely responsible for the higher prices. Live mutton trade was active, and prices held 10@15c higher than at the close last week, with many instances of lambs selling at a full 25c gain.

CATTLE.

Receipts of 17,000 included the smallest supply of strictly desirable native steers received here on Monday in several weeks. Buyers had liberal orders to fill, and did not waste much time bargaining, paying $7.00@7.40 for fat steers which would not have brought within 15@25c of these prices last week, and taking the bulk of the choice shipping and killing steers on the market at from $6.35@6.75. Exporters did not have voluminous orders, but they paid up to $6.35 for desirable offerings, and, with the other buyers, soon furnished an outlet for all beeves worth $5.50 or more. Cheaper grades of steers were neglected during the early trade, but packers were forced to fill in with these, owing to the inadequate supplies of higher priced offerings, and a satisfactory clearance of everything in the native steer line was effected well before the noon hour. Total arrivals included about 4,500 western range cattle, this supply comparing with receipts of 1,500 rangers a week before. Packers showed a liking for the range steers, and took the bulk of them at 10@15c higher prices, paying up to $5.65 for good killers. Range cows and heifers sold strong to 10c higher figures, heifers making $5.25, while few range cows sold at under $4.50. Offerings of native cows and heifers were exceptionally small, and as much as 25c advance was paid for prime fat heifers, sales ranging up to $5.00. Fat bulls made strong prices, with instances of 10c gain. Poor quality held calf values to a low level, tops going at $7.50. Quotations:

Cattle at six western markets, 89,600, against 48,000 a week ago, 48,400 a year ago, and 69,800 two years ago. Total for 1908 to date, 6,871,000, against 7,762,000 the same period in 1907.

HOGS.

Receipts of 37,000 greatly exceeded expectations, but shippers were well supplied with outside orders, and they, with the speculators, opened the market, paying steady values for all desirable offerings. Packers' buyers had imperative orders to fill, and they got into the trade early, paying strong to 5c higher prices from the outset, and filling in with light hogs as soon as supplies of heavyweight offerings ran out. The quality of the hogs was not exceptionally good, but there were more heavy hogs included in the run and this was a great help to the price basis. Shippers paid from $6.00@6.15 for butchers and strong weight offerings, the latter figure topping the market at 10c higher than on Saturday. Lightweight butcher hogs found an outlet through shippers at from $5.90@6.00. Packers paid $5.40@5.85 for light mixed hogs, and showed this class of stock little aversion, although they preferred heavier offerings for which they paid $5.75@6.00. Little change was noted in the pig market, the lightweight lots meeting with a ready demand at from $4.00@4.25, while heavier offerings cleared at from $4.40@4.65. The market for hogs closed in prime condition, with prices at the top for the day, and all desirable weighty offerings closely sold. Quotations:

Average price of hogs at Chicago, $5.79, against $5.66 on Saturday, $5.71 a week ago, $5.72 a year ago, and $6.06 two years ago.

Eleven markets received 113,900 hogs, against 92,900 a week ago, 73,900 a year ago, and 96,700 two years ago. Total for 1908 to date, 22,646,000, against 20,291,000 the same period in 1907.

SHEEP.

Receipts were estimated at 25,000 early, but this number was reduced to between 18,000 and 20,000 before the close. Packers' buyers had orders for all the lambs and sheep offered, and shippers who had outside orders to fill had to do a great deal of hustling and spirited bidding before they could meet the requirements of their trade. A large share of the fat native lambs on the market sold at $5.50 straight, salesmen preferring to take that price than sort off part of the load at a higher figure. Shippers and packers paid up to $5.85 for prime natives and cleaned up the supply at an early hour. Western lambs sold to packers at from $5.75@5.85, and to feeders at from $5.35@5.50, there being a broad demand for all the offerings and the market having a good healthy tone from start to finish. Western sheep were in limited supply and sold readily at full prices, desirable fat ewes making $4.00, while wethers sold at around $4.25. Native sheep were readily disposed of at around $4.00@4.35 for prime ewes, and $4.50@4.75 for wethers. Yearling wethers sold up to $5.00@5.25. Breeding ewes were taken at around $4.50. Bucks made $2.75@3.25. Quotations:

Receipts for Nov. 3 were estimated at 5,000 cattle, 15,000 hogs, and 18,000 sheep, against actual arrivals of 7,202 cattle, 15,492 hogs, and 15,047 sheep for Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1907.

STOCKYARD GOSSIP.

As the supply of strictly choice native steers is decreasing and the number of underweight, half-fat lots is being reduced by more extensive feeding of corn the price range on steers is growing narrower, the percentage of sales at less than $4.00 being materially reduced, while, only a comparatively small number of the day's total arrivals brought more than $6.00. This condition should encourage feeders to hold back their half-finished stock, as all indications point to a shortage of prime beeves before long and there is little doubt but that such stock will be held at a big premium over the medium grades of steers.

Shippers held fair outside orders calling for desirable beef steers, while exporters were sparingly supplied, but insisted on prime stock, paying up to $6.35 for suitable offerings. American beeves on the Liverpool market were quoted at a decline, but foreigners did not care to take the risk of being left out on later days this week, and bid for the desirable offerings in a fairly spirited manner.

Armour & Co. had about 2,500 hogs in direct from the St. Paul market and bought about 6,000 here, making up a total drove of 8,500 hogs. Swift & Co. bought about 5,000 hogs, while Schwarzschild & Sulzberger took 3,500. The Western Packing company operated on a more liberal scale than usual, taking 2,200 hogs.

Shippers were given credit for purchases of 4,000 hogs. Total arrivals included a larger number of weighty offerings than on any previous day in a long time and this enabled the outsiders to make up more liberal droves of suitable offerings. Only about 5,000 hogs were left in the pens at the finish, this number being considered small, in view of the unexpectedly heavy arrivals.

Average weight of hogs last week at 207 lbs. stood 3 lbs heavier than the average a week ago, and 14 lbs lighter than a year ago. The average weight of hogs at Chicago last month, 207 lbs, stood the lightest on record for October, and the lightest average for any month since March, 1904.

Early hog prices showed little change from Saturday's level, but this did not last long, as packers paid higher values almost as soon as they began operations. The top price for the day at $6.15 showed a gain of 10c over Saturday's extreme figure. The improved quality, and larger number of heavy hogs, helped the average price, however, and it stood at $5.79, against $5.66 Saturday, a gain of 13c.

The Farmers and Drover's Journal's British cablegram said limited offerings of American beeves on the Liverpool market met with a weak demand at a decline of ⅛c per lb as compared with last Wednesday. There was no American beef offered on the London market. Moderate supplies of sheep and lambs abroad met with a good demand at 10½@14¼c per lb.

Hogs left over from Saturday's market were officially counted at 2,567.

ON THE BOARD OF TRADE.

The provision list ruled easier early in the session, principally on the heaviness of western swine receipts—81,900, against 53,000 the corresponding day last year—but developed considerable strength as the day advanced. The final gong registered 10@15c firmer for pork, 2½@10c higher for lard, and 7½c stronger for ribs. One of the leading western packers gave good support on the softer spots, and there was a broader call from outside investors. Shorts covered on the weaker spots. Some of the local packers were counted among the leading sellers. Last week's provision exports were 2,329 brls of pork, 9,644,000 lbs of lard, and 18,779 boxes of bacon, compared to 3,330 brls, 11,611,000 lbs, and 23,778 boxes, respectively, the similar period last year. Shipments of meats hence for forty-eight hours were 1,945,000 lbs, compared to 1,989,000 lbs last year; lard, 1,190,000 lbs, against 1,580,000 lbs a year ago. The average weight of hogs received here in October was only 207 lbs, against 235 lbs the like month in 1907. Local hog receipts for today were estimated at 15,000.

Chicago Horse Market.

Equine trade was narrow. Auction sales were suspended and all transactions were made on a retail basis. A few eastern buyers were on the market, but their orders were not urgent and they bought only such stock as could be had at bargain figures. Local traders had a few special orders for heavy general purpose classes at from $175.00@200.00, and there were sales of drafters to go to Philadelphia at $190.00@215.00. Southern chunks were neglected and held barely steady at from $60.00@110.00. Most country shippers, having been notified of the adjournment of auction sales for the week, held back their shipments, and total arrivals for the day were only 250 head, against 300 a week ago.

Groceries.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Market was well attended and business opened fairly active, jobbers being in receipt of numerous mail orders calling for goods for immediate delivery. Fancy groceries appropriate to holiday trade, nuts, olives, raisins, canned and bottle fruits, and candied offerings met with a brisker demand and moved into broader consumptive channels. Canned vegetables were firmly held, and an upward tendency was noted in the price of standard tomatoes, corn, and peas. Flour values held steady, and more stability was noted in the market for rice and navy beans.

Sugar and Coffee.

SUGAR.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Prices of refined goods showed no change, the demand being active enough to keep offerings from accumulating on the market. Following were the ruling prices in wholesale circles, quotation being on 100 lb lots: Standard granulated, beet and cane, $5.14@5.34; cut loaf, H. & E., $6.30; standard powdered, $5.70; canary, $4.65; extra C, $5.00; chemically pure milk sugar, 18c a lb in brl lots.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—SUGAR—Raw, steady; fair refining, 3.45c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3.95c; molasses sugar, 3.20c; refined, quiet.

COFFEE.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Market for spot coffee was firm. Prices were quoted sharply higher, but the demand continued of brisk volume, and further gains in values were expected. The heavy movement of new crop goods from foreign shores, which has depressed the market for the last week, showed signs of diminishing, while the demand from all directions was increasing.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—COFFEE—Futures opened steady at unchanged prices to advance of 5 points; closed steady at net advance of 5@10 points. Sales were reported of 57,750 bags, including November, December, and January at 5.45c; March, 5.40c; May, 5.35@5.40c; June and July, 5.40c; September, 5.40@5.45c; and October, 5.40@5.45c. Spot, steady; Rio No. 7, 6⅝c; Santos No. 4, 8¼c. Mild coffee, dull; Cordova, 9½@12½c.

Dry Goods.

CHICAGO, Nov. 2.—Firmness pervaded the markets generally and business activities were on the increase. Unforeseen shortages of certain lines of popular dress goods were giving merchants much difficulty in filling orders and none of the inquiries calling for large quantities could be met with except at advanced prices. Firmness in raw silk and active inquiries for the finished goods, combined with light stocks, resulted in higher values for the latter, but this had no effect on the demand and further advances were expected. Local stocks of knit goods, underwear, hosiery, and cotton goods were moderate, and orders were being filled at advanced prices. Reports from road men continued satisfactory.

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—The cotton goods market opened strong. Some selling agents have withdrawn their lines till after election. Cotton yarns are firmer with an advancing tendency. Raw silk is higher. Dress goods continue quiet. The market will be closed tomorrow on account of election day.

TELLS HOW GRANT STARTED SMOKING AT FORT DONELSON.

Son Adds an Incident to Heretofore Unwritten History of the Appomattox Victor's Military Career.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2.—Maj. Gen. Fred D. Grant, who is presiding at the court martial now in session at Fort Wayne, said to some friends here that the cigar that initiated his father, the late President U. S. Grant, into the tobacco smoking habit really figured quite strongly in the winning of the battle of Fort Donelson.

"My father," he said, "was in conference with Admiral Foote on the latter's flagship, and had just accepted a cigar from the admiral when word came to him that the left flank of his forces was being repulsed. Hurrying ashore and galloping on a fleet horse to the battlefield, he succeeded in rallying his forces so completely that chaos was turned into victory. Gen. Buckner had to comply with my father's demand for an unconditional surrender.

"The newspapers took up the fact that father had rushed from the warship to the battlefield without taking Admiral Foote's cigar from his mouth. The dispatches from the front told how father had come upon the battlefield 'cool and collected and peacefully smoking a long black cigar.'

"People who read the story began sending congratulations and presents of cigars. Tens of thousands of cigars came, and my father smoked many of them. It made a confirmed smoker of him. But he did not smoke so many cigars as people imagined he did."

GAS ESCAPING; MAN FOUND DEAD

Edward Muller Killed by Accident or by His Own Intention at 75 Wells Street.

Lying on his bed, fully dressed, Edward Muller, 50 years old, was found asphyxiated in his room at 75 Wells street, yesterday by Mrs. Mary Smith, owner of the rooming house at that number. Gas was escaping from a partly open jet in a gas range. Whether Muller committed suicide or was accidentally asphyxiated the police were unable to learn. Muller was employed as a packer in a glassware establishment and had not been seen since Saturday night.

ADMITS USING POSTAL FUNDS.

Thomas F. Levis, Postmaster at Grant Works, Is Arrested for Embezzlement of $900 from Office.

Thomas F. Levis, postmaster at Grant Works, Ill., was arrested yesterday for embezzling $900 of postal funds. He admitted his guilt. He waived examination before United States Commissioner Foote and was held to the federal grand jury in bonds of $2,500.

Levis is single and lives with his mother at Grant Works. He is 36 years old and was postmaster there for three years. His salary was $1,800 and in addition to this he had an income from a confectionery store. Apparently nobody was dependent upon him but his mother, but he said his "personal expenses" were so high that he was led into the embezzlement.

"It's nobody's affair but my own," he added, "and to go into details would only cause trouble and grief to others. I alone am to blame and I will take my medicine and keep my personal affairs to myself."

STOCKS MAKE STRONG GAINS

Some Conspicuous Railway Shares Rise Two Points.

ERA OF GOOD TIMES AT HAND

All Signs Point to Onward Sweep of Trade.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—[Special.]—The last session of the stock exchange before the election witnessed substantial advances in the general list of securities, although the volume of business was relatively small.

In the more conspicuous shares, including Union Pacific, Reading, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, and Northern Pacific, advances ran from 1 to 2 points or more, but gains in the majority of active issues of the trading fell in a few cases under a full point.

There was no repetition at any time of the steady selling pressure which so affected prices on the stock exchange last week. Apparently liquidation by timid holders of stock was completed during that period. This, of course, left the market at liberty to reflect the optimism which the financial community has in the outcome of tomorrow's balloting.

Signs of Good Times Convincing.

Along with the confidence in Taft's chances there has been developing a feeling that whoever is chosen president the onward sweep of the business tide cannot be checked. From all quarters of the industrial and railroad world returns are coming in which make it certain that an era of highly prosperous trade is at hand. The signs are plainer in the west than in the east, but they are convincing in both cases.

The Missouri, Kansas and Texas, one of the most important of the smaller western railroad systems, reporting for September, noted an increase of $93,000 in its gross earnings, compared to September, 1907. This confirms the showings of other western roads and proves that the change for the better is beginning to spread to the smaller lines.

Copper Metal Still Going Up.

In the east the measurement of betterment in conditions is found in the report the New York Central made public during the day of its earnings during July, August, and September, these returns having been held up for some time by the controversy between the road and the interstate commerce commission over the form they should take. The gross loss in July was $1,350,000, in August $1,156,000, and in September only $615,000, the net in the last named month increasing $57,000. Statements for September by the Pennsylvania and Erie lines are likewise less unfavorable than their predecessors.

On the metal exchange the price of copper metal again advanced.

An advance in call money rates to 2 per cent testified possibly to the same spirit of caution which led last week to a reduction in stock market commitments in many quarters, but a 2 per cent quotation for call money on Nov. 2 is a rarity preceding a national election.

Interior Call for Funds Over.

Currency movements proved almost conclusively that the movement of funds to the interior is over for the season and the weakness of foreign exchange made extremely improbable any gold export movement.

In London the price of bar gold and American eagles was lowered and there are not wanting among United States bankers those who believe that gold imports are as probable as exports.

The Paris and London markets were closed in observance of holidays, but when the New York market is closed tomorrow they will be open. The London market in the early dealings Wednesday will have the privilege of appraising the results of the election.

Money on call steady, 1½@2 per cent; ruling rate, 1¾; closing bid, 1; offered at 1. Time loans dull and slightly firmer; 60 days, 3 and 90 days, 3@3¼; six months, 3¼@3½. Close: Prime mercantile paper, 4 to 4½ per cent. Sterling exchange steady, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.84@4.8410 for 60 day bills, and at 4.8610 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.83¾@4.83⅞. Bar silver, 50c; Mexican dollars, 46c. Government bonds steady; railroad bonds, irregular.

MARKET HANGS ON ELECTION

Commission Houses Do Evening Up Business in Preparation.

"L" ROAD TRAFFIC IS LIGHT.

Northwestern Alone Shows Gain for the Month of October.

Chicago commission houses did an evening up business yesterday. Those who felt sure that Taft would be elected president bought stocks. Those who were uncertain sold. The experience of the largest houses, however, was that most of their customers, feeling sure of republican success, were buyers.

There was no doubt about the feeling pervading La Salle street to the effect that the election of Mr. Bryan would mean business stagnation and a selling movement on the part of investors generally. In addition to the volume of stocks that might be disposed of in this country there would be heavy orders from abroad. The people who control the money and industries of this country are of the fixed belief that the election of Taft means continued prosperity and that the election of Mr. Bryan would mean the reverse.

Local "L" Traffic.

Traffic of the local elevated railroads for the month of October showed decreases on the part of the South Side L and Metropolitan L, but a gain by the Northwestern Elevated.

Figures of the South Side showed a decrease in the daily average of passengers carried of 5,080 or 4.01 per cent. The Metropolitan showed a decrease in the daily average of 13,754 passengers, or 8.82 per cent. This is the poorest exhibit the road has shown since the depression set in. The figures of the South Side elevated also were the most unfavorable since the beginning of the year. The statement follows:

E. Edwald, 168 De Koven street, who took him to his residence. This is the second time the boy has been returned to the station, but Capt. Halpin expects to find him another abode.

MOVE ON TO POOL TRAFFIC

Plans Made for Dividing East Bound Emigrant Business.

THINK U. S. CONSENT LIKELY

I. C. Official Going to Investigate Electrification on Long Island.

A plan for pooling the east bound second class passenger traffic moving from Chicago and the west on through railroad and steamship steerage tickets is now being worked out by the passenger officials of the roads in the Central Passenger association. If the details of the plan for regulating competition are approved at a meeting of the association in New York on Nov. 10 and 11 the east bound steamship business, consisting principally of foreign residents of this country returning to their homes in Europe, will be divided among the various lines which are the largest participants in the business according to a prearranged percentage plan.

While the details of the plan have not yet been definitely determined, and the success of the entire arrangement is dependent upon its being assented to by the interstate commerce commission, it has been practically decided that four of the differential lines, the Erie, Grand Trunk, Nickel Plate, and the Wabash, will each receive one-sixth of the business and the other three differential roads, the Baltimore and Ohio, Michigan Central, and the Pennsylvania's Panhandle route, will divide the other two-sixths.

Guided by Agents.

Passengers who express no preference as to the road over which they travel, and it is stated that most of the emigrants are willing to be guided by the agent, will thus be routed so as to give each road its share of business.

Attorneys for the roads and the steamships are now going over the plan to remove any "rough corners" before it is submitted to the interstate commerce commission. One or two of the roads have declared the plan to be illegal, but it is believed by the majority that as the commission already has assented to a similar arrangement on the west bound business it will give its approval in order to remove the effects of what is termed demoralizing competition between the roads for the traffic controlled by foreign born subagents of the steamship companies.

Direct Payments.

Another feature of the plan is the payment of 10 per cent commission on the railroad tickets bought by or for emigrants in connection with steamship tickets direct to the management of the steamship companies instead of to the agent as formerly. This practice of paying commissions direct to the agent has in the past sometimes led almost to a state of chaos, according to passenger officials, because the agent who had rounded up a group of his own countrymen desiring to return to Europe was in a position to swing the business to the road offering him the largest commission. An order of the interstate commerce commission declaring it illegal to return any part of the commission to the passenger removed some but not all of the evil features of the practice.

According to the plan now being formulated, the agent of the steamship company will in many cases have an office in the railroad ticket office or will also be an employé of the railroad and sell a combination railroad and steamship ticket. If the management of the steamship company desires to return any of the commission to the agent it may do so without affecting the routing of the traffic.

Plan One Dollar Cut.

Another feature of the plan is to make the railroad proportion of the through rate $1 lower than the regular domestic rate. Whether this will be done by lowering the present second class rate from Chicago to New York from $16 to $15 or whether the regular rate is to be raised to $17 and the $16 rate made the rate on steamship business has not yet been decided.

The plan has received the consideration of the executive officials of the roads and has been thrashed out before the traffic officials and the attorneys. It is now confidently stated that it will be finally adopted, although some of the details may have to be changed.

Going to Get Electric Data.

L. C. Fritch, assistant to President Harahan of the Illinois Central, will make another trip to New York early next week to resume his investigation of the electrified roads of the east in order to obtain data for the proposed substitution of electricity for steam in Chicago. Mr. Fritch will witness a number of tests to be conducted by the Pennsylvania road on its Long Island electrified lines. The Pennsylvania road is procuring data for the electrification of its tunnel entrances to the New York terminal.

BROKER COMMITS SUICIDE BY INHALING GAS FROM TUBE.

G. C. Mathews Leaves Note Informing His Wife and Children in East That He Was Tired of Life.

G. C. Mathews left his wife and six children in Massachusetts six weeks ago and came to Chicago to make his fortune on the board of trade. Early yesterday he committed suicide by inhaling gas through a rubber tube in his room at the residence of Dr. Leonard A. Lundgren, 421 Erie street. A note found near his body said he was tired of life. Friends say he found the career of a broker too precarious.

Mathews apparently had been dead several hours when his body was discovered by Mrs. Lundgren. She notified the police and the body was taken to the Gavin undertaking rooms, 233 North Clark street. In the afternoon a coroner's inquest was held and a verdict of suicide was returned.

The note left by the broker, whose office was at 261 La Salle street, was addressed to Abraham Burrows, 5 Milwaukee avenue, a cousin of Mathews. It read as follows:

"Dear Cousin: I am tired of living. I want you to have my body cremated and to send the ashes to my wife in Boston. If you can't have this done, I want you to bury me in Chicago. I ask you to pay all my little debts and send all the money remaining to my wife. My clothes I want given to charity."

Dr. Lundgren and his wife are of the opinion that Mathews took his life because of despondency over ill health. His associates at 261 La Salle street knew little of him, as he had been in the office only a short time. They assert that he was a man of regular habits, robust, and apparently well satisfied with his lot. He leaves a wife and six children in Chelsea, Mass., a suburb of Boston.

ELECTION BY CAVALRY TROOP.

Lieut. Fisher Unanimously Chosen as the Successor to Capt. Martin Peterson, Retired.

At a gathering last evening of the members of troop F, First Illinois cavalry, Lieut. Walter J. Fisher, 915 Warren avenue, was elected unanimously to succeed Capt. Martin Peterson, retired. Second Lieut. G. F. Rush was selected by vote to assume the duties of first lieutenant. First Sergeant W. C. Kaiser was elected to second lieutenant. The election of the officers was harmonious and the rumor that there would be a heated contest for the offices proved to be without foundation.

DOWNTOWN SITE IS LEASED

Jacob L. Kesner Acquires Fifth Avenue Land for 99 Years.

LIST OF LOANS COMPILED.

Trust Deed Securing $1,800,000 Bond Issue Given by Hotel Company.

Charles Yondorf has leased to Jacob L. Kesner the property at 282-284 Fifth avenue for ninety-nine years from Jan. 1, 1909, at an annual rental of $6,000 in quarterly installments of $1,500. The property, which is 22½ feet south of Van Buren street, on the west side of the street, fronts 40 feet with a depth of 100 feet, and is improved with a six story and basement building, which was valued by the board of review at $40,000. The building and ground were valued by the board of review at $144,965.

The lessee is to pay the taxes and must maintain on the premises a building at least six stories high, such as the present one. The lessee also is to deposit with the First Trust and Savings bank cash or marketable securities of the amount of $70,000 to guarantee the carrying out of the lease.

Trust Deed Recorded.

A trust deed given by the Hotel La Salle company, by Harry R. Moore, president, to the Western Trust and Savings bank, trustee, securing an issue of $1,800,000 first mortgage 5 per cent gold bonds, was filed for record yesterday. The bonds are payable at the rate of $22,500 on each of the four consecutive years, beginning Jan. 1, 1912; $45,000 on Jan. 1, 1916, and $90,000 on each of the seventeen years beginning Jan. 1, 1920. The bonds are subject to redemption at the option of the hotel company after Jan. 1, 1917, on any interest payment day after Jan. 1, 1917, prior to Jan. 1, 1929, by payment of principal and accrued interest, together with the premium of 5 per cent.

It is stated in the instrument that it is proposed to construct a first class hotel at a total cost of not less than $3,300,000, providing that said minimum total cost may be decreased if the bonds secured by the trust deed having a face value equal to the amount of such decrease shall be canceled.

HOPES ELECTION WILL END THE THROWING OF BOMBS.

Chief Shippy Thinks Motive for Explosions Will Be Removed—Stanton Avenue District Demands Music.

"There will be no motive for bomb throwing after election."

Chief Shippy, who has been absent from the city for several days, took up his official duties again yesterday, and after investigating the latest reports from detectives assigned to run down the bomb throwers, announced that he had a working theory. The chief denied that he had promised bomb throwing would stop, but predicted that after the returns are in there will be no cause for it. He declined to make further explanations.

"I'm not saying what my theory is," he said, "but many things are done before election that are not done thereafter."

"Have you heard of any gambling in Chicago during your absence?" he was asked.

"I have not consulted with Assistant Chief Schuettler," he replied. "But I take it that there is no gambling at this time. As to election bets, I could not stop them without turning the entire police force on it."

When asked as to reports that music, after being stopped in saloons and some restaurants of the Stanton avenue district, is allowed again, the chief said this is true, in three instances, where petitions were received asking for it.

"The petitions are here in my office, and Lieut. Hanley has no responsibility regarding them," added the chief.

LECTURES ON COMMERCIAL POLICY OF KAISER'S REALM.

Prof. Ernest Daenell of University of Kiel Addresses the Germanistic Society in the Art Institute.

Germany's commercial policy was discussed by Prof. Ernst Daenell of Kiel university in an address last night to the Germanistic society in Fullerton hall, Art institute. The address was in German.

The lecturer first mentioned two periods of commercial policy before and after the founding of the German customs union in 1834, and then referred to the beginning of the development of large industrial enterprises about 1850, and in connection therewith the founding of banks and insurance companies. At that time there was a shifting of labor opportunities from the predominating agricultural to the increasing industrial ones.

He passed on through the various changes in the commercial policy of the empire up to the present time, outlining the causes of each. In conclusion he spoke of the prospects of Germany as a world's industrial state, the relations of industry and agriculture, and the ethical powers which have prepared and furthered Germany's commercial advancement.

ARGUES FOR A NEW PAVEMENT.

Attorney Tells Judge Rinaker Dearborn Street Should Be Improved with Creosote Blocks.

Arguments in favor of paving Dearborn street with creosote blocks were summed up in part yesterday afternoon by Attorney George E. Mason, counsel for the board of local improvements, before Judge Rinaker. Because of lack of time Mr. Mason agreed to complete his arguments on Thursday.

"Dearborn street must be repaved or it will be turned into a street of printing and machine shops," he said. "There is a growing demand for quiet office space, and where this can be had property values are rising. The present street is no street at all, so far as pavement goes.

"You have heard experts testify that creosote blocks are good paving material. Other experts have told you that the present pavement is worn out. Accidents because of its condition are matters of record. The fire department has shown that its efficiency is impaired by the pavement, and it has been shown that general traffic is hampered. It is time for a change."

SLANDER SUIT FOR $25,000.

Vice President Loftis of New Illinois Athletic Club Accused of Defaming Its Former Manager.

Slander is the charge made against S. T. A. Loftis, vice president of the New Illinois Athletic club, in a suit for $25,000 damages brought against him by Arthur H. Scharff, former manager of the club.

The Thompson Starrett company recently began suit to establish a mechanic's lien against the club to recover money due the concern for work in connection with the building of the clubhouse.

Mr. Scharff charges that Mr. Loftis, contriving to injure him and bring him into public scandal, said of him: "He has gone over to the enemy. He had offered to sell the information which he had gathered relative to the Thompson Starrett company case against the New Illinois Athletic club to the Thompson Starrett company's lawyers."

ELECTION LAMENT IN VERSE

Author of It Candidate for Poet Laureate of City Hall.

HIS LAY FOR LOSER'S USE.

Bids for Building Opened, That of Noel Company Found Lowest.

A poet laureate, that final cog in successful governmental machinery, appeared yesterday at the city hall and confronted Mayor Busse as he came in from luncheon. The poet is Vernon L. Bean, the mayor's assistant secretary.

Mr. Bean did not show his verses. He did not even say he had any, but in a careless moment he left them on his desk, and, after they were discovered, admitted the authorship. It has no direct bearing on the election, Mr. Bean explained, being adapted to whichever party comes out loser, and is entitled "A Retrospect." The verse follows:

Unfold again the fabric of the years,
The dew of hope, the rain of blinding tears;
The seas of passion, and the stars of joy,
The castelled sand—for crested tide a toy—
The playhouse of fond hearts, that fell beneath
The rude winds' vandal romp and wintry breath;
The storied mansion of our rosegirt dreams,
With gilded turrets pictured on the streams
That throw wet arms upon the prairie's breast,
And poured their virgin story of unrest.
Unlock it all, and let the picture float
Like some mirage that holds itself remote,
And then comes near, and when you grasp it, quits,
Dissolves, and bursts, intangible as light.

"The need of a poet laureate has been felt in many quarters," Mr. Bean said. "This is just to show what I can do without trying, and if the place is made a civil service position, as it should be, I am willing to meet all competitors in rhyme or blank verse, as measured by length, scare words, or stepladder construction, in which I am an adept."

Bids for City Hall.

Bids for the new city hall were opened during the day by Commissioner of Public Works John J. Hanberg in the council chamber. The estimates of various contractors showed considerable latitude, and some time will be given to their consideration and to an investigation of the reliability of the competing firms. The sum of all the lowest bids for the different parts of the work is $3,954,216. The Noel Construction company of Baltimore put in the lowest bid for general work, the list being as follows:

Alling Construction Company	$2,333,333
Thompson-Starrett Company	3,372,000
George A. Fuller Company	3,486,000
Wells Brothers Company	3,497,000
John Griffiths & Son	3,498,000
Noel Construction Company	3,295,000
William Grace Company	3,624,000
George W. Jackson, Inc.	4,490,040
E. M. Zadeck Company	3,499,707
M. H. McGovern Company	3,342,626

Marble work, electric plant, pneumatic tubes, refrigerators, boilers, elevators, furnaces, pumps, and tanks, all were offered for separate bids.

Warning to Flat Dwellers.

A warning to flat dwellers against keeping air in their flats too dry was issued by the health department. According to this circular this state of affairs exists in nearly every flat and steam heated house in the city and brings about pneumonia, catarrh, bronchitis, and other diseases, all of which are reported on the increase. Furthermore, the circular says, sufficient moisture is economical inasmuch as a room at 68° with fair humidity is more comfortable than one at 72° with dry air. Sufficient moisture may be obtained, according to Secretary Pritchard, by placing water where it will evaporate or by opening the windows occasionally.

"The respiratory tract, exclusive of the lungs, gives off a pint of moisture every day," said Mr. Pritchard. "In dry air the membranes dry up and, becoming irritated and inflamed, they offer an easy field for all sorts of diseases."

WOMAN REPORTED KIDNAPED REAPPEARS; QUIETS ALARM.

Mrs. Anna Boysen, Reputed Heiress to $1,000,000, Explains She Was in Seclusion for Reasons of Her Own.

A sensational story to the effect that Mrs. Anna Boysen, said to be heiress to an estate worth $1,000,000, had been kidnaped, was refuted yesterday when Mrs. Boysen appeared in the offices of her attorneys, Clarence Darrow, in the Ashland block. To Mr. Darrow and detectives who had been detailed upon the request of relatives to look for her, Mrs. Boysen said she had been "keeping out of the way for purposes of her own," and had been in seclusion at a place within two blocks of her residence, which is at 1439 North Halsted street.

Family differences were given as the cause of the coming to Chicago of Mrs. Leith of Bradford, Ill., mother of Mrs. Boysen; Mrs. Rose L. Thompson, a sister, and State's Attorney Renick of Bradford.

"The family seems to be patching up matters," said Mr. Darrow. "Mrs. Boysen was in frequent communication with James A. Brady, attorney for her sister, all the time she was away from her home. The trouble, so far as I can make out, is that Mrs. Boysen's sister is of the opinion that Mrs. Boysen needs help in looking after her own affairs."

Mrs. Boysen's husband, A. Boysen, is in Sheridan, Wyo., attending to mining business.

FLOWER SHOW TO HAVE WONDER

Chrysanthemum Plant with 500 Blooms to Be Exhibited by Hamilton McK. Twombly.

The wonder chrysanthemum plant of the world, coming from the greenhouses of Hamilton McK. Twombly at Madison, N. J., will be on exhibition at the National Flower show which opens next Friday and closes Nov. 14.

This flower is only nine months old, only three feet high, has 500 blooms, and is twenty feet in diameter.

"And there isn't a chrysanthemum in the world that can beat it," says Arthur Harrington, head gardener of the greenhouses on the Twombly place. "We planted it last January, just a little shoot from one of the other chrysanthemums, and it has responded to my care like a human being. I never saw a chrysanthemum grow so many shoots as this one did. They simply sprouted out by the hundreds, and every day we'd find a dozen or more blossoms."
